

BENEFIT FOR ACTORS' C. A.

AFFAIR TO BE GIVEN IN BOSTON FOR THE PURPOSE OF SECURING ROOMS AND DEFRAYING OTHER EXPENSES OF THIS GREAT MOVEMENT.

Prominent among those organizations of recent date that have commanded widespread public interest is the Actors' Church Alliance of America. Many Newton people are connected with it and therefore its purposes are quite well known in this city.

The Boston chapter has grown to such proportions that it has decided to establish headquarters in some central location in that city, providing sufficient money is raised to pay the rent and running expenses. It is proposed to fit up these rooms attractively as an office and club room for the use of Alliance members and those of the dramatic profession visiting Boston.

A committee of five consisting of Mrs. J. L. Seelye of the Castle Square Company, Mrs. Charles H. Bond, Rev. T. R. Kimball, Prof. James Geddes, Jr., of the Boston University and Miss Anna S. Prout have charge of the benefit performance which is planned to take place early in November.

Arrangements are steadily going forward for the vaudeville. Mrs. Frederick H. Briggs, a well known amateur, has kindly offered to put on a play by Francis Coppee, the translation of which is being made by Louise Imogen Guiney. Mrs. Charles H. Bond will probably appear in a short sketch, and Mr. Charles Williams has volunteered some recitations.

The posters, in black and white, designed by Fred Chase, Jr., are said to be very attractive. Manager Schoeffel has tendered the use of Tremont Theatre for Thursday afternoon, Nov. 21st.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded. J. G. Kilburn, W. F. Hahn.

Newton Skating Club.

Circulars inviting subscription membership to this unique enterprise are being sent out by Messrs. E. B. Bowen and E. K. N. Hall, who propose to continue the skating rink on the Cedar street grounds inaugurated last year. Season tickets for the family can be obtained for $10, and with a convenient club house, telephone instruction, music and illuminations as well as good ice there should be no lack of patronage.

One strong feature of the scheme is the absolute safety of the ice for children.

Merriam-Mills.

Monday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Mills, 47 Eddy street, West Newton, took place the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen May Mills to Mr. Alvah Foster Merriam of Newton Centre. The number of guests was limited owing to a recent death in the family. Rev. E. P. Snell, pastor of the West Newton Baptist church was the officiating clergyman. Miss Anna Mills, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Elmer G. Merriam, brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Merriam will make their home in Newton Centre.

To the Public.

Allow me to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I had a very severe cough and cold and feared I would get pneumonia, but after taking the second dose of this medicine, I felt better, three bottles of it cured my cough entirely. I am most respectfully yours, for health, Ralph S. Meyers, 64 Thirty-seventh St., Wheeling, W. Va. For sale by all druggists.

An Appeal for the Pomroy Home for Orphan Girls.

In October the Pomroy Home makes its annual appeal to the women of Newton for contributions for its support. The Home owns its buildings and has no rent to pay; consequently every dollar that is contributed goes to pay its running expenses. Our Home cares for eighteen to twenty homeless and destitute children, rescuing them not only from physical want but also from that which is worse, moral degradation. All these girls are sent to our public schools and have the home training of a Christian family. The cost of caring for a girl in this way for a year is only $164. Not only are these girls given a good home until maturity but on graduating from the Home the directors place them in Christian families or as apprentices and maintain a careful supervision of them until they are of age, their earnings meantime being deposited for them in the Savings Bank. All the necessary supervision of the Home and the watchful care of its graduates is given gratuitously by the officers of its corporation and is no small matter.

Notwithstanding the good work done by the Pomroy Home the treasurer regrets to state that the contributions are falling off every year, leaving for the past two years a deficit drawing down the reserve fund in a way that bodes ill for the future. This shrinkage is caused by the death of several of our liberal supporters and by the removal from the city of others, whose places have never been filled by new donors. With our city increasing rapidly in population and wealth this ought not to be and the directors trust that this year the young ladies who so kindly give their services to making the annual collection will meet with a liberal response from all whom they visit so that we can close our year on Nov. 7, without another deficit. The Home at 24 Hovey street, is open for inspection by its friends at all times.

Women as Members of the School Committee.

At a meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, held in May last, the following preamble and resolutions were carefully discussed and one by one adopted:

Whereas, Massachusetts women are eligible to the office of school committee and entitled to vote, for these officers, and hence are equally responsible with men for the conduct of the schools, and,

Whereas, The implied obligation warrants having both sexes equally represented on, at least, fairly so, on all school boards, therefore,

Resolved, First, that to do their full duty women should keep themselves acquainted with the condition and work of the schools, use all the means in their power to secure proper nominees for school committee, and cast their votes for such persons whenever an election is to be made.

Resolved, Second, that as the terms of five members of the school board close with the current year, we respectfully ask the executive board of this Federation of Women's Clubs at their next session to take measures to secure, at least two efficient women to fill vacancies to occur and to have them put in nomination for the next election.

The above preamble and resolutions have been brought to the notice of the ward and city committees of the respective political parties with the request that while it is not the wish to displace any efficient member of the present committee who is willing to serve, their influence be exerted in favor of having a fair proportion of women nominated to fill the offices soon to be vacated on the school board. It is well understood that the nomination of these as of the other city officers devolves upon the convention of delegates elected by the political parties of their several ward caucuses. To these women are not admitted, hence, their appeal must be made to the general public. As chairman of the Federation committee appointed to serve if possible a representation of women on the school board, this appeal I now make through our public journals in confidence that the appeal will receive full and fair consideration, and in the hope that the caucuses will instruct their delegates to put in nomination, at least, two suitable women candidates for school committee to be voted for at the next city election.

The Medical Inspection of Schools.

In the annual report which has just been issued by the State Board of Education of New Jersey, State Superintendent Charles J. Baxter makes an earnest plea for the establishment of a thorough system of medical inspection of the public schools of the State. He points out that the liability of the introduction of contagious disease into a school is a constant possibility, and argues that suitable provision for its detection and restriction should be made by the employment of a medical expert. Superintendent Baxter contends that another function of a medical expert would be to detect incipient diseases and infirmities. "Children are sometimes found in the school," he says, "who should be either in the home or the sanitarium, under medical treatment. There are others who are subjected to the restrictions and hardships incident to school organization, discipline and progress who are not equal to the burden. While vainly trying to keep pace with their classmates, they are fastening on themselves permanent injury and discomfort. Many a defective eye, ear, throat, lung and spine has been daily subjected to most unfortunate conditions and suffered permanent injury because of the absence of skilled supervision. Only the expert can detect the evidences of approaching disease or the premonitory symptoms of infirmity, and is qualified either to suggest or to take the proverbial 'stitch in time'."

Mr. Baxter shows that still another important function of medical inspection would be the discovery and correction of unsanitary conditions which too often pass unnoticed until irreparable harm is done. Inadequate lighting, defective ventilation, damp cellars and improper plumbing, which would be remedied by medical supervision are named as unhygienic conditions which tend to impair health or sacrifice life.

To the Editor of the Graphic.

Permit me to further add to my obligations to yourself, by acknowledging, through your columns my indebtedness to the good people of Newton who so generously responded to my plea for Whittin Normal and Industrial school of Lumberton, North Carolina.

In one week in September spent in Newton, I received for improvements upon the school, $264.50 in contributions. Grateful as this contribution is to myself, a stranger to most of the persons contributing, it will prove the greatest favor to the community in whose interest it will be spent. I am sure that every dollar of the money will bless somebody at home, and that the donors will realize that in their act the Scripture is fulfilled. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto Me." I shall ever remember the people whom I met in my brief visit as among the most benevolent and the most friendly to my race.

Whist.

In view of the recent large games at whist made possible by the Massachusetts system of indicating trump strength we republish a brief summary of the game.

THE MASSACHUSETTS SYSTEM.

The play at second, third, or fourth hand (not attempting to win the trick) of a pip card, followed on a subsequent round by a lower card, shows trump weakness. This play repeated on a second plain suit shows less than three trumps. But on a second plain suit a higher card on the second round than that first played shows exactly three trumps. The play at second, third, or fourth hand of a pip card, followed on a subsequent round by a higher, shows trump strength. This play repeated on a second plain suit is an absolute call. But if on a second plain suit a lower card is played the second round is played upon the first, it merely shows an original holding of four trumps. In trumping in, show three trumps, if practicable, by the play of the middle of three. When the lower one drops three trumps is proclaimed, excepting when trumping in and leading trumps; then a lower card than the one ruffed which shows more than four trumps, in the usual way. Discard the lowest of the suit to show strength in the suit. The reverse discard shows weakness. Refusing to take a force, the discard of a deuce would not necessarily be from the strong suit, but would be an absolute call, as, hearts trump. North leads queen spades. East discards two of diamonds. East declines a force, and calls with the lowest of suit, though diamond may not be his best suit. Upon partner's call or trump showing, lead the lowest of three without an honor, next to the lowest of any other number. Call with deuce or trey only through king, queen, or jack turned. Lead jack, from king, queen jack. Lead king from ace, king and two or more small; ace from less than four. The Massachusetts System is no longer an experiment, but in many a hard fought field has proved its merit, and where accompanied by whist playing, it is per se, good for several tricks in almost every match. Of course no one will contend that even the best system can prove effective in the hands of a bungler, but, all things being equal, the user of the system which gives the earliest and most exact information in regard to trump strength, had a decided advantage over one who does not. No one can deny that the Massachusetts method of showing trumps gives such information earlier than by any other method. Its opponents, while admitting this, say that it also proclaims trump weakness earlier, and that any system which does this is bad. This contention might have some weight, if, by trump weakness it were only numerical weakness that is meant. Almost as often as not the holder of a numerically weak trump hand finds a trump lead advantageous to him. Then, too, as false carding is occasionally indulged in by the good people who play the conventional long suit game, so it might at times be practised by the phantasmal player of the Massachusetts System. For example, second hand plays a pip card so high as to lead to the suspicion that it is starting a "weak trump" showing. Third hand wins the trick. Now, fourth hand, with or without trump strength, would be likely to play so as to mislead the adversary. A pretty illustration of this occurred recently. On a low card opened by North, East (Massachusetts) plays the eight. South, (third hand) wins with the queen; West plays the nine. South has king, and three more of his partners suit, four trumps to the king, and nothing in the other suits. He properly returns his partners suit low, West plays the four, North, the ace, and East the three. The whole suit now being marked between North and South; East and West, both having announced trump weakness, North now proceeds to take advantage of the situation by leading short trumps—up to West's ace-queen-ten and two small trumps with very satisfactory results for the Massachusetts players. West, being a whist player, would not have been assinine enough to give away his trump weakness after his partner's probably weak trump showing if he had not wished to tempt a trump lead from North, of course.

The weakness of the system is not that it proclaims or denies trump strength, but, for the most part, because of a want of conversation in leading trumps upon the presumption that partner is strong when, it transpires he had no other pip card of the suit. Until it is developed whether or not this is the case, a trump lead should not be broken unless the leader appears justified in the trump attack by his own holding. As a rule do not respond to a call or lead trumps if void of one suit, nor return trumps to partner, if, third hand, you win the first round cheaply. The Massachusetts player is unhampered in his opening, excepting that the two or three led is a call through a king, queen or jack turned.

W. E. Hickox, John Greenwood, Wm. B. Bosson and J. C. Brimblecom representing the Massachusetts Whist Club, obtained the largest score at the first match for combination pairs last Monday evening. Newton represented by C. H. Sprague, M. L. Messer and W. G. and C. E. Morey were second.

The annual fall tournament of the N. E. Whist Association occurs today and to-morrow at the Vendome, Boston, with sessions in the morning, afternoon and evening of each day.

Jumped on a Ten Penny Nail.

The little daughter of Mr. J. N. Powell jumped on an inverted rake made of ten penny nails, and thrust one nail entirely through her foot and a second one half way through. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was promptly applied and five minutes later the pain had disappeared and no more suffering was experienced. In three days the child was wearing her shoes as usual and with absolutely no discomfort. Mr. Powell is a well known merchant of Forkland, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and heals such injuries without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by all druggists.

Mrs. Edward J. Young.

"As a cloud of the sunset, slow melting in heaven,
As a star that is lost when the daylight is
As a dream of slumber, which wakens in bliss,
She has passed to the world of the holy trum this

In the death of Mrs. Young a large circle of relatives and friends mourn. A good woman has been taken from this life. A woman of the most unselfish devotion to duty, and of the deepest religious thought. Her belief in the teachings of Christianity was most helpful to any one who had hesitated in accepting the doctrine of Jesus.

Through those long months when a beautiful daughter was slowly dying in most distressing illness Mrs. Young's faith and cheerfulness never deserted her. Her trust in God was supreme.

In her daily walk Mrs. Young knew what work was for, what work would do to give aid and encouragement to all who came within her knowledge. Fatigue she seemed never to know when a duty, which others might not have seen, came in her path. To carry out this spirit of helpfulness to the last she said when her daughter's spirit fled, "now I must devote my life to aid others all I can." What more can be said of anyone, than this: "She lived for others."

In the span of years, Mrs. Young had barely touched the allotted three score and ten. Beginning married life in Newton, then for a time residing in Cambridge and lastly in Waltham.

To show that esteem can live long after residence has changed, one of the finest wreaths sent to the funeral was from the Channing church in Newton, where Mr. and Mrs. Young worked together nearly half a century ago. On the occasion of the funeral flowers were everywhere, the casket almost buried under garlands and wreaths, and the tables covered with these beautiful offerings from friends.

Rev. Mr. Staples of Lexington uttered tender words to the memory of our dear friend, and with deep feeling he recited portions of poems sadly appropriate in the ears of all who were present and now

"Around her grave are quietude and beauty,
And the sweet heaven above—
The fitting witness of a life of duty transfigured into love."

Funeral of Miss Mary G. Field.

The funeral services of Miss Mary G. Field, formerly of Nevada street, Newtonville, were held at 3 p. m., on Sunday, Oct. 27, in the chapel of the Newton cemetery.

Miss Field had made her home for several years past with relatives in Maine and died there Oct. 22, at the advanced age of 85 years. She was formerly well known in Newton, and had many friends among the old-time residents. She was a lady of the old school, dainty in her tastes, fond of nature and a great lover of good reading and music.

The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Young, a relative of the deceased. Two of her favorite hymns were sung by all present. The interment was in the family lot at the Newton cemetery.

There is but little to criticize in the Mayor's recommendations for appropriations needed in 1902. He has closely followed the figures of the present year with but little change.

He approves of granting the permanent firemen, one day off in ten instead of one day in fourteen as at present. The additional expense will be $867.50. Another hoseman is also favored at the same figure.

A captain and three new patrolmen are included in the police budget, and a modest increase in the school funds is also approved.

Only $9,350 for special construction is included in the budget, and mostly in small sums. When this method of providing for street improvements was inaugurated it was intended for matters which could not be conveniently handled in the General Repairs appropriation. If such small items as $500 are placed in the budget, and similar matters involving larger sums paid from General Repairs, there would seem to be a distinction without a difference, which might be avoided without serious difficulty.

Some $20,000 is favored for special drains. This is a subject which we strongly opposed last year on the ground that drain work is distinctly of permanent character similar to sewer and water construction. The same arguments which justify distributing the burdens of sewer and water improvements over a number of years, apply with equal force to drainage work, and there seems to be an injustice in requiring the taxpayers of 1902 to pay for drains which will be in good working order fifty years from now.

With these few exceptions the budget as a whole seems to provide for the future with a reasonable economy which it is a pleasure to endorse.

DANGER.

There is great danger of political apathy among Republicans at the coming state election next Tuesday, and especially in this city.

Newton has more than ordinary interest in the success of the Republican ticket and particularly in the election of a Republican senator.

An emphatic popular endorsement of Governor Crane and his associates on the state ticket will appeal to the pride which every Republican feels in the present successful administration of state affairs, but the matter of senator, touches the municipal pocket book and thereby becomes a personal issue with every taxpayer in the city.

Republicans and all other taxpayers who object to the mill tax bill with its $59,000 burden on the resources of Newton should see to it that every possible vote is cast for the Republican nominee for senator who is opposed to that unjust measure.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Colonial Theatre—New England playgoers will have their first chance to see the great romantic success of the season at the Colonial Theatre next week, when on Monday, Nov. 4, "The Last Appeal" will come to Boston direct from its long run in Chicago. Everywhere that this drama has been presented it has proved an unequalled triumph, and there is no question but that similar prosperity awaits its coming to Boston. Everything that money could do has been employed to make a dazzling production, and the uniforms and gowns will be splendid to attract the senses. The company has been specially selected by Manager Henry B. Harris, and among those who will be seen in leading roles are: Robert Drouet, John Glendinning, Edwin Brandt, Alexis La Gisioko, Macey Harlam, George W. Swchaeffer, Thomas Phillips, Kate Hassett, Eleanor Carey, Clara Louise Glendinning, Myrtle Vinson, Adlyn Wesley. The engagement in Boston is to be limited to a single week, and the only matinees, Wednesday and Saturday, will afford excellent opportunities for playgoers from out of town who wish to see one of the strongest and most thoroughly interesting dramas that will be given in Boston this winter.

"Honest furs at honest prices" are just what sensible people are looking for at this season and just what Messrs. Kakas Bros., 34 and 36 Bedford street, Boston, agree to furnish to their patrons.

THE DEACONESS FAIR

The modern Deaconess movement is a revival of the order of Deaconesses which prevailed in the early Christian church. For protection and economy they wear a special costume. In Germany, where there are 12,000, a plain suit of navy blue. In this country, black, with white bonnet ties. Our workers live in the Deaconess Home, at 693 Massachusetts avenue, which is very much like any other home.

The duties of a deaconess are: "To minister to the poor, visit the sick, care for the orphan, seek the wandering, comfort the sorrowing and save the sinning."

The nurses take, in addition to the course in the Deaconess' Training school, a two years' course in the Deaconess Hospital at 691 Massachusetts avenue. These nurses are un-salaried, but their support is guaranteed.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Boston Museum—It must not be forgotten that that beautiful, deeply interesting, powerfully presented rural drama "Sky Farm" will not be seen in any other New England city than Boston, or in any other theatre save the famous old Boston Museum. The general verdict of the thousands who have seen this marvellously fascinating production of Edward E. Kidder's latest and greatest success by the Charles Frohman Company of most competent players, is that it is far and away beyond any other play of its kind ever seen on the New England stage. It is, as is now probably well known, a play of rural New England and every one of its many wonderfully clear-cut characters, from the village clergyman, the village boss, the village tom boy, the widowed village postmistress, the village good for nothings, the village hero, the village beauty, the "smart" city chap, who is perhaps "not so smart as he looks," down to the simple farm-

In the five years of its existence this hospital, containing only 14 beds, has accommodated nearly 1,000 patients, only 29 of whom have died. It is strongly recommended by Dr. Edward Reynolds; and Dr. Morris E. Richardson, says: "If we had a Deaconess' Hospital ten times the size of this one, it could easily be kept filled. The new location is a good one." Dr. Joel E. Goldthwaite says: "The Deaconess' Hospital can do work in special cases which great hospitals cannot do. This one is entitled to the highest consideration."

The hospital is to contain 120 beds, no ward to have more than three beds, while most of the beds are in single rooms. The whole building is to be scientifically up to date in every respect. The location will make it easily accessible for the poor as well as for the rich.

OUR BUSINESS GOVERNOR.

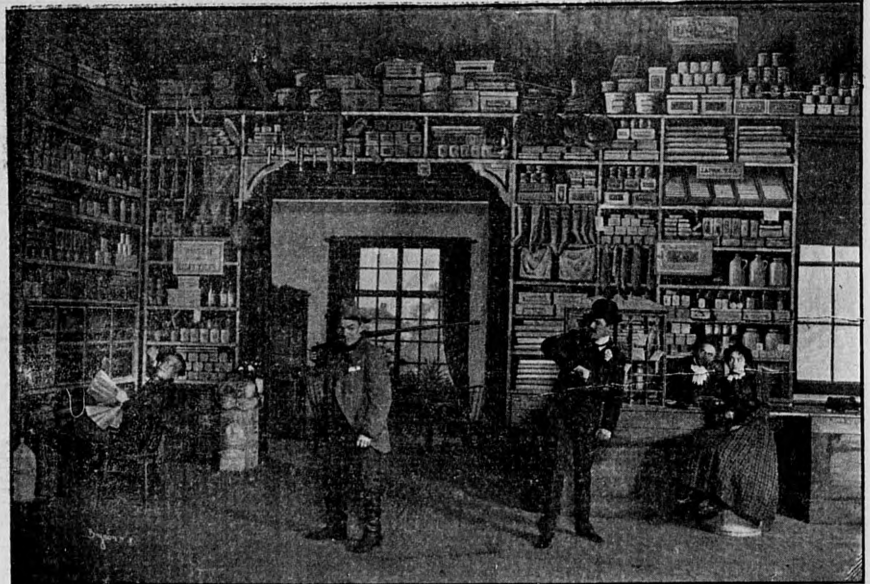

WHAT HE HAS DONE FOR THE STATE. BY ONE WHO KNOWS.

Here is what Governor Crane has done for the State as told by Representative Charles H. Adams of Melrose, chairman of the ways and means committee of the legislature, at the dinner of the Republican Editorial Association. The function of this committee is to pass upon all bills involving the expenditure of the State's money or the granting of its credit, so that Mr. Adams speaks with authority.

"A source of strength in the ways and means committee, under the administration of Gov. Crane, has been the well settled conviction of the members of the legislature that Gov. Crane would not sign a bad bill. 'He came into office two years ago, inary expense entailed in the presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at the Boston Theatre, one dollar secures the best orchestra seat, with 75c. for the orchestra circle and 50c. for the first balcony.

Columbia Theatre—With the greatest opposition at the other theatres ever known, the superb burlesque review, "The King's Carnival," at the Columbia, Boston, attracted the attention of immense audiences last week. The ludicrous incidents in the burlesque review are too numerous to be mentioned in detail. Marie Dresser is irresistibly funny. Nothing could surpass her scene with the Infanta, to whom she sings a lullaby, while the royal child, (Amelia Summerville), reposes in a six-foot long cradle. Boston has discovered a new burlesquer in the person of Dan McAvoy. The audiences at the Columbia are driven to paroxysms of laughter by his song, "Fifth Avenue," and imitations of noted comedians. The other important people in the hand will be found to be familiar types to those who are at all acquainted with the picturesque folks and the honest hearts of the villages of New England. The setting of the piece is one of its greatest charms, and everybody in New England should see "Sky Farm."

Boston Theatre—There is a new star in the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" constellation at the Boston Theatre, and the immense audiences that crowd the vast auditorium are giving to Edward Harrigan, the new Uncle Tom, as cordial and enthusiastic a reception as was ever accorded this distinguished actor in Boston. Simon Legree, the slave owner, of the Red River plantation, as played by Theodore Roberts, is another one of the marked successes of the big Boston Theatre revival. The big aggregation of negro supernumeraries is responsible for much of the realism and atmosphere of the performance. Their singing in the more notable scenes of the play, such as the levee at New Orleans, the cotton field on the Red River plantation and at the deaths of little Eva and Uncle Tom is a delightful and harmonious interpolation. It is a new "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in point of rich and realistic mounting and skilful character portrayals, which once seen is never forgotten. The essay contest, open to every schoolboy and girl in New England, with a Shetland pony, cart and harness as the prize for the best essay on the play, is still going on, and communications are pouring in with every mail to Lawrence McCarty, Manager of the Boston Theatre. Notwithstanding the extra or-cast do excellent work, and the chorus and ballet are beautiful in face and figure, and excellently garbed and trained. The engagement of "The King's Carnival" is a limited one, and will not be seen outside of Boston.

Hollis Street Theatre—The famous Klaw & Erlanger comedy company, with those great fun makers Gus and Max Rogers, comes to the Hollis Street Theatre in Boston for a short run beginning on Monday evening, Nov. 11. This season's winner is entitled "The Rogers Brothers in Washington" and is the most humorous and best constructed that Mr. McNally has yet provided. The specialties are more numerous, and the lyrics and music by Harry B. Smith and Maurice Levi are more interesting and catchy than last year, and the scenery and costumes are a revelation in magnificence in a production of this class. This season the company numbers over 70 people with a chorus of 40 remarkably pretty and attractive girls. The story is told in three scenes—first, the reception room of the Democratic Club on Fifth avenue, New York; second, a section of the botanical gardens in Washington with the Capitol building as a background, and third, the Court of Fountains at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo, showing the great electric tower. These stages pictures are remarkably effective, especially the latter, the beauty of which cannot be realized except by those who have visited the exposition.

He found we were expending more than we were raising. The debt was increasing $2,000,000 a year. He called a halt in expenditures. The metropolitan bonds and contracts were near $60,000,000. He found a suit for $20,000,000 by Boston against the state. The business governor and the business mayor sat down together, settled it for $12,500,000, and saved a fortune in litigation.

"He found a highway commission spending $500,000 a year, giving partial time to the office. It was re-organized, and the members of the board now give their entire time to the state. He found the metropolitan sewerage system practically completed, but a commission drawing large salaries continuing in office. The commission has been abolished and consolidated with the water board."

"He found two authorities in charge of the prisons—the superintendent of prisons and the prison commission. Today there is but one board and one authority. He found the great institutions for the insane and for charitable work spending $2,000,000 a year, auditing their own bills, and spending without supervision, the money appropriated. There was no suggestion of dishonesty or improper administration, but the business Governor urged a reform, providing that all accounts shall be audited in the office of the state auditor, and that is now the law."

"He found a great system of parks that had cost $10,000,000, but not yet complete. Not a dollar of interest or principal had been paid, hundreds of land claims were unsettled, the appropriations exceeded by unexpected values in land and the cost unapportioned among the cities and towns. No town or city knew the amount to be assessed. He urged that communities should begin to pay park assessments and the apportionment has already been made. He found the cost of maintenance charged to construction. It is now assessed in the annual tax. "He abolished the topographical survey commission and transferred its work to the harbor and land commission. He found a batch of Fitchburg railroad stock that had never paid a dividend and was carried upon the books as without value. Everybody knows that his policy made it worth $5,000,000 and reduced the state debt by that amount."

"He found the legislature giving weeks of time to the consideration of bills relating exclusively to Boston's own affairs. He had recommended 'home rule for cities,' just as the governors had done, but he backed it up as no other governor has ever done. He vetoed bill after bill because he said 'cities and towns as far as practicable should be left alone to work out their own municipal problems.' For the first time in many years Boston has not only been permitted to manage her own affairs, but has actually been forced to do so. By his devotion to the business of the state, Governor Crane has restored the office of Governor to its true place."

Literary Notes

The November number of Scribner's Magazine contains the opening chapters of Mr. F. Hopkinson Smith's longest and most important story, "The Fortunes of Oliver Horn." It deals with the career of a young artist who comes to New York from the South to seek fame. Each installment will contain an illustration by Walter Appleton Clark. In the concluding paper on "Russia of Today," Mr. Henry Norman, who is acknowledged to be one of the most astute observers of contemporary politics, deals with those large questions of national policy and diplomacy that bear so intimately on the future peace of the world. General F. V. Greene in his final paper on the United States Army makes an interesting comparison between the armies of '61 and of today, and gives some impressive facts regarding the magnitude of the battles and the great cost in human life of the War of the Rebellion. In an article on "Marquis Ito the Great Man of Japan," Mr. Frederick Palmer gives an interesting account of the great Japanese statesman.

The second article by President Roosevelt, "With the Cougar Hounds," describes a number of encounters with the cougars, and the illustrations are from photographs by Philip K. Stewart. "Among the Dunkers," by Nelson Lloyd, gives the first adequate account of the picturesque lives and primitive worship of this strange people. Mr. J. A. Mitchell concludes his short serial "The Pines of Lory," which has attracted so much favorable attention by its humor and sentiment, by "Without Law or License," by Sewell Ford, tells the story of a New York promoter and the adventures that befell him in an effort to arrange a little deal with a small South American republic. The Point of View discusses "Physiognomy in Places and Individuals," "Memory and the Lack of It," and in the Field of Art the question of an "Ideal Salon" is debated.

The November Atlantic opens with Sydney Brooks's "Europe and America," giving the European view of the vital topics of Reciprocity and the Monroe Doctrine; Paul E. More treats sympathetically "The Solitude of Hawthorne;" Congressman McCall's "Daniel Webster" is timely and memorable; J. K. Hosmer's "Mississippi Valley" exploits that wonderful region, while Charles Baistie's "In Argonne" sheds much new light on rural France. Henry A. Clapp's "Reminiscences" continue, treating Salvini, Adelaide Neilson, Nilsson, Januscheck, and others. Charles E. Grinnell offers many valuable ideas on "Modern Murder Trials." Forcible stories and sketches are Ellen Duval's "The Lover;" Kate M. Cone's "A Colonial Boyhood;" Edward Thomas's "Recollections of November," and Frances A. Mathews's "Alice Same." Miss Johnston's "Andrey" increases in force and interest. "A Group of Lyrics" and the always entertaining "Contributors' Club" complete a brilliant number.

"Last winter an infant child of mine had croup in a violent form," says Elder John W. Rogers, a Christian Evangelist, of Fitch, Mo. "I gave her a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in a short time all danger was past and the child recovered." This remedy not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the first symptoms appear, will prevent the attack. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

Conductor Fell but was not Hurt.

Conductor George Richardson of the Boston & Albany suffered a fall last Saturday morning which caused him to miss his train but did not result in any serious injury. Mr. Richardson was at the Faneuil station and had given the "go ahead" signal to the engineer of the 10.02 train from Boston, when he jumped towards the steps. He failed to get a firm hold and was thrown to the ground. The train proceeded and not until Newton was reached was the conductor missed. There was some anxiety for a time but a message to the effect that he was not hurt was received from the Brighton telegraph station and had a satisfying effect.

American Canoe Association.

Canoeists representing the entire eastern part of the country and a part of Canada last Saturday attended the annual meeting of the executive committee of the American Canoe Association. The host was Commodore Louis Armitage Hall, and the entertaining club was the Wawbewawa of Auburndale. The gathering extended through Sunday although most of the business was disposed of Saturday, being followed by a banquet in the evening at the Woodland Park Hotel.

The features were the selection for the first time of an eastern site for the next national meet, on Cape Cod, probably Chatham, Aug. 8 to 22; the announcement of the purchase of a permanent camp, Sugar Island, in the St. Lawrence river, and the adoption of a new type of sailing canoe to conform with that of the Royal Canoe Club.

The last mentioned change came through the suggestion of Herman Dudley Murphy of the Winchester B. C., who failed to bring back the Royal canoe challenge cup from the other side this summer.

The new name for Sugar Island, which is not yet confirmed, is Ya-kawa-tha.

Francis J. Burrage of the Wawbewawa club was chosen secretary-treasurer and H. H. Smythe library custodian.

The banquet was presided over by Commodore Hall, the host. Near to him sat John S. Wright of Rochester, N. Y., F. J. Burrage of Newton, Percy Hogan of Brooklyn, Mr. Stimpson of New York, L. S. Drake of Newton, Mr. Moore of the New York canoe club, Ernest R. Adams of the Wawbewawa, M. F. Wilt of the Red Dragon club Philadelphia, Herman D. Murphy of Winchester, D. B. B. sell of Yonkers, Herbert Begg of Toronto and W. R. English of Canada.

The speakers were Commodore Hall, Robert J. Wilkins, Herman Dudley Murphy, Percy Hogan, F. J. Burrage and Herbert Begg.

Sunday the canoeists were entertained on the Charles river.

Police Paragraphs.

Nellie M. Reagan, arrested last week Sunday by Inspector Fletcher and Patrolman Soule for breaking and entering was indicted by the grand jury at Lowell last Saturday.

Dennis M. O'Leary, aged 23, Arthur J. Deacks, aged 27 and Joseph Bennett, aged 18, were in court last Monday charged with disturbance and drunkenness at Nonantum last Sunday. The former charge against them was dismissed but each was found guilty of drunkenness. Deacks and O'Leary were sentenced to the Concord reformatory and Bennett was fined $5. O'Leary and Deacks appealed.

The trial of Rupert G. McDonald, conductor, and George H. Goss, motorman, who were in charge of car 62 of the Newton Street Railway, which ran over and killed the 3-year-old son of Michael McHugh, Oct. 24, has been continued until to-morrow. Both men have pleaded "not guilty" to a charge of manslaughter.

Experts Disagree.

Another alleged smallpox scare developed last week but as experts disagree as to the nature of the disease that every precaution has been taken by the health department and the suspects are safely quarantined. About a week ago Rupert and Laura Marshall, inmates of the same house from which the smallpox patient was removed some three weeks before, developed some unusual symptoms which were diagnosed by the city physician as the result of vaccination. A local physician, however, when consulted, called in a physician attached to the state board of health, whose diagnosis was smallpox. The health authorities promptly called in Dr. Shea, the Boston expert, who declared that the eruption was not smallpox and rendered a written certificate to that effect. To be doubly sure Dr. McCullum of the Boston City Hospital was called upon and he thought smallpox symptoms were present. The suspects were promptly removed to the hospital, and every precaution taken in the premises. Later Dr. Shea, accompanied by a physician of the U. S. Maine Hospital corps, made another examination and confirmed his previous diagnosis. Dr. McCullum has also made a second examination. Neither of the patients are very sick, the woman being up and dressed, but they will be kept in strict quarantine until every possible danger is eliminated.

The Twentieth Century.

The advent of the new century is to be commemorated by the Newton Graphic in the publication of a handsomely bound volume, entitled, "Newton, The Garden City of the Commonwealth, 1874-1901." It will contain valuable and interesting historical matter, fully illustrated with half tone engravings of churches, schools, residences, street views, parks, etc. The history will tell of leading events, characters and progress of the city, and the many advantages of Newton as a beautiful and desirable place of residence will be fully shown. The volume will also contain the portraits and biographies of representative men who, in their lives, their work or their influence have made Newton of today the garden city of the Commonwealth and of New England.

It is believed that such a work will commend itself to the citizens of Newton as bringing together in a carefully collated record of the lives of men who have contributed to the welfare of our city; men of whom we are justly proud as educators, lawyers, physicians, clergymen and men of affairs.

Such a publication at this time will give to the present, an up to date account of the city and will bequeath to the future a legacy of what Newton was at the beginning of what promises to be a most remarkable century.

Explained. "Where's your watch?" asked the observant man. "Why, here it is," replied the man whose prosperity had slipped a cog or two recently. "But that's a silver one. The one you used to carry had a handsome gold case." "Well—er—circumstances alter cases, you know."—Philadelphia Press.

DIRECTIONS FOR WASHING WOOLEN UNDERWEAR.

Soak for an hour in soapuds as hot as the hand can bear. To every gallon of water add a teaspoonful of liquid ammonia, which will remove the effects of perspiration. Transfer to clean, warm soapuds and wash by stirring the garments around with the hands but without using a washboard or rubbing them at all unless there are soiled spots that cannot be removed otherwise: if so, confine the rubbing to those spots and if possible keep the garments entirely covered with water. Rinse twice in warm water, to remove all traces of soap, still avoiding rubbing.

After passing the garments through a wringer, immediately lay them out on a time on a board or table, and while still damp stretch to original shape by hand and hang up to dry.

It is best not to iron woolen underwear.

Don't wash in water used for other clothes. Don't rub soap on the garments except in case of spots, as above mentioned. Avoid patent washing powders and use only the best neutral soaps.

Remember that rubbing them, or suddenly changing the temperature of the water, is the way to shrink woolen goods.

The State Election.

Fine Weather and a Good Vote For An Off Year.

Crane Gets 1593 Plurality in This City and Skinner Not Far Behind.

The annual state election created but little stir in this city, and no unusual incidents occurred.

The vote cast, 3612 was about 65 per cent. of the total registration, a considerable falling off from the 89 per cent. vote of last year, although a gain over the 60 per cent. cast the last off year of 1899.

Governor Crane carries the city with the handsome plurality of 1593, losing but two precincts, Nonantum and the Upper Falls. Secretary Olin is the next popular official followed by Lieut. Gov. Bates and Treasurer Bradford, with Attorney General Parker and Auditor Turner in the rear.

The senatorial fight was the warmest and the Republican nominee, carries the city by the substantial majority of 1381.

Messrs. Bullard and Dana are re-elected the former leading by 46 votes.

An odd feature of the ballot was the fact that the Democratic candidate for councillor and the Republican Democratic candidate for district attorney bore the same name of George A. Sanderson.

Another peculiar incident was the vote of Precinct 3, Ward 6, where Quincy received 5 votes for governor, although the law requires six Democratic precinct officers.

The returns were generally prompt at the City Clerk's office, Precinct 2 of Ward 3, arriving at 5.25 o'clock, and the others rapidly following. Precinct 1 of Ward 2 was the last, and did not reach City Hall until 7.55 o'clock.

The returns are tabulated below:

$1,145,547.92.Mayor's Estimate For 1902 Expenses.*Interesting Figures For Tax-payers.

The mayor's estimates of appropriations for 1902 have been printed and are now being considered by the Finance Committee.

The estimated receipts of $288,535 show a slight falling off from last year, caused principally by the decrease in corporation taxes.

The total expenses are estimated at $1,145,547.92, an increase of $6,487.65 over the budget of 1901, although a decrease of $14,509.50 over the actual appropriations of the current year, as $20,997.15 has been added to the budget by the present city government.

The budget for 1902 can be briefly detailed as follows:

Assessing department increased $100 to $13,000, for salaries of assistant assessors.

Auditing department remains the same at $3,100.

Board of Printing requires $3,700, the same as 1901.

Charity department increased $1,325 to $28,450, including $1,500 extra for hospital cases, $100 increase in salaries for both Almoner and his assistant; $100 additional for office expenses, and a slight decrease in other items.

The City Clerk's department requires $15.95 additional for birth returns and amount to $7,250.

The City Messenger, at $3,032 receives an increase of $1,323, principally caused by the transfer of the telephone account of $1,598 from the Mayor's office to his.

The City Engineer gets $100 additional for horses and $50 for registry work and will require $11,500.

The executive department is decreased $800 to $4,500 on account of the telephone transfer.

The Fire department wants $52,962, an increase of $1,094.50, principally for 2 new men, one of whom will allow the permanent men one day off in 10 instead of 14 as at present.

The health department desires $21,393, a slight decrease from last year, although two salaries are raised.

The wire department at $6,629.50 shows a decrease of $158.

The law department remains at $1,400 as in 1901.

The library shows a decrease of $1,240, mostly caused by the failure of Newtonville people to meet the city's offer of $1,000 for a branch library.

In the police department a captain's salary of $1300 and 3 new patrolmen account for the net increase of $3,613.25 in a total of $74,799.25. The buildings department at $19,987.50 is $5,875.65 less than 1901, as numerous special items are omitted.

The registration of voters continues to cost $1,800 as in 1901.

The salary list at $30,820, provides an increase of $104 for clerks in the City Clerk's office, $200 for the City Auditor and $50 for the plumbing inspector.

The school department at $202,339 wants $3,939 more than 1901.

The sealer of weights requires $115 for incidentals.

The street department items are in divisions: The office will cost $4,950 or $40 increase. The highway division increases $8,337 of which $5000 is for drains, and a new item of $15,000 for cleaning streets is inserted; the general repairs account being reduced to $60,000.

Last year $52,718 was required for special street and drain construction, this year the approved items foot up to $27,000. The park division at $5,300 shows a net decrease of $900, while the sewer division is raised $1000 to $8,000. Street lights will cost $1,500 more or $53,500, while the items of $17,000 for watering streets, $300 for burial grounds and $1000 for watering troughs remain as before.

The interest account increases $3,252.45 to $264,935.67 while the sinking funds decrease $6,000 to $120,000.

The water department modestly asks for $75 more or $31,725 in all, and the grand total is $1,145,547.92.

The little daughter of Mr. J. N. Powell jumped on an inverted rack made of ten penny nails, and thrust one nail entirely through her foot and a second one half way through. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was promptly applied and five minutes later the pain had disappeared and no more suffering was experienced. In three days the child was wearing her shoe as usual and with absolutely no discomfort. Mr. Powell is a well known merchant of Portland, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and heals such injuries without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by all druggists.

MOTORMAN HELD IN $1000.

GEORGE H. GOSS TRIED IN COURT FOR CAUSING THE DEATH OF THOMAS McHUGH, 3 YEARS OLD.

In the police court Saturday the trial of George H. Goss, motorman, and Rupert McDonald, conductor, who were in charge of a Newton Street Railway electric which killed Thomas McHugh, 3 years old, on River street, West Newton, Oct. 24, took place. The men were arraigned on a charge of manslaughter the morning following the accident, and after pleading not guilty the case was continued to Saturday morning. Goss was held in $1000 bonds for the grand jury, while McDonald was discharged.

The principal witness of the morning was the mother of the child, who was hurrying to its rescue when it was overtaken by the car and killed before her eyes.

According to her testimony, a few minutes previous to the accident she saw the boy walking along River street, near Mague's court. The car at that time was quite a distance away. She called to the boy, and he crossed over the street as far as the tracks where he stopped directly between the rails with his back to the car.

Seeing the danger, she waved her hands and skirt, hoping to induce the boy to run from the track and to delay the car. She did not run toward the boy to drag him out of the way, as she feared he would turn and run directly into the car. The motorman began to ring his gong, and just before the car struck the child, it was slowing down. At the time of the accident the car seemed to be moving at a fair rate of speed, neither fast nor slow. The boy was back to the car when it struck him. She had no conversation with either the motorman or conductor, and was induced to leave the scene by Patrolman Quilly before the body had been removed.

Mrs. Ellen Sweeney, a passenger on the car, testified that her attention was first called to what had taken place by the screams of the boy's mother. She did not hear the gong ringing or notice whether the brakes had been set or not.

Mary F. Mague of 169 River street saw from her kitchen window a woman running and waving her arms. Alice Lowell, 10 years old, saw the McHugh child in the middle of the street, not the track. Heard bell on car ringing.

Ann Fahey turned from a side street into River street. Saw the child struck down; did not hear any bell; thought it a windy day.

Patrolman Martin L. Neagle went to scene of the accident in charge of the police ambulance; saw blood on the beam of the forward part of the car trucks; found streak in the middle of tracks as if something had been dragged along; measured its distance by paces and estimated it at 111 feet; ascertained that there was no accumulation of leaves on the tracks.

Patrolman John W. Quilly saw the car as it passed him on River street near Auburndale avenue; saw afterwards a woman running towards the car; heard her screaming; hurried to scene of accident when he saw the car had stopped; notified police headquarters; led Mrs. McHugh away. Substantiated Patrolman Neagle as regards distance of streak and absence of leaves.

There was no defence offered.

Judge Kennedy said in his finding that in view of the fact that no attempt had been made at the trial to show that the motorman had exercised due care, he must hold him for the grand jury.

Accordingly he ordered the verdict as above stated.

Police Paragraphs.

In court Monday morning William Pendergast and William Philpot, the latter a juvenile, were charged with larceny. The testimony was that they had taken a bicycle belonging to Alfred Lafleur at Nonantum, Oct. 31, and had returned it in a broken condition. Judge Kennedy told the defendants that they had done a very wrong thing, but that in their action there was no element of larceny. Accordingly he ordered their discharge.

The "overalls joke" caused a number of stitches to burst in the guard room.

Two young men who gave the names of Frank Williams and Charles Carroll, and who said they belonged in Boston, were arrested about 1 a. m., Saturday in Nonantum square by Patrolmen Goode and McLaughlin. The government witnesses, including these officers and Sgt. Purcell, said in court, Saturday morning, that both Williams and Carroll used very profane language in the presence of a party of men and women who were waiting for a late electric. Judge Kennedy found the defendants guilty of violating the city ordinance by using profanity in the public streets, and fined them each $8.

Two assault and battery cases were tried in the police court Wednesday morning before Judge Kennedy, and in each case the complainant had a well blackened eye to exhibit to the court. John Sachendi was charged by his wife with striking her last Sunday evening at their home on Langley road, Newton Centre. The man and woman conduct a boarding house for other Italians. The wife has appeared in court several times before. It was shown by the testimony that the couple were "fooling" at the time of the assault and that they became angry later. Judge Kennedy in his finding was inclined to believe Mrs. Sachendi quite as much to blame as her husband, but that he was in no way justified in striking her as he did. Patrolman Bailey told of the reputation of the Sachendis, and declared the woman to be the cause of considerable trouble in her neighborhood. The court found the husband guilty and placed him on probation, continuing the case until Dec. 28.

James Coulter of Newton Centre charged Abel Armstrong with striking him in the eye last Sunday. Coulter's eye showed unmistakable evidence of the assault. Armstrong pleaded guilty. The testimony showed the existence of hard feelings between the two for the past two years. Armstrong was fined $10.

Boston's Big Fire.

Twenty-nine years ago, Nov. 9, 1872, occurred Boston's great fire, which swept 65 acres between Summer, Washington, Milk, Congress, State, Kilby and Oliver streets, to the water, destroying 776 buildings with a loss of about $61,179,300 and thirteen lives, all firemen or volunteers.

It started in a large granite building on south east corner of Summer and Kingston streets, and the first alarm was sent in from famous box 52 at 7.24 o'clock.

Thirty departments and 97 fire companies responded to the call of Chief John S. Damrell for assistance. The story of the service rendered by each of these departments was recently compiled and is now in the Boston Public Library.

Of the Newton department it says: A member of Nonantum Engine No. 1, who was at the fire, inquired of Chief Damrell if assistance was desired, and receiving an affirmative reply, returned to Newton by train and quickly the engine and company, in charge of Assistant Engineer W. Parker Leavett, was en route for the fire, drawn by horses.

It arrived in Bedford street, near Washington, about 11.30 o'clock and after a short service here moved further down Bedford street to Chauncy street, and remained there until 7 o'clock, Sunday morning, when it was sent to India street, near the Custom House, with a stream on Mason Building in Liberty square, where it was when relieved at 3 o'clock, Sunday afternoon.

Its most important service was at the Mudge Building in Bedford street, where the fire was stopped in that direction. A charred window frame on the north side of that building now marks the spot where its effective duty did much toward saving it, which its owners acknowledged by sending the company a letter of thanks and $100.00 and the firm of A. A. Lawrence & Co., another check for $200.00. The late Chief Henry L. Bixby and its present assistant foreman, Frank A. Barrows, were then members of the company.

Engine 2, West Newton, in charge of Chief Rodney M. Lucas, responded to a call for assistance by special train arriving at the fire about 11.55 o'clock. It first located on Washington street, near Franklin, with line down Franklin street. It next went to Winter street and at 7 o'clock, Sunday morning, was ordered to Broad street and relieved at 2 o'clock, Sunday afternoon. It rendered important service on the old Marlboro Hotel building on Washington street, opposite Franklin. Its engine, a second size "Amoskeag," received in October, 1871, is now in service. Its members, and those of other companies, were on duty for several days at the ruins. Assistant Chief F. H. Humphrey was then a member of the company.

Reading at $20 is the highest, and Nahant at $8 is the lowest, while the average rate in the combined list is $16 per $1000.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, Nov. 4, 1901.

As I predicted in a former letter the President is deeply interested in the proposed irrigation of the arid lands of the West. He sent for Colonel Elwood Mead, the expert on the subject in the Department of Agriculture, Thursday, and had a long talk on the subject, instructing Colonel Mead to prepare and hand to him data on the subject. Colonel Mead tells me that the President's experience with irrigation on his Montana ranch and his knowledge of the ranch business leads him to believe that if the supply of cattle, known as feeders, is to be kept up and our very extensive cattle exports are to be maintained some method of making the arid lands available for pasture and the growing of forage must be found, and that irrigation presents the only solution to the problem.

Democratic predictions of a split between Senator Platt and the President, have, as was to be expected, failed to materialize. The official announcement of the appointment of Mr. George M. Whitehead to be Appraiser of the port of New York, has been given out at the Treasury. This is in accordance with the wishes of the New York Senator and with the recommendation of the Secretary of the Treasury. When Secretary Gage first recommended Mr. Whitehead, Senator Platt did not particularly favor the appointment, but a more careful examination of the situation led him after his return to New York to write the President endorsing the selection. Mr. Whitehead "covered himself with glory" some five years ago, when he was sent as Special Agent to inspect the New York office, then under Mr. Wakeman's direction. Mr. Whitehead made numerous recommendations for improvements in the management that ought to be made, and all of them have since been adopted, although some of them met for a time the strong opposition of Mr. Wakeman. For the past three years Mr. Whitehead has been Collector of Customs for Porto Rico.

It is reported that the entire British Cabinet has now given its assent to the treaty regarding the Isthmian Canal, which Lord Pauncefoot is bringing to this country. The treaty is so favorable to American wishes that it will be ratified immediately and its ratification promptly followed by a bill providing for the construction of the canal. It is quite possible that within a year work will begin. The new treaty is a source of much gratification to the administration, not only because it has brought to a close, a lengthy and delicate diplomatic negotiation, but because it is regarded as recognizing in its provisions the equity of the Monroe Doctrine. With the doctrine receiving such practical recognition from Great Britain, Continental railings may continue on paper, but they hardly likely to go farther.

All recent reports from the Philippines indicate satisfactory progress. The troops, whose terms will expire during the next year, will be brought home, and no new regiments will be sent to fill their places. Secretary Root has issued new orders to the Taft Commission and hereafter the proceeding of that body will be conducted along the lines of procedure followed by the Senate. All appropriations will be made in the form of bills, by the Commission in the committee of the whole, and then acted on by the Committee in open session. By this means the Secretary believes he will guard against extravagance, and at the same time, give the Philippines an excellent object lesson in self-government. The officers on duty in the Philippines say that small conflicts with sporadic bands which are wandering about the islands, and are really little more than brigands, are to be expected, but that there is not now, nor is there likely to be any armed force of any magnitude in the field.

One of the troubles which the machine politicians are having with Mr. Roosevelt, is that he positively refuses to be buttonholed in corners. The other day a Republican Senator tried this plan of getting a private audience with the President and stated his case, as he thought, very nicely, in a confidential undertone. Presently, everybody in that room and the next, heard Mr. Roosevelt announce in that stentorian voice of his, "It is no use Senator, I will not appoint a man of that character if he has you and your delegation and the whole state behind him." The Senator will not try this plan again.

The consecration meeting at Oak Hill Friday evening, Nov. 15, will be a temperance meeting. Leader, President F. E. Liddell.

Monday evening, Nov. 11, a conference meeting will be held at the Congregational church, Auburndale. "Committee Work" will be the subject. Mrs. F. E. Clark and Prof. A. Wells will address the meeting.

That Gold Spoon.

There are some men who seem to be favorites of fortune. They are industrious, cheerful workers, full of overflowing energy of splendid health, and success seems fairly to drop into their hands. It is of such as these that the less hardy and less successful man says enviously, "That fellow was born with a gold spoon in his mouth." And yet on analysis it will be found that this success is largely due to healthy mother.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives the mother health to give her child. It cures nervousness, nausea and sleeplessness. It makes the body comfortable and the mind content. It gives physical vigor and muscular elasticity so that the baby's advent is practically painless.

I will endeavor to tell you of the many benefits I have derived from taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. B. E. Robertson, of Medicine Lodge, Barber Co., Kans. "In the fall of 1899, I was expecting to become a mother and suffered terribly with pains in the back of head; in fact I ached all over. Suffered with awful bearing-down pains; I was threatened for weeks with miscarriage. A lady friend told me to use Dr. Pierce's medicines. She had taken them and felt like a new woman. I began using the Favorite Prescription and took four bottles before my baby came and two afterwards I suffered almost death with my other two children, but hardly realized that I was sick when this baby was born and she weighed twelve and one-quarter pounds. She is now eleven months old and has never known a day's sickness; at present she weighs thirty-seven pounds. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

THE ELECTION.

The results of the elections this week must be a source of gratification to all friends of good government.

Of course the New York election aroused the greatest interest throughout the entire country, and all good citizens rejoice not only in the election of Mr. Low to the mayoralty of the national metropolis, but in the success of Judge Jerome in his plucky fight for the position of district attorney.

In our own state, we are so used to having only the best men selected for political offices that the interest centered wholly in the few instances where objectionable candidates had been nominated.

Our own senatorial district was a battleground on the issues of sectionalism, the east end being opposed to measures earnestly advocated by the country towns to the west of us. These towns came down to the Newton line with a majority of nearly 1400 for the Democratic candidate, only to have that majority negatived by the vote of Newton, and leaving the Republican majorities in Watertown and Weston enough to elect Mr.
Skinner by a fair margin.

The contest this year will result in a bitter feeling in the district as long as the present apportionment lasts.

THE CITY ELECTION.

The lists of delegates for the Republican municipal caucuses filed last Friday indicates that Alderman Weeks will be the candidate of the party for mayor.

This result has been forecast for some time, in fact ever since Capt.
Weeks consented to allow the use of his name for the office.

For school committee the delegates are said to favor Mr. Fred H. Tucker in Ward One, Mr. Marcus Morton in Ward 2, Capt. S. E. Howard in Ward 3, and either Hon. H. E. Both-field or Mr. G. M. Weed in Ward 7.
A contest is in sight in Ward 6, between the friends of Mr. C. M. Goddard and Rev. Dr. E. D. Burr.

For alderman at large, present members of the board are to be named in Wards 1, 2, 5, 6 and 7, with Mr.
Henry B. Day in Ward 3 and Mr.
Peter C. Baker in Ward 4.

The ward aldermen named are wholly new men with the exception of Alderman Hutchinson in Ward 3.

The Democratic caucuses are called for next Thursday and it is extremely probable that contests will be made for every office.

The point raised by two of the police force that the established salary of $3 per diem allowed to police officers of 5 years or more service is decidedly unique and again calls attention to the present dual system of police appointments in this city.

These officers served as reserves for some period prior to appointment as regular members of the force, and for their first year's service as regulars received the customary salary of $90 and which was increased to $1000 at their second year. They now claim in reckoning the 5 years of service necessary to receive $3 per day that the time served by them as reserves should be included and that they are now entitled to the salary.

They each wear the blue stripe indicative of 5 years service and it is decidedly an interesting question.

It is possible to avoid this difficulty in the future by designating the entire force as regulars, with graded salaries from $2 per day for the first year to $3 per day for over 5 years of service substantially as paid now to the reserve and regular force combined, and then relegate the reserve force to its true position as a corps solely for temporary duty.

City Hall Notes.

The new reservoir at Waban hill is about half covered.

Major Ranlett has collected about $575,000 of taxes.

The water department is laying a water main in Selden street, Eliot.

The board of health has a field day this afternoon.

The roof is being slated on the new contagious ward.

Nomination papers for mayor have been filed with the City Clerk by Alderman Henry Bailey and Mr. Wm.
H. Baker.

Newton District Nursing Association.

The annual meeting of this worthy organization was held in the parlors of the West Newton Unitarian church last Monday afternoon, Mrs. Samuel L. Powers, the president, in the chair.

Mr. W. H. Coolidge, the secretary, read an interesting report of the year's work, showing that over 5000 calls had been made by the two nurses of the association, and that 800 calls had been made by the visiting nurse since March 1st of the present year.

Addresses were made by Dr. Caroline Y. Wentworth, Dr. F. M. Lowe and Dr. F. M. Sherman.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Mrs.
Wm. H. Coolidge; vice-president,
Mrs. Francis E. Stanley; secretary, Miss Caroline A. Lovett; assistant secretary, Mrs. Wm. H. Rand, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. Chas. L. Smith. At the close of the business meeting a reception and tea were given in honor of the retiring president, Mrs. Samuel L. Powers, at which the hostesses were Mrs. Ellery Peabody and the Misses Lovett.

Death of Stephen Greene.

Mr. Stephen Greene, one of the leading citizens of Newton Centre and a man active in the business and religious world, died at his residence on Centre street, Thursday morning at 2.45 o'clock.

Mr. Greene was the only surviving partner of Lockwood, Greene & Co., the leading mill architects in the country, and was largely interested in cotton manufacturing in the South.
Mr. Greene is a descendant of the family of General Nathaniel Greene and was born in Hope Village, R. I., Sept. 27, 1851.

He entered a cotton mill at ten years of age, continuing his studies at the same time, and advanced by degrees until he became a manufacturer himself.

Mr. Greene was a director in numerous companies and a member of various societies.

Dec. 15, 1874, he was married in Providence to Natalia L. Schubarth.
Their family consists of four sons.
Funeral services will occur at the Baptist church, Newton Centre, tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

Y. M. C. A. Bazaar.

Under the auspices of the women's auxiliary of the Newton Y. M. C. A., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings there was held in the association parlors on Washington street, a butterfly bazaar, which in point of elaborate arrangement surpasses anything of a similar nature seen for a number of years in this city.

The decorations of the booths were both tasteful and unique, each bearing a harmony of color and forming a pleasing combination, heightening the general beauty of the color scheme was a profusion of cut flowers.

The tables and those in charge were: Fancy goods, (purple), Mrs.
J. H. Robinson; handkerchiefs, (pink and black), Mrs. Moses Clark; hats, (blue and white), Miss T. H. Hildreth; fruit and preserves, (red and white), Mrs. Charles H. Lawrence; ice cream garden, (olive), Mrs. O. F. Black; domestic, (red and white), Mrs. J. H.
Brigham; lemonade, (yellow and white), Miss Jennie Mason; cakes, (pink and white), Misses Spear; children's (orange), Mrs. G. K. Maltby; cocoa, (pink), Miss E. Fay Butler; and art (canary yellow and white), Mrs. W. F. Whitney.

One of the most interesting features was the Edison phonograph, which furnished much amusement under the direction of Mr. Albert H. Waitt. In the large hall a turkey supper was served Wednesday night and a New England supper Thursday night, under the direction of Mrs. D. S. Wether-bee, who was assisted in serving by the members of the social committee and the young ladies and gentlemen of the auxiliary and association. An additional attraction Thursday evening was the exhibition drill given by the gymnasium class under the direction of Mr. E. C. Wyatt, the physical director. The largest sum ever made by the association in a similar effort is assured, but the exact amount will not be known until all expenses have been paid.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Tremont Theatre—"The Burgomaster," the extraordinarily popular musical comedy that had a run of nine weeks to crowded audiences in the Tremont Theatre last summer, will return to that house next Monday for six evenings and two matinees, (Wednesday and Saturday).
The piece has been greatly improved since it was last heard here. The score contains many new musical numbers, the book admits of many new bright features and vaudeville specialties, and the whole is considered far superior to last season's version and production. Talking of "the Burgomaster" vividly recalls to mind that insinuatingly catchy strain of "The Tale of the Kangaroo," and as sung and danced by a trio and chorus, it receives as many as ten encores at each rendition, and in every instance the audience wants more. All this enthusiasm is inspired by one song in "The Burgomaster"—just one of the twenty four musical features that are scattered throughout the performance.

Boston Theatre—The beginning of the end of Brady's big revival of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at the Boston Theatre is in sight, for last Monday evening it entered upon the last fortnight of the engagement. This fact carries significance, not alone to the local amusement loving public, but also to the playgoers outside of Boston and the immediate suburbs, as, owing to the extraordinary size of the production, it will be seen nowhere else in New England.

"The Old Homestead"—Manager Lawrence McCarty announces for the two weeks beginning Monday, Nov.
18, one of the star attractions of the Boston Theatre season, "The Old Homestead," with Denham Thompson as Joshua Whitcomb. The opening night of the coming engagement will mark the approach of the 45th time that Mr. Thompson has walked upon the stage of the Boston Theatre in this quaint play. Special attention is called to a new picture of Grace church, New York, by moonlight, which is promised to excel any previous presentation of this famous scene that "The Old Homestead" has ever offered.

Street Railway.

To-night at 7.30 o'clock the gold medals offered by Supt. E. C. Spring of the Newton & Boston Street Railway Co., to the conductor and moterman with the best record for the year will be presented by President Adams D. Claffin to the winners.
Supt. Spring's offer has caused a lively rivalry during the past year among the 28 conductors and 28 motorman under his charge.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Boston Museum—"Simply delightful" is the consensus of opinion of the thousands who have enjoyed that most charming play "Sky Farm" at the Boston Museum now concluding its fifth week of uninterrupted tremendous success, a record rarely equalled at the Museum or any other theatre in Boston. "Sky Farm" is thoroughly American from deepest roots to topmost tip of branches. It is by an American author, Mr. Edward E. Kidder, the writer of those other great successes "Peaceful Valley" and "A Poor Relation." It is on an American theme in a New England atmosphere and is presented by an American company under one of the most progressive of American managers, Mr. Charles Frohman and can be seen upon the stage of one of the most thoroughly American playhouses in the country—that long established temple of the drama—the Boston Museum. The stay of "Sky Farm" at the Boston Museum is positively limited, and as the capacity of the house is taken at every performance, an early application should be made to secure good seats or in fact any seats at all. Matinee performances are given on Wednesdays and Saturdays and the final curtain now falls at 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon and 10.30 o'clock at night.

tion at that house, on account of contracts previously entered into. The entire press of Boston asserts "The King's Carnival" is the best burlesque review ever witnessed in that city. It is also the largest and most talented aggregation of performers ever engaged in a similar work. Some two hundred persons are employed in the performance. The usual matinees are given Wednesdays and Saturdays. Next Sunday evening Theron Perkins and his celebrated concert band of fifty pieces, with noted entertainers, will be seen, for the benefit of Boston's South End Dispensary. And the prices are only 25, 35, and 50 cents.

Hollis Street Theatre—An organization that might aptly be termed "the champion laugh-producer of the world" will be the attraction at the Hollis Street Theatre, Boston, next week, opening Monday night, Nov. 11. The Klav & Erlanger Comedy Company, with those geniuses of the comic, Gus and Max Rogers, John J. McNally's latest vaudeville farce, "The Rogers Brothers in Washington." This company, with these bright entertainers, has become a great favorite in New England and their return here will be a most welcome event to all those who delight in attractive nonsense concocted with the serious purpose of making people laugh, for Mr. McNally, the author, at points that would make them practically extensions of Copley street or Gramercy street; or else of Copley street and Elmhurst road to Tremont street. I shall hope to see these great public conveniences provided at no very distant day.

Small Neighborhood Playgrounds They tell us our boys and girls are growing taller, stronger, healthier, fairer. Some social gatherings indicate that they are. I greatly hope they are, especially if diviner spirits make the fairer bodily temples their worthy home and dominion. It would help to make these lovely conditions real, if we were to begin now to provide more numerous small playgrounds for younger children, just as primary schools have long been provided for budding minds. Such provision is made increasingly important by the decreasing size of lots, and the decreasing amount of near by waste or vacant land, coupled with the fact that the nice keeping of small lots unfits them for varied and abundant free play.

These small playgrounds should not be of the kid-glove order, but grandmas' gray mitten affairs, left in as much as possible of their native wildness, and chosen so as to afford suitable small coasting and skating facilities. They should, in short, be free, all over, for child play, with no "don'ts," except don't be rough or

Michigan and Minnesota were wild, unorganized territories, as yet, without established law, so that a man would buy land there at the risk of only so much protection as associated agents of eastern proprietors, or small scattered garrisons could give, the land being untaxed, where located, the case would be different, and the eastern owner might be taxed for what was elsewhere untaxed. But the same property should not be taxed twice.

The unrighteousness of such taxation is clear as noonday in the light of the one simple fact—though there are many others—that these outside investments, taxed where they exist, are, though with some risk to the investor, doubly beneficial to Massachusetts; first, by tending to increase her needed supply of cheap food stuffs that she cannot well sufficiently produce; and, second, by providing the necessary markets for her surplus products. The absurdity of this double taxation is apparent from the notorious fact, again and again proclaimed in official reports, and otherwise, that it is all but universally evaded in various ways, some of which have been openly published. Then in place of a law that is wrong by its oppressive inequality, and ridiculous by its comparative fruitlessness, substitute a law requiring a tax only on the income of outside investments; and, my word for it, this simple act of combined justice and common sense would be as profitable as it is reasonable. A Massachusetts citizen's income from his outside investments is received, held and spent mostly and generally in Massachusetts, and the keeping, use and enjoyment of it is there protected. It therefore falls under the uniform principle that wealth is properly taxed where it exists and is used and protected. Thousands, indeed, all honest and honorable patriotic citizens would declare their taxable income of this kind, while they either could not if they would, or would not if they could, endure the burden of a second tax on the full market value of the property which is already likewise taxed where it exists. Such a tax is intolerable, as being, if enforced, practically prohibitive of such investments as are subjected to it.

In effect, it severely fines a man for making a class of investments which directly and strongly benefits his own state—as already here shown—by building up other states to be suppliers of the wants of his state, and needful markets for its products.

It is therefore earnestly to be desired and hoped that our Newton, and all other town and city representatives in our next state legislature will so diligently inquire into the subject, as presented in the tax commissioner's report of 1895, and in numerous able pamphlets, easily obtained, that the coming legislature cannot fail to enact so useful, creditable, desirable and profitable a tax reform as the repeal of all and all manner of double-taxation laws; and to substitute for them the income tax here proposed, and such other substitutes, if any, as may seem necessary.

To the Public.

Allow me to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I had a very severe cough and cold, and feared I would get pneumonia, but after taking the second dose of this medicine, I felt better, three bottles of it cured my cold and the pains in my chest disappeared entirely. First Silver Wedding.

According to a historian, this is the way the first silver wedding came about. It was in the time of Hugues Capet. Two of his most faithful servants, a man and a woman, had grown gray in his employ. How could he reward them?

Calling the woman, he said: "Your service is great, greater than the man's, whose service is great enough, for the woman always finds work harder than a man, and therefore I will give you a reward. At your age I know of none better than a dowry and a husband. The dowry is here. This farm from this time forth belongs to you. If this man who has worked with you for five and twenty years is willing to marry you, then the husband is ready."

"Your majesty," said the old peasant, "how is it possible that we should marry, having already silver hairs?"

"Then it shall be a silver wedding." And the king gave the couple silver enough to keep them in plenty.

Such was the origin of the silver wedding, a custom which, spreading all through France, subsequently became known to the world.

Points on a Lobster.

A lobster is found in the water, but not always—in fact, some of the most successful lobsters that ever lobstered were born and raised on dry land.

One can usually tell a lobster by its actions. For instance, if a young man enters a crowded drawing room and walks all over the feet of the assembled guests without their consent or approval the young man at once becomes a lobster.

The fathers of lobsters usually have money. In fact, it is difficult to be a real stand up and fall down lobster unless the lobster's father has money.

It is an odd fact that many girls seem to admire lobsters. It would seem that a girl ought to know better, but she doesn't until she marries a lobster. Then she tumbles.

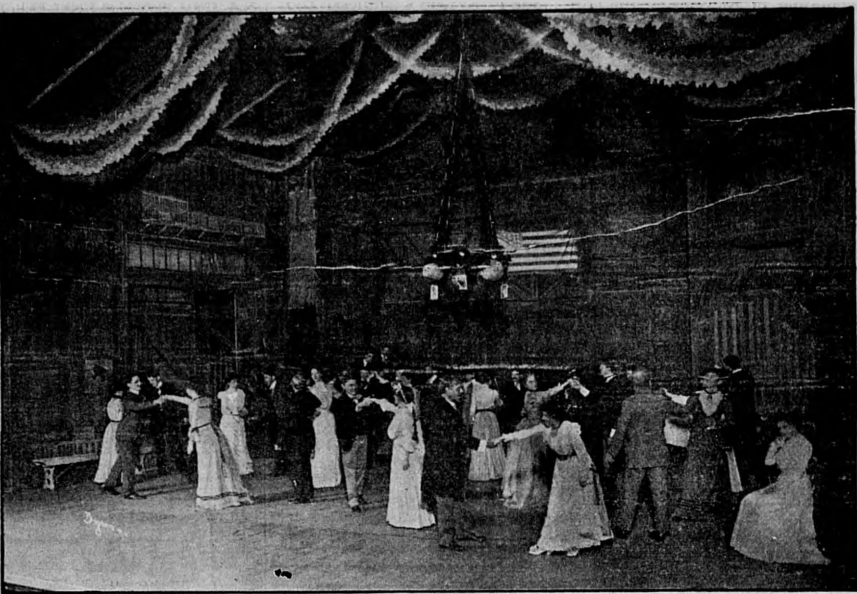

Lobsters have no brains. If you don't believe it, split a lobster's head open with an ax if you don't care anything about the ax.

This world would be a much more desirable abiding place if there were no lobsters in it.—Ohio State Journal

THE BARN DANCE

SCENE FROM ACT IV, "SKY FARM," NOW PLAYING AT THE BOSTON MUSEUM

Colonial Theatre—Next Monday night at the Colonial Theatre, Boston, will be a premiere occasion of double interest, for there is announced an initial presentation by Charles Frohman of a new star and a new play together, the first being Virginia Harned who has hitherto been equally starred with her husband, E. H. Sothern, and the second being the late Maurice Thompson's romantic Indiana novel entitled "Alice of Old Vincennes," which has been dramatized for Miss Harned expressly by Edward E. Rose. The work is described as a romance of the early days of Indiana during the American Revolution. It is the picture of a type of American womanhood with which the struggle of the Colonies abounded.

Miss Harned's individual fitness for the impersonation of the role of Alice, was first intimated by the author, to which the dramatist and manager, judges who should be well qualified to decide on such a point, at once assented. The scenes of the play are in Vincennes, Indiana, and the period 1778. The cast and mounting given by Mr. Frohman are beyond question creditable to that manager. Matinees on Wednesday and Saturday are announced during the Colonial engagement, which same is limited to two weeks.

Columbia Theatre—"The King's Carnival," unquestionably the greatest burlesque review witnessed in this country, closes its most successful engagement at the Columbia Theatre, Boston, Saturday evening, Nov. 16. Although the business done has been phenomenally large, it has been found impossible to retain the attracsays the most serious thing one may undertake to do is to write "a funny show." The piece presented this season is really the hottest paced production in which the Rogers Brothers have been seen. It was thought "In Central Park," their vehicle of last year, was the acme of quick action in theatrical entertainment, but this season the two minute gait has been struck and a perfect maestrom of wit, humor and melody sweeps the audience from the rise to the fall of the curtain. This company has always been noted as a "beauty show." This year it displays a contingent of beautiful principals and a chorus of 40 as attractive young women as have ever been seen on the stage. The principals of the company this season are William West, Eugene Jepson, Gus A. Weinberg, Pat Koonsey, James Cherry, John B. Hendricks, William Torrey, Hattie Williams, Carolyn Gordon, Jeannette Bageard, Edith St. Clair, Emma Francis, May Taylor, Georgia Irving, Elsie David and Gertrude Save. The engagement in Boston is limited and the theatre is sure to be packed at every performance.

Local Civics.

To the Editor of the Graphic—Under the above title, representing what every Newtonian is, or should be, warmly interested in, I would ask general attention to some Related Newton Wants:

I. Cross streets. Everybody, having business, recreation, or social intercourse to attend to, likes to save time and effort by "cutting across lots," whenever and wherever he can. This is especially true of boys, whose play is, to them, the serious business of life, for which they live as if every chance for high sight-seeing or sport might be their last. All right, if only when they are grown up they are equally dead in earnest for every thing right.

But as to short cuts, the general principle that determines how many and where, cross streets should be, is this: Wherever two main thoroughfares not far apart, and nearly or quite parallel, traverse thickly inhabited districts, cross streets should connect them, so that, instead of having to make a long and hindering loop, the people of each district can easily pass to the other.

Citizens of each of the many Newtons can doubtless readily find illustrations of this principle in their several localities. In Ward Seven, a striking illustration is found in the long stretch from Park street to Oak square, between Washington and Tremont streets. There, for nearly a mile, and with large and growing neighborhoods reached from beyond by these thoroughfares, there are, as yet, no sufficient cross streets enabling them to easily communicate with each other. There seems to be, therefore, an increasingly urgent need, first, that Waverley avenue should be extended by the most available route to Hunnewell avenue whether or not by using Linder terrace as a part of its location; then second, that cross streets should connect Washington and Tremont streets rude, but gentle as the dear Swedish children.

Among the many and great benefits to be expected from such playgrounds, combined with other sound training, might be the decline and final dying out of all such life paralyzing conventionalities as now too often loves to say, "you must," of things for which there is no obligation or proper authority. Whatever in reason taste or conscience, which are our only inborn appointed guides.

III. Lower Taxes. These are at least a very important, if not an indispensable condition for many highly desirable good things in the life of any community. But some will immediately say: How can we have additional advantages without increased expense? A thousand voices answer By economy! economy! economy! And what is economy? Why, in a word, it is simply getting the most out of the least, whether in personal, municipal or in still larger affairs. When the wise woman, like the one immortalized in the Book of Proverbs, wants a new hat, she goes to her rummage chest, and, mixing her materials as the genius of Opie, mixed his colors, "with brains, sir," (and but little cash) she produces a result far superior to the one which her weaker sister, squanders seven dollars and up. The like principle runs from the bottom to the top, from the least to the greatest of life. So, then, if all who are born to take active interest in local or state affairs, and legislation thereupon, would steadily, from the beginning, put only their best brains and conscience into everything they do for the public taking real and lasting honor for it as their chief and best reward—and would diligently study such standard literature on municipal and state government as Dr. Albert Shaw, and others, have put into volumes, or scattered through our best magazines for the last twenty years, we might soon come to have such a body of municipal and state legislators as could and would give us everything necessary, and with due regard to durability and modest, not sumptuous, elegance, without ever exceeding taxes of $14 on a $1000.

As auxiliary to so excellent a result, the state should co-operate by a thorough and systematic tax reform, often feebly attempted, yet still long delayed. Perhaps no one point more loudly calls for immediate reform than the antiquated, futile, oppressively unequal, absurd and unrighteous double-taxing of all investments of any kind, in enterprises outside of the state; whether in cattle farms, mills, mines, railroads, steamship companies, or industrial corporations.

As the old out of date law still stands, after many ineffectual efforts at general tax reform, all such investments are taxable twice; once, of course, by the state where the property is, and again in Massachusetts, if the owner happens to reside there. Whether Massachusetts is in a minority of all the states in this matter, I am now unable to say, but I am quite sure that none of the nine or six states immediately surrounding her adopts that strange plan. The inappropriateness of such double taxation is obvious enough, from the principle that property should be taxed by the jurisdiction that protects it. Massachusetts does not protect investments in property in Michigan, or Minnesota, for example, and therefore, has no call to tax them. If

Last Saturday's Golf.

The tie for first place in the handicap stroke competition which has been going on a month was played off Saturday on the links of the Alameda Club at Newtonville. E. E. Pettie winning with a net of 88.

The scores: E. E. Pettie 96-88, P. R. Knight 105-87. The sixth monthly handicap was the closing event of the fall season at the Newton Centre Club. A. S. Graves winning in class A with a net of 80, and H. C. Davidson class B with 83 net.

A mixed foursomes competition, with silver cups for first and second prizes, was held on the links of the Woodland Club at Auburndale. Play was from scratch, 18 holes, and the first prize was taken by Miss Perrin and G. E. Blackmer, who made 101. Miss Spaulding and Mr. Pemberton were second with 123.

The Newton Club closed its autumn season with a mixed foursomes handicap competition, 18 holes. Miss Slocum and G. K. Maltby were the winners with a net score of 98.

A handicap stroke competition was held on the links of the Brae Burn club, F. B. Witherbee winning with a score of 93-85. There were 13 entries, but the other score were not given out.

The Commonwealth Country Club, located at Chestnut Hill, in the immediate vicinity of the great Reservoir, has just taken a new five years lease from April first next, of the Bennett Farm of about twenty-five acres, from Mr. Dana Estes, together with the clubhouse and stable on Algonquin road. The club has also secured a lease for five years of upwards of thirty acres of fine golfing land from J. R. Downing, and the Kenrick Farm from George Arthur Ward and others.

The nine holes of the club are now on the Estes lands, and the club proposes to immediately extend the links on the additional thirty acres to a full eighteen hole links. It is believed that the grounds will enable the club to have one of the finest links in the country, with some of the longest direct holes. Particulars of the laying out will be given as soon as the experts have thoroughly examined the possibilities of the grounds.

The club is also to make extensive additions to the house, including a new locker room of nearly one hundred lockers, a new broad veranda overlooking the entire nine holes as at present layed out, and also immediately overlooking the new tennis courts which are to be an additional feature of the club.

The club has now about two hundred and fifty members; but with the increase of eighteen holes, will be able to accommodate a considerable increase of membership, and a preference will be given to those who are enthusiastic and expert golfing and tennis players.

A club restaurant has been ably managed the present season under the stewardship of Mr. Sharpe, who was formerly steward of the Hull Massachusetts Yacht Club. The pool and card rooms and ladies' apartments are also highly appreciated by the membership of the club. While not attempting to vie with the Country Club of Brookline, it is believed that this club is one of the best equipped of the smaller clubs in New England.

And the fact that it is connected with Brookline and Boston by three lines of electric cars is very greatly to its advantage.

The close of the fall schedule of the Newton Golf Club, last Saturday afternoon, was marked by a harvest festival in the club house on Centre street, which was decorated for the occasion.

A committee of young ladies, Miss Mary Linder, Miss Ethel Linder, Miss Alice Colby presided over the tables and assisted the hostesses, Mrs. A. B. Cobb, Mrs. W. D. Orcutt and Mrs. A. B. Turner.

The afternoon match of a mixed foursome handicap was won by Miss Slocum and Mr. Maltby with a net score of 98.

Miss Perrin and G. E. Blackmer were the winners last Saturday in a mixed foursomes on the Woodland links. Silver cups were given for prizes.

The Twentieth Century.

The advent of the new century is to be commemorated by the Newton Graphic in the publication of a handsomely bound volume, entitled, "Newton, The Garden City of the Commonwealth, 1874-1901." It will contain valuable and interesting historical matter, fully illustrated with half tone engravings of churches, schools, residences, street views, parks, etc. The history will tell of leading events, characters and progress of the city, and the many advantages of Newton as a beautiful and desirable place of residence will be fully shown. The volume will also contain the portraits and biographies of representative men who, in their lives, their work or their influence have made Newton of to-day the garden city of the Commonwealth and of New England.

It is believed that such a work will commend itself to the citizens of Newton as bringing together a carefully collated record of the lives of men who have contributed to the welfare of our city; men of whom we are justly proud as educators, lawyers, physicians, clergymen and men of affairs.

Such a publication at this time will give to the present, an up to date account of the city and will bequeath to the future a legacy of what Newton was at the beginning of what promises to be a most remarkable century.

Greek and Roman Stoves.

Warm as Greece and Rome and Egypt, are stoves were made there in the dim and misty vistas of the past. It was not just the pattern used at present, but was a metal basin in which charcoal was burned. It sat in the middle of the room, and as the resulting smoke was of the slightest opening in the roof or elsewhere was necessary. The same implement, still called by its old Greek name of brazier, is now employed in many portions of continental Europe, where it is utilized for heating as well as cooking.

But the progressive Romans improved on that and made a hypocust. It was the germ of the present furnace. It was made under the house in a little cellar prepared for it, and the heat was conducted to the rooms and baths through crevices left in the floor and lower portions of the wall. Later flues were provided, conducting lead to any portion of the house. In some of the old Roman villas in England the remains of these old time furnaces are still found.

Origin of the Clearing House.

In 1775 the bankers of London rented a house in Lombard street and fitted it with tables and desks for the use of their clerks as a place where bills, notes, drafts and other commercial paper might be exchanged without the trouble of personal visits of employees to all the metropolitan banks. Transfer tickets were used, and by means of this simple plan transactions involving many millions were settled without a penny changing hands. The Bank of England and every other important bank in London are members of the Clearing House association. The first clearing house in the United States was established by the associated banks of New York in 1853.

Mrs. Hiram—And have you any references? Applicant—No, mum; Of tored 'em up!

Mrs. Hiram (in surprise)—Tore them up? How foolish!

Applicant—Yez wudn't think so, mum, if yez had seen 'em.—From "Recollections of Mrs. Minnie E. Lee."

An Indian Belief.

There is a belief prevalent in India that if a man be sleeping, no matter where, and a Shesh Nag come and sit beside him, with a hood spread over the sleeper's face, the latter is sure to be a son of fortune. Popular tradition assigns the same reason to the rise of Haldi Ali of Mysore from a common soldier.

A Wee Drop.

Sandy—And will ye tak' a drap o' whisky afore ye gang hame, Tammas? Tammas—Ah, weel, just a wee drapple.

Sandy—Then say when, liddle. Tammas—Nay, mon; the glass will say when.—London King.

Lasell Notes

Mr. Leon H. Vincent will lecture Wednesday evening, Nov. 13th, at 8 o'clock, subject, "Dr. Johnson and the Literary Club." Friends are welcome.
 Last night, Nov. 5, was Lasell night at the Deacons Fair, which is being held in Copley Hall, on Clarendon street, Boston. Duncan was chosen from the Lasell Battalion which was present at the Fair and presented a very interesting and successful program. The exercises consisted of a drill in the manual of arms and some battalion movements and marching, the execution of which certainly did credit to Lieut. Chas. A. DIRECTIONS FOR WASHING WOOLEN UNDERWEAR.

Soak for an hour in soapsuds as hot as the hand can bear. To every gallon of water add a teaspoonful of liquid ammonia, which will remove the effects of perspiration. Transfer to clean, warm soapsuds and wash by stirring the garments around with the hands but without using a washboard or rubbing them at all unless there are soiled spots that cannot be removed otherwise: if so, confine the rubbing to those spots and if possible keep the garments entirely covered with water. Rinse twice in warm water, to remove all traces of soap, still avoiding rubbing.

After passing the garments through a wringer, immediately lay them one at a time on a board or table, and while still damp stretch to original shape by hand and hang up to dry.

It is best not to iron woolen underwear. Don't wash in water used for other clothes. Don't rub soap on the garments except in case of spots, as above mentioned. Avoid patent washing powders and use only the best neutral soaps.

Remember that rubbing them, or suddenly changing the temperature of the water, is the way to shrink woolen goods.

ALDERMAN JOHN W. WEEKS.

Republican Candidate for Mayor.

Alderman John W. Weeks, who is now assured of the Republican nomination for mayor, was born in Lancaster, N. H., April 11, 1860. He received an appointment to the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis, when 17 years of age, and completed the regular four years course. He subsequently was assigned to the ships Powhatan and Richmond until he left the naval service in 1883.

During the following five years he served as assistant land commissioner in the Florida Southern railway.

In August 1888, he engaged in his present business, as junior member of the firm of Hornblower and Weeks, bankers and brokers.

Mr. Weeks is well known in financial circles as a member of the New York Stock Exchange, a director and vice president of the Mass. Central R. R., president of the Mass. National Bank of Boston, and as president of the Newtonville Trust Company of our own city.

Before entering the board of aldermen he was also active in the local street railway companies, but disposed of his interests in them when elected to the city government.

A striking tribute to his financial standing is the fact that his appointment as stockholders' agent for liquidation of the affairs of the Broadway Bank some two years ago was unanimously assented to by the stockholders of that bank.

Upon the organization of the Mass. Naval Brigade, Mr. Weeks was elected commander of the 4th Division, later succeeding to the command of the 1st battalion and subsequently commanding the brigade for 6 years.

During the Spanish war, Captain Weeks was the third volunteer officer to be commissioned in the navy, and he commanded the 2nd division of the auxiliary navy. He also served as a member of the military advisory board appointed by Gov. Wolcott.

He was a member of the military board of examiners from 1894 to 1900, and was appointed by President Cleveland in 1896 as a member of the board of visitors to the U. S. naval academy.

Socially Captain Weeks is extremely popular, being a member of the Republican Club of Mass., of the Middlesex University, Newton, Neighborhood and Country Clubs, and in the Societies of Military Order of Foreign Wars, Sons American-Spanish War, Revolution and War of 1812.

His political service covers three years in the board of aldermen, including membership on important committees, and his influence in city affairs is far-reaching.

Captain Weeks is married and has two children, Katherine S. and Charles S. He resides in a beautiful estate on West Newton Hill.

The Ten Virgins.

The Ten Virgins, a sacred cantata for solo voices, chorus and organ, will be given at the Eliot church, Newton, Sunday afternoon, November 24th, at 4.30 o'clock.

This work, which is one of the larger church cantatas, was composed for and dedicated to the musical societies and church choirs of the United States in 1891. It was given by the choir of Eliot church a year ago, which was probably the first rendering of the work in this neighborhood.

This parable of our Lord is told in the most graphically musical manner possible, the ancient German chorale "Sleepers Wake" being a text which is fittingly woven into various numbers.

Attention is called to an advertisement of the S. B. Co. of New York and Boston, which appears on page 4.

Poison by Absorption.

The slow absorption of many poisons changes in some more or less modified form the complexion, but arsenic and ammonia show their effect about as quickly as any. The popular belief that arsenic clears the complexion has led many silly women to kill themselves with it in small, continued doses.

It produces a waxy, ivorylike appearance of the skin during a certain stage of the poisoning, but its terrible after effects have become too well known to make it of common use as a cosmetic.

The effects of ammonia upon the complexion are directly opposite from that of arsenic. The first symptoms of ammonia poisoning which appears among those who work in ammonia factories is a discoloration of the skin of the nose and forehead. This gradually extends over the face until the complexion has a stained, blotched and unsightly appearance. With people who take ammonia into their systems in small doses, as with their water and food, these striking symptoms do not appear so soon. The only effect of the poison that is visible for a time is a general unwholesomeness and sallowness of the complexion.

Undigested Food.

The recurrence of the flavor of food for some time after eating is always an indication, writes a physician in a medical journal, that the food is not being properly digested. "I can taste it," we say after eating canned fruits and vegetables preserved by adding salicylic acid or formaldehyde, substances that embalm food against the digestive juices as completely as they protect it from the microbes of the outer air. And "I can taste it" would probably be the report of one who had made a hearty meal on a turkey kept several months in cold storage. "A man trying to live on such meat would simply starve to death or die of blood poisoning," adds the physician.

He does not fail to remind us that the storage warehouse is generally a convenience and a benefit and only when misused a source of danger. But neither he nor any one else could find a good word to say for manufacturers who put slow poison into a food product. The fitting punishment for them would be to give them nothing to eat but their own canned stuff.

The Bird That Flies Longest.

Mr. J. Lancaster, naturalist, who spent five years on the west coast of Florida studying birds there, came to the conclusion that of all the feathered tenants of the air the frigate bird can fly the longest without resting. He has seen one flying for a whole week night and day without repose.

The frigate bird can feed, collect materials for its nest and even sleep on the wing. Apparently its wings can be controlled automatically, without the power of its will, and it probably adapts itself to take advantage of the upward or bearing force of the wind. The spread of the frigate bird's wing is great, and it can fly at a speed of ninety-six miles an hour, without seeming to flap its wings much. The albatross—that "king of the high seas," as it has been called—is larger than the frigate bird, but if it follows a vessel for four or five days it has to rest on a rock or on the ship itself.

An Impudent Dog.

One day Beau Nash joined some fine ladies in a grove and, asking one of them who was crooked whence she came, she replied, "Straight from London."

"Confound me, madam," said he, "then you must have been warped by the way."

She soon, however, had ample revenge. The following evening he joined her company and, with a sneer and a bow, asked her if she knew her catechism and could tell him the name of Tobit's dog.

"His name, sir, was Nash," replied the lady, "and an impudent dog he was!"

Proving Polarization.

The polarization of the human body can be proved by allowing a strong current to flow through the body from one end to the other, the hands being placed in two basins connected with the poles. The hands are then dried and placed in two other basins of water connected with the wires of a delicate galvanometer. A current in the reverse direction to the original one is then found to flow from the body.

Johnson on Poverty.

Poverty, my dear friend, is so great an evil and pregnant with so much temptation and so much misery that I cannot but earnestly enjoin you to avoid it. Live on what you have; live if you can on less. Do not borrow either for vanity or pleasure; the vanity will end in shame and the pleasure in regret.—Samuel Johnson.

Woman's Intuition.

Tess—She says she can't understand why people call him a flatterer.

Jess—She does, eh?

Tess—Yes; I guess it's because he never said anything flattering to her.

Jess—More likely he did say something flattering and she's trying to make herself believe he was in earnest.—Philadelphia Press.

His Mother—Yes, dear.

THE WARD SIX CONTEST.

From a point of view far removed from the warring factions in the school committee contest in Ward Six, there appear to be one or two considerations which have been apparently overlooked in the heat of conflict.It is, of course, taken for granted that no faction or party in that ward would dream of presenting to the citizens of Newton, a candidate unworthy of the position, and it is therefore safe to assume that any difference of opinion in that ward is caused solely by personal considerations.Mr. C. M. Goddard, whose name was first entered for the position is a graduate of Dartmouth, secretary of the N. E. Insurance Exchange, and is an active man in business and social circles.Rev. E. D. Burr, who first declined and then was finally persuaded to enter the lists against Mr. Goddard, is a gentleman of highest character and attainments, and is pastor of the First Baptist church.From a disinterested standpoint, waiving aside all personal considerations, the selection of a business man for the position of school committee seems extremely desirable. The school board has almost arbitrary control of appropriations exceeding $200, 000, or 20 per cent. of the tax levy and representing over $3 per $1,000 of the tax rate.With the educational side of school work in the hands of paid experts, it would seem wise to elect educated men of business for membership in the governing body, rather than men of purely academic training. The results would undoubtedly be far more satisfactory to the taxpayers, the bulk of whom believe that school expenses in Newton are high enough at the present time.A second consideration in favor of the election of Mr. Goddard is the fact that the present member of the school board from the Ward, and who will be a colleague of the nominee to be chosen this evening, is also a clergyman.For these reasons we heartily advise and favor the nomination of the business men and tax payers, candidate, Mr. C. M. Goddard.The shock occasioned by the fatal result of the accident on Tuesday last to Assistant Fire Chief Humphrey is more than local or official. It carries home a sense of deep personal loss to his large circle of friends and acquaintances.As an official he was conscientious in all the details of his work, brave and fearless in action, and a born fireman.As a man, he was warmhearted and sympathetic. Frank and outspoken in deed, in word, his was such a sincere and earnest character that his influence was felt by all with whom he came in contact.The death of such a citizen is a distinct loss to the community, and will be widely and since mourned.The accident at West Newton square last Tuesday, again calls attention to the possibilities of danger, constantly lurking in the congested Nonantum square. Clear the square, gentlemen of the board of aldermen before any lives are sacrificed at that point.

Among Women.

At the West Newton Women's Educational Club last Friday Rev. Francis B.
Hornbrook gave a timely lecture upon Anarchism. It was an exhaustive treatment of the principles set forth by such thinkers as Count Kropotkin, Herr Most and others. Dr. Hornbrook traced the logical outcome of these principles and showed how futile they would be to bring about the state of things desired by the very men who propounded them. At the meeting on Nov. 22 the committee on art and literature have prepared an "Afternoon with Browning." Mrs. Nathaniel Allen will read the poem "Saul" and Miss Porter will give Miss Tupper Maynard's
"Commentary on Saul" as an introduction. Some Browning songs will also be rendered.The next meeting of the Social Science Club will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 29, at 10 a. m. in the Hunnewell Club House.
Subject - Early Education in New England.
Speaker Mr. George B. Martin, supervisor of schools in Boston.The Newtonville Woman's Guild will serve the parson of the New Church, Newtonville, next Tuesday afternoon.
After the business session a talk on the South End Settlement will be given by Mr. William J. Cole. Ten will be served and there will be a display of articles contributed through the needlework Guild under the direction of the charity committee.A successful entertainment was given under the auspices of the Golden Cross in A. O. U. W. hall, West
Newton, last Wednesday evening.
The program consisted of humorous recitations by Mr. George B. Martin, readings by Mrs. Clara Francis Towne, piano selections by Prof.
Fairchild and addresses.

ment Club was held Tuesday evening in the Channing church parlors. There was a large attendance and the program consisted of addresses by President Frank W. Weber and Rev.
Adelbert L. Hudson; readings by Miss Powell of Roxbury, and songs by Mrs. May Sleeper Kuggles. Refreshments followed, served by the entertainment committee, and the tables were presided over by Mrs.
Ralph Emery and Miss Bertha Drew.—The meeting of the Young Men's Club at Eliot church last Tuesday evening, was one of the largest in point of attendance in the club's history. The guest of the evening was Rev. O. S. Davis of Newtonville, who spoke on "Impressions of East London."At the Methodist church, Newton
Sunday morning, Rev. I. H. Packard of Watertown will preach in exchange with the pastor.

Asst. Chief Humphrey
Fatally Injured.While Responding to Alarm Tuesday Evening.While responding to an alarm from box 245 about five o'clock Tuesday evening, Asst. Chief Francis H.
Humphrey was fatally injured in a collision with a coal wagon in front of Robinson's block, Watertown street, West Newton.Mr. Humphrey, accompanied by Chief Randlett was driving, and attempted to pass between a coal team and a lumber wagon which were partially blocking the street. The chief's wagon struck the shafts of the coal team, throwing both men to the ground. Chief Randlett escaped with a few bruises, but Asst. Chief Humphrey struck on the top of the head, badly fracturing the skull and breaking an arm. He was unconscious when picked up and carried into Ingram's drug store, where Dr. Lowe attended him. He was then taken to his home on Webster street, but subsequently removed to the Newton Hospital, where death ensued at 10.30 o'clock without return of consciousness. The hospital authorities state that without exception it was the worst accident case they ever handled.Assistant Chief Humphrey was one of the most popular men in the department, and his death means a personal sorrow to his many friends.
Frank and outspoken in speech and action, he was brave and fearless as a fireman, and warm-hearted and impulsive as a man.Assistant Chief Humphrey, who, in point of service, was one of the oldest members of the active fire department, was born in Hingham. He came to Newton when a young man, and was employed at the tin shop of John Thompson of West Newton. He later went into business under the firm name of Humphrey & Alman, which was later changed to F. H.
Humphrey & Co. The store was located on Chestnut street, West Newton, where he continued the business of tinmith up to October, 1894, when he was appointed assistant chief.Assistant Chief Humphrey became connected with the fire department in 1870, being first appointed hoseman on engine 2, West Newton. From this position he rose to be assistant foreman and foreman, which latter place he held from 1891 to 1894.
He was at one time vice-president of the Firemen's Relief Association, was a member of the Newton Veteran Firemen's Association, and a trustee of Newton lodge 92, I. O. O. F., and Newton assembly 39, Royal Society of Good Fellows.

He leaves a widow, and no children.

Surrounded by his comrades of the fire department and numerous friends representing all the branches of Newton's official life, the body of Asst.
Chief Frank H. Humphrey of the Newton Fire department was laid at rest this afternoon. The services were held at the West Newton Unitarian church on Washington street at 2.An hour previous to the services the body was escorted from the late Chief's home on Webster street to the church, where surrounded by the floral tributes of former comrades and friends, it lay in state and was viewed by many of those present as well as by many who were unable to attend the services.Among those present, apart from the relatives of the dead Chief, were Chief Randlett and members of the call and permanent fire department of Newton, the members of the board of alderman, Mayor Pickard and city officials, the Newton Veteran Firemen in a body, Newton Lodge, 92, I. O.
O. F., Chief Veber of the Boston fire department, Chief Marston of Brookline, Chief Colman of Worcester,
Asst. Chief Rawson of Worcester,
Chief Fiske of Framingham, Chief Yorke, of Watertown, and representatives from the fire departments of Hingham, Fall River, Cambridge, Taunton and elsewhere.The services, which were of a simple nature, were conducted by the Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, pastor of the church, and included the readings of scripture, an address by the Rev. Mr.
Jaynes and the singing of the following selections by the Mendelssohn Quartet: "Nearer My God to Thee," "Passing Day of the Shadow," "Some Sweet Day," and "Looking this Way." At the conclusion a service was conducted by the members of Newton Lodge, I. O. O. F., according to their ritual, following which the body was removed and the tolling bells to the Newton cemetery, the following acting as escorts:
Platoon of police in charge of Lieut.
F. M. Mitchell, members of Engine
2 company, members of Engine 1 company and Hose 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 companies, Newton Veteran Firemen's Association, visiting fire chiefs and representatives of outside fire departments, Newton Lodge, of I. O. O. F., relatives, friends and members of the city government in carriages.The pallbearers, members of the permanent force, were Frank E. Judkins, John S. Williams, George S.
Holmes, John Huggard, Edward J.
Burke and William U. Fogwill.
The ushers at the church were Theodore A. Fleu, M. A. Richards, Philip K. Spaulding, Fred W. Freeman and William H. Bacon.

Letter to C. H. Campbell, Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir: Perhaps you would like to take the agency for the foremost paint in the world: Devco lead and zinc. It is right to put before you the facts as to why it is the foremost.

(1) Best materials; lead, zinc, dryer, color, and linseed oil, ONLY used in it.

(2) It contains nothing else whatever; no water, no alkali, no benzine, no petroleum, no fish oil, no barytes, no whitening—no adulterant.

(3) Your state chemist not only has analyzed the paint, and verifies (1) and (2); but he is going to buy it and analyze it occasionally, and thus watch over the interests of your customers.

(4) It is proportioned for wear.

(5) It is mixed intimately and ground fine.

(6) It is full-measure (231 cubic inches a gallon.)

(7) It is sold at so low a price as to make it cheaper than lead and oil.

(8) It wears twice as long, and therefore costs less than half as much by the year.

(9) You can refund the money if any customer is dissatisfied.

(10) We are responsible; have been in business 145 years without a break, and are the largest paint-manufacturers in the U. S.

Yours truly,
F. W. Devco & Co.

When Frenchmen Were Germans.

The name of France is derived from the Franks, or Franks, a people of Germany who seized that part of the country nearest the Rhine and settled there. Later on they subdued Paris and made that the royal seat of their increasing empire.

The origin of other geographical names is interesting and will serve to enlighten us when we read of, for instance, Hibernia for Ireland. Hibernia is said to be derived from a Phoenician word meaning "farthest habitation," there being no country known to them west of Erin.

Portugal obtained its name from Porto, the haven or port where the Gauls landed their stores. This is Oporto, called by the Portuguese O Porto (the port). The town was given a dowry to Teresa when she married Henry of Lorraine, who styled himself Earl of Portugal because the place was known as the portus Gallorum (the port of the Gauls). The name was finally extended to the whole country.

Russia took its denomination from the Rossi, or Russi, a people of the south of Russia, who possessed themselves of the country in the declining days of the Greek empire. Being the predominant inhabitants, they imposed their name on all the rest.

A Street Parable.

A little girl stood at a window blowing soap bubbles. Beneath stood a little boy, and as she blew bubbles toward him he tried to catch them. They broke and disappeared on all sides, but the two laughed and kept up the game, she smiling down and he gazing upward eagerly.

"Behold, a parable!" said a man to a woman. "The eternal relation of the sexes! You blow beautiful bubbles down to us from your height, and we weary ourselves in trying vainly to catch them. Poor little boy!"

The pair played and laughed in the sunshine until the boy grew tired. He called out "Goodbye!" gayly and ran away to play with other boys and girls in the street. The girl looked after him wistfully, a shadow on her face. She did not care to blow bubbles any more. She leaned out to watch him, and as she did so she tipped over the bowl of soapy water. She looked very long.

"Behold, a parable!" said the woman to the man. "He has tired of the game; not she. There is no other little boy to blow bubbles to, and if there were she has no pretty bubbles left to blow. Eternal relation of sexes! Poor little girl!"—New York Tribune.

Fire Among Savage Nations.

According to Pliney fire was a long time unknown to some of the ancient Egyptian tribes, and when a celebrated astronomer made them acquainted with that element and how to produce it they were wild with delight. The Persians, Phoenicians, Greeks and several other nations acknowledge that their ancestors were once without the comforts which fire bestows; the Chinese confess the same of their progenitors. Pompanon, Moia, Plutarch and other ancient writers speak of nations which, at the time when they wrote, knew not the use of fire or had just recently learned it.

The inhabitants of the Marian Islands, where were discovered in 1551, had no idea of fire or its uses. Their astonishment knew no bounds when they saw it applied to wood, most of them taking it to be some kind of an animal which the sailors had brought with them and which must be fed on wood.

All Charged but the Cork.

A good story is told of a digger who had ridden into a Western Australian town to consult a doctor. Having done so, he went to have the prescription made up.

"How much is this lot?" he asked the chemist.

"Well, let me see," was the reply. "There's seven and sixpence for the medicine and a shilling for the bottle." He hesitated, uncertain whether he had charged for everything.

"Oh, hurry up, boss," said the impatient ulcer: "put a price on the cork and let us know the worst."—London Tit-Bits.

His Gift.

The following incident is reported from one of the public schools in the poorer section of Boston:

"Say, teacher, here's a tuberose I brought you," said a smudge faced youngster the other day.

And, beaming her thanks, she asked him where he got it.

"Oh, say, dat was easy," he replied. "I got it off a dead lady!"

Blankets.

To clean dannel blankets a good way is to put two tablespoonsful of borax and a pint of soft soap into cold water sufficient to cover the blankets. When the borax and soap have dissolved, put in the blankets and let them stand overnight. The next day rub them out, rinse in two waters and hang them to dry. Never wring them.

An Apt Definition.

"What is a Bohemian?" said the young man who wants to study human nature.

"A Bohemian," answered the cold blooded friend, "is a person who always needs two or three extra indorsements on his note when he wants to borrow money."—Washington Star.

No Superstition.

"Would you start on a journey on Friday?"

"No, indeed."

"Why are people so superstitious?"

"But this has nothing to do with superstition. I get paid on Saturday."

His First Business Venture.

An American capitalist who has made a fortune running far into the millions likes to tell a story of his first business venture and how he saddened the local grocer. At this time he was fond of frequenting a public saleroom near his home where all sorts of bargains were offered:

One day I noticed several boxes of soap of a certain brand which I had often been sent to buy at the corner grocery. I thought to myself, "That will go cheap," so I ran to the grocery and received a promise from the man in charge to buy as much of the soap at a certain figure as I could furnish. Of course he never suspected that I could furnish any of it.

I returned to the saleroom, and when the soap was put up I bid it in, and it was knocked down to me. My name was demanded, and when I gave it in a shrill voice everybody laughed, for I was then only eleven years of age.

Amused as they were at the sale, the bystanders were amazed when I bid in the whole lot of twenty-two boxes. I had them carried over to the grocery and received the price agreed upon. The grocer wore a weary look when he heard how I had obtained the soap. He said:

"Well, I guess I could have done that myself."

I replied that I guessed he could, too, but he hadn't.—Youth's Companion.

Man Who Named America.

Few Americans are aware of the fact that the name of their continent is due to a German scholar. In 1507 Martin Waldseemüller, also known as Hyalomylus, of St. Die, in the Vosges, edited a book called "Cosmographie Introductio," in which he gave a translation of Amerigo Vesputi's description of his voyages.

That was just the time when Amerigo's fame filled the world, while Columbus' disgrace overshadowed his merit, and evidently his name had never reached the quiet village in the Vosges where Amerigo trumpeted forth his own glory. So Hyalomylus proposed that, since the new continent was, after all, not a part of the Indies, no name would suit it better than that of his famous explorer, Amerigo.

The book was read far and wide, and so quickly was the proposition accepted that, when later on the true discoverer was known, the name was already rooted too deeply in general use to be abolished, and was even extended to the north part of the continent, while Hyalomylus had only meant it for the present South America.—National Geographic Magazine.

For Tired Eyes.

Eyes will be greatly strengthened by putting the face down into a glass or cypress of water the first thing in the morning and opening them under water. This is somewhat difficult to do at first, but if the water for two or three days be tepid and gradually made colder by imperceptible degrees until it is no shock to put the face into quite cold water it will soon become quite easy and is very invigorating and refreshing.

If done regularly every day, this treatment alone will preserve the sight into quite old age. There is a right and wrong way of wiping the eyes after this, too, and the right way is to pass the soft towel very gently from the outer angle inward toward the nose.

If after a long day the eyes feel so hot and tired that they seem dim when one tries to read or to do a little necessary sewing for oneself, they should be bathed with cold tea from which the leaves have been removed.

It Jarred Him.

"Pleasant offices you have here," said a policy holder who visited a life insurance office in the Post Telegraph building in New York to pay his premium. The windows overlook the City Hall park and the Nathan Hale statue.

"Yes," replied the insurance man, "but the inscription on that Hale statue, patriotic and inspiring though it is, strikes a discordant note in the soul of one who is underwriting risks on men's lives. Look at it—My only regret is that I have but one life to give in defense of my country."—New York Times.

Dealing in Futures.

Mr. Newed—I have an option on that Blank avenue house. How would you like it for our home, my dear?

Mrs. Newed—Oh, it's a pretty place, but you know it is said to be haunted. Mamma says she wouldn't set her foot inside the door for any amount of money.

Mr. Newed—That settles it. I'll close the deal for it the first thing in the morning.—Chicago News.

Arab Music.

Arab music has been described as the singing of a prima donna who has ruptured her voice in trying to sing a duet with herself. Each note starts from somewhere between a sharp and a flat, but does not stop even there and splits up into four or more portions, of which no person can be expected to catch more than one at a time.

To Save Time.

Visitor—No, I won't come in. Could I see Mr. Jones for two minutes?

Servant—What name shall I say, sir?

Visitor—Professor Vondersplinkentoo-theimer.

Servant—Och, sure y'd better step in and bring it wid y're, sorr!—Punch.

Not Necessary.

"When you are at a loss for a suitable word, do you ever apply to your wife?"

"No," replied the writer; "I don't have to. Her entire vocabulary is coming my way most of the time."—Chicago Post.

Striking a Light With a Popgun.

The inhabitants of the countries bordering on India have their own methods of making fire. A Burmese messenger recently brought a note to an English official, and the latter observed something resembling a boy's popgun hanging by the messenger's side. Curiosity prompted him to ask the native what it was, and he was surprised to find that it was a machine for making fire.

The native exhibited the apparatus and explained the working, concluding with a practical demonstration. It was a tube, closed at one end and fitted with a piston. At the end of the piston was a groove or cavity, smeared with wax, which was used for making thread or inflammable material adhere to it. The tinder, to keep the old name, is pressed on the wax when a light is required and is not kept there always.

Placing the wisp of cotton on the wax, the native inserted the tightly fitting piston in the tube, then forced it along the latter by giving it a sharp blow. On withdrawing the piston the cotton was found to be alight, having been ignited by the concussion with the compressed air.—Pearson's Weekly.

Gulzot, Thiers and Bismarck.

One day I was invited to dinner with the Count of Enzenberg at the residence of Prince von Bismarck in Berlin. The count, a former charge d'affaires in Paris, was a great collector of autographs. After a repast the count exhibited a sheet of paper on which Gulzot and Thiers had affixed their signatures. "It is very interesting," said Prince von Bismarck. "Allow me to show this to my wife." (She was sick in bed at that time.) In a few minutes the chancellor returned, and returning the sheet of paper to the diplomat from Wurttemberg, he added, "I hope that I did not spoil it by writing something on it."

Here follows what was written on the paper:

My long life has taught me that it is necessary to forgive a good deal and forget nothing.

A little forgetfulness does not diminish the sincerity of forgiveness.

My own life has taught me that I have a great deal to forget and a great deal for which to be forgiven.

Blunt Judge Morris.

On one occasion, in trying an abduction case, Lord Morris, once chief justice of Ireland, addressed the jury as follows: "I am compelled to direct you to find a verdict of guilty in this case, but you will easily see that I think it is a trifling thing, which I regard as quite unfit to occupy my time. It is more valuable than yours. At any rate, it is much better paid for. Find, therefore, the prisoner guilty of abduction, which rests, mind you, on four points—the father was not averse, the mother was not opposed, the girl was willing and the boy was convanient."

The jury found the prisoner guilty, and the judge sentenced him to remain in the dock till the rising of the court. Hardly had he delivered sentence than, turning to the sheriff, Lord Morris said: "Let us go," and, looking at the prisoner, he called across the court, "Marry the girl at once, and God bless you both."

How High Birds Fly.

A Strassburg aeronaut says he has seen an eagle at the height of 3,000 yards, and again a pair of storks and a buzzard 900 yards above the sea level. On March 10, 1890, some aeronauts observed a lark flying at a height of 1,000 yards. On July 18, 1899, another balloon met a couple of crows at an altitude of 1,400 yards. These, however, are exceptions. Birds are hardly ever seen above a height of 1,000 yards; even above 400 yards they are not frequent.

A Relic of Peter the Great.

The cottage where Peter the Great dwelt when he was learning the trade of shipbuilding in Zaanradam, Holland, still exists, though somewhat dilapidated. It contains the rude furniture which the great Peter used—a bedstead, table and two chairs. It is incased in a building erected for the purpose, and over the mantle is a tablet erected by Alexander of Russia in 1814.

Pacing a Natural Gait.

The pacer habit is common among animals, says a writer in Scribner's Magazine. Many animals pace—cattle, for instance; and, among dogs, setters. I believe pacing to be a rather more natural gait than trotting. Trotting, as it exists in our fast horses, is scarcely a natural gait, but is rather the result of breeding and education.

A Night Light.

Some people make it a point never to retire without a light burning in the house. A bit of information worth knowing is that a small even light may be obtained from a small piece of candle all night if fine powdered salt is piled around the candle until the black part of the wick is reached.

Work For It.

Nothing that is of real worth can be achieved without courageous working. Man owes his growth chiefly to that active striving of the will, that encounter with difficulty, which we call effort; and it is astonishing to find how often results apparently impracticable are thus made possible.

Clean as a Whistle.

The origin of the saying "as clean as a whistle" is ascribed to the "whistle tankard" of olden times, in which the whistle came into play when the tankard was emptied or "cleared out" to announce to the waiter that more liquor was required.

Under the mogul emperors extensive systems of roads were constructed in India connecting all leading points in the peninsula.

Happy Thought of a Man in a Fix.

An operator for a western railroad who had served his company long and well was called into the office one day and asked if he thought he could hold down the job of night dispatcher. He promptly replied that he could and was told to report for duty that night, and his chief instructed him in what he was to do. Just after the chief left the office it began to blow and snow, and the trains commenced to run late. The new night dispatcher soon had developed a bad case of "rattles" and almost cried. He did not want an accident, and he could not handle the trains. So a happy thought struck him. As fast as a report came in he replied, directing the conductor to take a siding and wait for orders, and it was not a great while until he had every train on the division sidetracked. Then he took a book, lighted his pipe and sat down to wait for daylight. In the morning the chief appeared with anxiety written all over his face.

"Any accidents, Johnny?" asked the chief.

"Not an accident. I've got 'em all on the sidetrack, snowed in and waiting for orders, and you will have to get 'em out. I am going to blow this job." It took the chief and his force nearly all day to get the trains straightened out and traffic resumed on the road.—Indianapolis News.

False Tails For Horses.

False tails are extensively made for horses, old favorites especially, whose caudal appendages present a wornout and moth eaten appearance, like Petruchio's "old mothy saddle," and his prodigiously mothy get up ("Taming of the Shrew," III, 2). They are also worn by funeral horses, and by other horses of exquisite outline selected for a particular kind of work, but which are somewhat spoiled in appearance by the possession of a rat tail (said, like a rat's). These useful appliances, however, are not constructed exclusively for harness horses. I have seen rows of bogus tails, artistically joined on to the crupper, hanging up in a cavalry barracks ready for instant service, being slipped on just like a finger stall. The "fine ends" or false tails used by nobody but "horse copers" or low swindlers are most ingeniously fastened on the animal's bare back by invisible means. A dealer in horses never looks at a horse with a bad tail, and he always goes to the best market only.—Chambers' Journal.

Robins Play at Being Dead.

One morning a well known naturalist was greatly surprised to see a robin lying on his back evidently dead, being rapidly pulled round and round by another bird of the same species.

The naturalist at once came to the conclusion that he had come in time to witness the end of a deadly encounter, and that the live robin was indulging in the cruel triumph of dragging his victim's lifeless body over the stones.

But he was mistaken, for suddenly the live bird went down upon his back, his wings and legs were stiffened, and he gave every appearance of being dead, while the other robin who had been shamming death hopped on his legs and proceeded to serve his companion in the same way as he had done him. Finally the two birds flew away together to a neighboring tree.

How the People of Sangir Keep Time.

The people of Sangir, an island of the Malay archipelago, keep time by the aid of an hourglass formed by arranging two bottles neck to neck. The sand runs out in half an hour, when the bottles are reversed. Close by them a line is stretched, on which hang twelve sticks marked with notches from one to twelve, with a hooked stick, which is placed between the hour last struck and the next one. One of these glasses keeps the time for each village, for which purpose the hours are sounded on a gong by a keeper.

Four Kinds of Pupils.

The Talmud says there are four kinds of pupils—the sponge and the funnel, the strainer and the sieve. The sponge is he who taketh up everything, and the funnel is he who taketh in at this ear and letteth out at that; the strainer is he that letteth go the wine and retaineth the dross, and the sieve is he that letteth go the bran and retaineth the fine flour. The student who begins at least to wish to belong to the last named class will not have been sent to college in vain.

His Watchdog.

Mrs. Suburb—Oh, my dear, that magnificent watchdog you brought home yesterday is gone.

Mr. Suburb—Eh? Did he break the chain?

"No; but an ugly looking tramp came around and acted so terribly that I let the dog loose, but instead of tearing the tramp to pieces he went off with him."

"Great Scott! It must have been the same tramp I bought him of."

A Little Sarcasm.

Mild (to lady at door)—Mrs. Spencer is not at home.

Caller (who knows differently)—Oh, I'm so sorry! But never mind. Tell Mrs. Spencer when she comes in that I called to say that I'm awfully glad she goes out more than she did. I've always wondered why she kept herself cooped up in the house all the time.—Boston Transcript.

Careless About Their Hair.

Peasant women in Siberia wear shawls or kerchiefs on their heads, while the rich women wear no head covering whatever. A traveler recently returned from that part of the world says that a Russian woman who is otherwise trim and modern in dress will go about with her hair disheveled to the point of the ludicrous.

Literary Notes.

The Unique Monthly for November contains a forecast of progress in the next quarter century, an article on flash light photography and its usual collection of clever stories. 5 cents.

The first number of Lasell Leaves for the 27th volume is just received, and is just as bright and clever as ever.

The Twentieth Century.

The advent of the new century is to be commemorated by the Newton Graphic in the publication of a handsomely bound volume, entitled, "Newton, The Garden City of the Commonwealth, 1874-1901." It will contain valuable and interesting historical matter, fully illustrated with half tone engravings of churches, schools, residences, street views, parks, etc. The history will tell of leading events, characters and progress of the city, and the many advantages of Newton as a beautiful and desirable place of residence will be fully shown. The volume will also contain the portraits and biographies of representative men who, in their lives, their work or their influence have made Newton of today the garden city of the Commonwealth and of New England.

It is believed that such a work will commend itself to the citizens of Newton as bringing together a carefully collated record of the lives of men who have contributed to the welfare of our city; men of whom we are justly proud as educators, lawyers, physicians, clergymen and men of affairs.

Such a publication at this time will give to the present, as up to date account of the city and will bequeath to the future a legacy of what Newton was at the beginning of what promises to be a most remarkable century. 1t

AN OVERWORKED PHRASE.

The Expression "He Took His Life in His Hands."

"The expression 'he took his life in his hands' always struck me as being very foolish," said a bright young gentleman, "and I have often wondered why so many persons persist in using it when they want to speak of extraordinary dangers. Now, extraordinary danger is one thing and the simple, commonplace thing of taking one's own life in one's hands is an entirely different thing."

"I work in a big building. There are a steam engine and a mammoth boiler in the basement. Whenever I enter that building, if they are running the engine in the basement, I take my life in my hands. I get on the elevator on the fifth floor; I take my life in my hands. I go out of town; the car may tumble over a trestle somewhere. I walk along the street; a sign may fall on me. I make my way across the thoroughfare; who knows but what a street car or a vehicle of some sort may not run me down? I cross the river; may I not suddenly find myself in the swirling stream and sinking for the last time? If I walk along the street, may not a brick or a loosened cornice come crashing down upon me? There are a row and a shot or two on the corner; may not a stray bullet wing me? And so on."

"Pessimism? No. Logic. That's all. It just shows the difference between taking one's own life in one's hands and the matter of confronting extraordinary danger. These risks are ordinary, plain, old, everyday risks. The dreamer who dashes into a burning building to rescue a child, the fellow who grabs the bridle of a runaway horse, the hero who will plunge into the river to save some person who is about to drown—these are the persons who confront what I would call extraordinary dangers, and the worn platitude of saying of one of these 'he took his life in his hands' would not fit the case because there would be in the act an element of heroism which would place it much above the commonplace."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

HOYT'S JOKE ON M'KEE.

How the Playwright Had a Bit of Fun With His Manager.

On one occasion Manager McKee was watching a performance from a box, where he was seated with some friends.

During the first act an usher came to him with the information that a gentleman was waiting at the door to see him on most important business.

"Tell him I can't come out—I'm very busy," was the answer.

The usher returned in a moment to say that the man insisted on seeing Mr. McKee, who again sent out word that it was impossible to see him.

The man outside then sent in the message that he was an author and had a play that he wished McKee to read immediately.

This incensed the manager, who said to the usher:

"Tell that fool out there that this is no time to bring a play to be read. Get him out of the place—I won't see him. I won't read his play."

A few minutes later the usher came back and informed McKee that the man utterly refused to go without seeing him, and that he must be granted an interview, also that he was quite sure that the manager would not only read his play, but he would also produce it, and added that he would bet $1,000 that Hoyt & McKee would be only too glad to get the play.

At that McKee became furiously angry, and, excusing himself to his party, left the box with the intention of personally inviting the persistent author to begone.

"Where's that idiot who insists on seeing me?" he asked of the treasurer at the box office. Then the treasurer pointed to a man standing in the shadow with a roll of manuscript under his arm.

It was Hoyt, with his newly finished play, which he handed to McKee, who said to those present:

"It's on me—what'll you have, boys?"—New York Clipper.

Odors That Permeate Foodstuffs.

A fish dealer in one of the most stylish parts of New York was deeply hurt and badly worried one day by the complaint of one of his big customers that in the salmon which he had sent to the house for a big dinner had proved to be entirely unpalatable when served owing to a most penetrating taste of creosote that pervaded it. The fish dealer realized, although the charge was not made directly, that he was more than suspected of having sold a stale fish that had been washed or brushed with an antiseptic preparation to hide its condition. He knew that the salmon had been perfectly fresh when he sold it, and for days he puzzled in vain over the problem. But suddenly he remembered that on the day the fish was sent out a tank wagon full of creosote had stopped before his place and that his cart, into which the fish was being placed, was directly alongside of the powerful stuff. That appears to have been enough to permeate the delicate flesh of the fish.—New York Press.

"I have found a cure," said a physician, "for a person who isn't chronically afflicted with insomnia, but who temporarily cannot sleep. It is a curious thing that the picture of a person yawning will almost invariably induce sleep."

"Try it yourself some time if you come across such a photograph. For the life of you you can't help yawning, after a moment, and persistent gazing at the sleepy head will almost inevitably send you to the couch for a nap."—New York Times.

MEMORY'S PRANKS.

Why Do We Remember Certain Things and Forget Others?

The vagaries of memory are some of the most interesting of those connected with the human mind and body. Why do we forget certain things and remember others? Myriads of these irregularities are as yet unaccounted for. Perhaps not even the cleverest metaphysician will ever account for them.

Professor James reminds us how something which we have tried in vain to recall will afterward, when we have given up the attempt, "saunter into the mind," as Emerson says, as innocently as if it had never been summoned.

Again, bygone experiences will revive after years of oblivion, often as the result of some cerebral disease or accident.

Such a case is the one quoted by Coleridge of a young woman in Germany who could neither read nor write, but who was said to be possessed of a devil because, in a fever, she was heard raving in Latin, Greek and in an obscure rabbinical dialect of Hebrew. Whole pages of her talk were written down and were found to consist of sentences intelligible in themselves, but not having the slightest connection with one another. To say that she was possessed of a devil was the easiest way of accounting for the matter.

At last the mystery was cleared up by a physician, who traced back the girl's history until he learned that at the age of nine she was taken to live at the house of an old pastor, a great Hebrew scholar, and that she remained there until the pastor's death. It had been for years the old man's custom to walk up and down a passage near the kitchen and read to himself in a loud voice.

His books were examined, and among them many of the passages taken down at the young woman's bedside were identified. The theory of demoniacal possession was abandoned.—Youth's Companion.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Mix stove blacking with a little ammonia to prevent it burning off.

A teakettle should never be allowed to stand on the side of the fire with a small quantity of water in it.

A rose potpourri is made by packing fresh rose petals in salt, a layer of the petals, then a layer of salt, and keeping them covered for six months.

A convenient substitute for a cork-screw when the latter is not at hand may be found in the use of a common screw with an attached string to pull the cork.

For ink stains on furniture add six drops of niter to a teaspoonful of water and apply it to the stain with a feather. If the stain does not yield to the first application, make it stronger and repeat the process.

Stains on silverware require prompt attention, otherwise it will take a long time to remove them. Sulphuric acid will remove the stain left by medicine. Dip the spoon in the acid, repeating the process until the stain has disappeared; then wash in very hot water.

Diluting Tea.

Few housekeepers remember, as they should, that when it is necessary to dilute strong tea it should be done with water at the boiling point. The poor flavor of tea, made strong at first and then reduced, such as is too often served at receptions and "at homes," is usually caused by the addition of hot, not boiling, water to the first infusion. A lesson in this matter may be had from the Russians, who serve the most delicious tea in the world, and who prepare it first very strong, making it almost an essence of tea. This is diluted to the strength wished, with water kept boiling in the samovar. This water is not allowed to boil and reboil, but is renewed as needed. Freshly boiled water is insisted upon by all connoisseurs in tea-making.

Ceilings and Ventilation.

Rooms with low ceilings or with ceilings even with the window tops are susceptible of more perfect ventilation than those with high ceilings. In such rooms the leakage at the windows, which is constantly going on, keeps the air in motion throughout the room, whereas if the ceiling is higher only the lower part of the air is moved, and an inverted lake of foul and hot air is left floating in the space above the window tops. This lake, under the law of diffusion of gases, keeps actively at work, fouling the fresh currents circulating beneath it.

Longevity of Irish Peasants.

It is curious to notice the great number of centenarians whose deaths are recorded in the official returns of Irish rural districts. As an instance of the longevity of the Irish peasant it may be pointed out that the death of persons upward of sixty years of age registered in Connought last year amounted to over 50 per cent of the entire deaths of the province.

Hospital Sunday, Nov. 24, 1901.

In their well wishing and well doing we find expressed the practical benevolence of our citizens in support of the Newton Hospital.

To the trustees belongs the responsibility of judicious and economical management and equally so the obligation to keep informed the interested friends to whom appeals in behalf of the Hospital are made. We respectfully submit the following immediate and near future necessities:

Partial and Non-paying Patients. As will be learned from a careful reading of the comprehensive statement prepared by the Hospital Aid Association and here attached, very nearly the entire amount contributed by the churches is expended for the benefit of partial and non-paying patients, which service is gladly rendered and regarded as the most important feature of our work.
 New and Complete System of Sewerage. No arguments are required to justify the earliest possible connection with an extension of the main sewer, already ordered and soon to be constructed by the city particularly for use of the Hospital, and thus for the sanitary benefit of all. To provide for our position of this work an especial appropriation will be necessary. The Thayer Ward for Men. This ward, formerly of wood, and destroyed by fire in June, is now about to be replaced by brick construction. Any delay in rebuilding would have seriously interfered with the efficiency of our work, as only in temporary way was it possible to provide for those who would naturally be there accommodated. To this promptly replace has been upon our resources, even to the use of our Emergency Fund, and the Contagious Wards. These buildings, recently constructed in the most thorough manner by the city, are now being in part fitted by the Hospital. In this modern and complete equipment, our citizens are protected to the fullest possible extent against the spread of contagious disease. The city has done well its part; and our co-operation, which is essential, means an immediate expenditure, which must be provided for.
 The church contribution of last year amounted to $8,275.63. Is it unreasonable for us to request an increase of at least twenty-five per cent? We hope every facility for contributing may be provided. In order to avoid any possibility of chance for disappointment, either to those generously desiring to give or to the Hospital rightfully expecting to receive. Checks may be made payable to George S. Bullens, Treasurer.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.
 "The past year in particular has been one of peace and plenty. We have prospered in things material, and have been able to work for our own uplifting in things intellectual and spiritual. Let us remember that, as much has been given us, much will be expected from us, and that true house come from the heart as well as from the lips, and shows itself in deeds. We can best prove our thankfulness to the Almighty by the way in which on this earth and at this time each of us does his duty to his fellow-men."

COURT BUSY.

Fully 100 Seek It To Be Naturalized.

Extra Session Demanded To Handle All Cases.

"Foreign princes, potentates and sovereigns, whatever" have been renounced and abjured" in unprecedentedly large numbers in Judge J. C. Kennedy's court during the past two weeks. In fact since early fall cases of this character have come before his honor from day to day, but more recently has it been found necessary to extend sessions and appoint special hours.

It is a burden that has fallen alike upon Judge Kennedy and Clerk Henry L. Whittlesey, but so carefully has his honor guarded the country's interest as well as that of the individual, this unusual amount of extra business has been most speedily and satisfactorily handled.

In itself the process of naturalization, barring the clerical work, is a simple matter, but Judge Kennedy is exacting and does not, until he is thoroughly satisfied, permit an applicant to take the oath.

From Nov. 13 to Nov. 20, there were 100 cases. Of this number more than 75 became citizens, while the first papers of others were accepted and two rejected.

In addition to lengthening the daily morning sessions of the court, Judge Kennedy held an extra session last Saturday afternoon. Clerk Whittlesey has been at his office evenings in order that papers might be taken out.

Nearly all of these citizens were registered voters of this city soon after receiving their papers from the court.

Harding of Jewett street has in his possession an interesting reminder of the trying ordeal to which the Transcript was subjected twenty-nine years ago Saturday, when the great fire left its entire printing plant a mass of ruins. It was picked up on the site of the Transcript Building when the debris was cleared away, and made into a paper weight by simply adding a handle of brass. Its dimensions, 3 1/2 x 3 1/2 inches, admirably adapting it to that purpose. The edges give a sectional view of how types lie in the case which could be obtained in no other way.

City Hall Notes.

Registration closed last Wednesday night, 300 names being added to the male list, and 87 to the women's, making the totals 5900 and 625 respectively. The largest registration occurs in what may be termed the most democratic precincts, 42 in Precinct 1, Ward 2, 65 in Precinct 1, Ward 3, and 46 in Precinct 1, Ward 4, being the banner precincts. A significant feature of the registration is the fact that 121 of the above number were naturalized citizens.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Large Sums Appropriated at a Comparatively Short Session.

Over $1,300,000.00 Voted for 1902 Expenses, New Mason School, Washington St. Loan and Sewer Work.

The most important meeting of the Board for the whole year was held last Monday evening, with President Bailey in the chair and Aldermen Brown, Ensign, Fisher, Hubbard, Hutchinson, Lothrop, Lowe, Lyman, Mellen, Norris, Pond, Pulsifer, Saltonstall, Stickney, Trowbridge, Wardwell, Weed and Weeks being present.

At a hearing upon laying concrete sidewalks on Charlesbank road under the betterment a letter was read from Mrs. W. A. Merritt and the hearing closed.

FROM THE MAYOR.

The following communication from the Mayor was referred to the committee on fire department:

To the Board of Aldermen:

Gentlemen:—It is my painful duty to announce the death of Mr. F. H. Humphrey, assistant chief of the fire department. In answer to a call from box 245 at 5.07 o'clock last Tuesday evening, Capt. Humphrey was proceeding with the chief of the fire department and received a fatal injury by colliding with a team at the intersection of Waltham and Washington streets, West Newton. He was at once removed to the Newton Hospital and died at 10.30 o'clock.

This man had greatly honored the position which he held, and was a most faithful and loyal public servant. I can not say more to indicate the esteem in which he is held than these words convey, and the matter is communicated to you for such action as you may deem proper.

Respectfully yours,

Edward L. Pickard, Mayor.

The public buildings commissioner presented the appropriation of J. P. Robertson to erect a manufactory on Charles street, which was granted.

A protest of Folsom et al against a street railway location through Waban was referred to the street railway committee.

Petitions of Coffin & Taber for street lights on Reservoir avenue and of the Gas Co. for pole locations on Dudley street were referred to the street light committee, a hearing being ordered on the latter for Nov. 29. Petition of Ayer et al for a sewer in Lakewood road was referred to the sewer committee, and an order for $860 additional for the Tremont street drain was referred to the finance and highway committees jointly.

ORDINANCES: Favorable to extension of "snow" ordinance to Precinct 2, Ward 3.

A majority report of the finance committee, inexpedient on granting permanent fire men one day off in ten was tabled on motion of Alderman Hubbard.

ORDERS.

The following orders were adopted: Granting $54,440.04 for city expenses to Dec. 15th; appropriating $500 additional for Almshouse expenses; $2000 additional for Poor out of Almshouse; $1000 additional for Newton Hospital; authorizing division of sewer assessments between sinking fund and construction accounts; abating sewer assessments on city property on Manet and Virginia roads; appropriating $250 for examination of Treasurer's books; authorizing $35,000 Washington street loan; authorizing $50,000 sewer loan; and authorizing concrete sidewalks on Charlesbank road under betterment act.

An ordinance requiring removal of snow from concrete walks in Precinct 2, Ward 3, was referred for approval of City Solicitor and printing.

MASON SCHOOL.

An order appropriating $130,000 for the erection of the new Mason school under modified plans of Hartwell, Richardson & Driver was presented, and an amendment of $134,000 offered by Alderman Weed.

Alderman Weed then said that this matter had been carefully considered by the Public Property Committee, the original bids being about $100,000; this amount had been reduced to $140,000 by changes in plans and the finance committee had then been able to still further reduce the cost to a little under $134,000. The figure of $130,000 was nothing but guess work. To erect the building under present plans and bids will cost $134,000. The board should either grant this sum or reopen the whole matter. The latter course will cause considerable delay and may throw it over into next year.

Alderman Weeks said that there was no disposition of the finance committee to hang the matter up, but they wanted the best building at the lowest possible cost. The location demanded one of the finest buildings in the city, and the clock tower feature had been retained on that account. The figures on the Auburndale school indicate that a building double the size ought to be built for $118,000 and $12,000 more had been conceded by the committee. In obtaining the $134,000 figure the general contractor only had been consulted and contractors on other items had not been seen.

Alderman Lothrop believed $130,000 for a 16 room grammar school to be a liberal sum, and believed it could be erected for less as favored were not busy. He suggested a readvertisement for bids on the modified plans.

In answer to questions Alderman Weed said that he believed the figures on the items outside the general contract would be little changed by the modified plans, although the plumbing might be increased.

Alderman Hutchinson said the total cost of the three new school buildings now exceeded the estimate of the select committee by $50,000 and he thought $130,000 a perfectly safe figure.

Alderman Weed characterized the $130,000 figure as pure and unadulterated guess work and believed that progress would only be made by taking a definite figure.

Alderman Mellen believed it fair to all to bid over again and that contractors will recognize that $130,000 was the city's limit.

Alderman Fisher said that the next lowest bidder, only $75 higher on red brick and $1,100 lower on buff brick asked an opportunity to submit bids on the modified plans. He believed it unfair to bidders and tax payers not to readvertise and that the city would lose nothing by new bids.

Alderman Weed said the allowances made by lowest bidder were considered fair and Alderman Lothrop agreed that in the few instances he had investigated he had found them very fair. Alderman Lothrop also said that the finance committee was trying to get the most for the money.

Alderman Brown called attention to the fact that the general contractor was more or less dependent on the matter of allowances by the figures submitted to him from sub-contractors.

Alderman Stickney resented the statement that the finance committee was the only committee working for the best interests of the city, and believed that the public property committee was just as earnest in its efforts in this matter.

Alderman Weed's amendment of $134,000 was then carried and the amended order unanimously adopted.

The order authorizing a loan of $137,000 for the new Mason school was amended to $141,000 and also adopted.

A recess was then taken to allow committee meetings, and upon re-assembling an order for $800 additional for the Tremont street drain being favorably reported was adopted.

RESOLUTIONS.

The fire department committee reported the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

In the fullness of health, in the performance of duty, in the fulfillment of a decree known only in the intuitive wisdom of the divine Creator, there came to his death, on Tuesday, Nov. 12th, 1901, Francis H. Humphrey, assistant chief of the Newton Fire Department, and it is therefore

RESOLVED, That this Board accord this fitting recognition of those qualities of mainly excellence—in his loyalty to his superiors, as alike his just consideration of the welfare of his subordinates—his prompt and cheerful attention to duty and observance of the highest aims as the standard of official action toward whomsoever concerned.

RESOLVED, That this Board tender its deepest sympathy to the widow of the deceased in her bereavement.

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be made a part of the record of this meeting and that a copy be sent to the widow of the deceased.

THE BUDGET.

The consideration of the appropriations for 1902 was then taken up. Alderman Weeks, explaining any changes made in the various departments in their order.

In the charity department, the estimated receipts had been deducted from the item of Out Door Poor, and a slight increase granted for clerical work.

Alderman Saltonstall questioned the amount for telephone rates in the City Messenger's department, and it was learned that the price was $90 per instrument, one third off, the contract expiring May 1st.

In the fire department the finance committee had eliminated the item to provide one day off in ten.

In the police department, a slight misunderstanding required a small increase of $194.50 for the reserve patrolmen, which was granted. Alderman Weeks explained that the committee opposed any increase in present force as the line must be drawn somewhere and the appropriation for this department had doubled within ten years.

In the street department the committee had struck out the special street and drain items and increased those of drains and culverts and general repairs to some extent.

Alderman Hutchinson believed the special items were needed and if policy was to be changed in this respect, it should be left until next year.

Alderman Weeks stated that the matter had been left in the very best possible shape for the street commissioner to use the money where it was most needed. The matter of ward lines always entered into special items and he favored general appropriations.

Alderman Lothrop called attention to the probable expense of $22,000 for draining Boylston street and favored the general form.

The consideration of the budget covered less than an hour and the order carrying an appropriation of $1,110,123.92 was unanimously adopted.

Orders adopting $271,210 as the estimate of receipts for 1902 and establishing rate of interest on unpaid taxes were also adopted, and at 10.35 o'clock the board adjourned.

Zinc and grinding double the wear.

The membership limit of the Woodland Golf Club has been increased to 175.

Congregational Club.

The eighty-sixth regular meeting of the Newton Congregational Club was held last Monday evening at the Woodland Park Hotel, Auburndale. The parlors were open to members of the Club at five o'clock and supper was served at six o'clock with a good attendance.

About an hour later the business meeting was called to order by Rev. E. M. Noyes, the president. The treasurer, Mr. L. E. Moore, reported the total receipts for the year as $241.93, the total expense $222.80, leaving a balance on hand of $19.13. The most important matter was to take action regarding the future of the Club and whether it was thought advisable to continue it. On motion of Rev. Dr. Peloubet the matter was taken up for discussion and resulted in the executive committee with President Noyes as chairman, being appointed to arrange for a meeting at a later date in one of the seven Congregational churches of the city, all members of the congregations to be invited to attend and that the charge for supper be 50 cents per plate.

The guest of the evening, Rev. Charles A. Dinmore, pastor of Phillips church, South Boston, was then introduced and gave a scholarly and intensely interesting address on "Christianity's Supreme Poet," who he stated, was Dante. The three supreme poets were Homer, Dante and Shakespeare; Goethe never claiming the right to stand in that circle. Shakespeare is the delineator of passion, the speaker said while Dante the Florentine nobleman and statesman was zealous in advocating individual sweetness of spirit and nearness to the spiritual world, a prophet who saw deeply into the light of truth.

Dante is sometimes compared to Isaiah of the olden time, and to Jonathan Edwards of more modern times but he was different from both for he took a firm stand not so much by the side of God as that of man knowing his greatness and power to overcome the ills of life. Dante, who was born of knightly blood, high spirited and high minded, was exiled from home and property at an early age. He lived above his misfortunes believing that free will was God's greatest gift to humanity, and his work was a comedy for it was carried through to a final issue and a happy ending. The 12th and 13th century was the time of the great contest for men struggling toward God and the result was as Dante predicted. In Dante's great work he shows three periods of life, the simple childhood faith, then the time of doubt and question, and finally the religious trust and simplicity, the returning to the faith of his boyhood. He tried to show the world what sin is and how men would fear evil and turn toward righteousness. Sin is classified first as the darkness of incompleteness, then the burning fire of violence and lastly that of fraud, which chills all human sympathy, these he had the great power to portray emphasizing that the deepest sin of all was treachery against the church and state. Dante passed through all human experience, yearning for the vast and eternal and in the end came out triumphant.

Hospital Sunday, Nov. 24, 1901.

In their well wishing and well doing we find expressed the practical benevolence of our citizens in support of the Newton Hospital.

To the trustees belongs the responsibility of judicious and economical management and equally so the obligation to keep informed the interested friends to whom appeals in behalf of the Hospital are made. We respectfully submit the following immediate and near future necessities:

Partial and Non-paying Patients. As will be learned from a careful reading of the comprehensive statement prepared by the Hospital Aid Association, and here attached, very nearly the entire amount contributed by the churches is expended for the benefit of partial and non-paying patients, who are gladly rendered and regarded as the most important feature of our work.

New and Complete System of Sewerage. No arguments are required to justify the earliest possible connection with an extension of the main sewer, already ordered and soon to be constructed by the city particularly for use of the Hospital, and thus for the sanitary benefit of all. To provide for the proper disposal of the work an especial appropriation will be necessary.

The Thayer Ward for Men. This ward, formerly of wood, and destroyed by fire in June, is now about to be replaced by brick construction. Any delay in rebuilding would have seriously interfered with the efficiency of our work, as only in a temporary way was it possible to provide for those who would naturally be there accommodated. To thus promptly replace has drawn upon our resources, even to the use of our Emergency Funds entire.

The Contagious Wards. These buildings, recently constructed in the most thorough manner by the city, are now being in part fitted by the Hospital. In this modern and complete equipment our citizens are protected to the fullest possible extent against the spread of contagious disease. The city has done well in this; and our co-operation, which is essential, means an immediate expenditure, which must be provided for.

The church contribution of last year amounted to $8,275.83. Is it unreasonable for us to request an increase of at least twenty-five per cent? We hope every facility for contributing may be provided, in order to avoid any possibility of disappointment, either to those generously desiring to give or to the Hospital rightfully expecting to receive. Checks may be made payable to George S. Hullens, treasurer.

"The past year in particular has been one of peace and plenty. We have prospered in things material, and have been able to work for our own uplifting in things intellectual and spiritual. Let us remember that, as much has been given us, much will be expected from us, and that true homage comes from the heart as well as from the lips, and shows itself in deeds. We can best prove our thankfulness to the Almighty by the way in which on this earth and at this time each of us does his duty to his fellow-men."

For the Newton Hospital, LUTHER G. PRATT, A. LAWRENCE EDWARDS, WILLIAM P. ELLISON, EDWARD H. HARKELL, GEORGE HUTCHINSON, Finance Committee.

FAITHFUL.

Text of Rev. Mr. Jaynes' Address Last Friday, At Funeral of Assistant Chief Humphrey.

We have had a succession of wonderfully beautiful days during the month which has just passed away.

They were the death days of nature, and yet nature put on her coronation robes.

The purple hills, the ripening tints of harvest fields, the crimson and gold of foliage touched by the autumn frosts, all revealed a splendor which no spring or summer day could show.

As death deals with nature, so it deals with men. It is often the just and loving artist, bringing into the foreground of the picture the true and vital values.

Have you ever noticed how beautiful the features grow when the heart of the man stops beating?

Lines made by toil or care or suffering disappear and the white face takes on an expression of repose and contentment, oftentimes of singular majesty, as if death would vindicate its own goodness by making its work beautiful.

So, also, when a man or woman's soul is called out of the ranks of earthly service.

The minor, superficial qualities are forgotten, and memory brings into shining relief those deep, fundamental traits that determine character and measure worth.

It therefore often happens that death crowns its chosen ones with the laurel of their own essential values.

We have gathered here today to speak the brief word of tribute and to say the last farewell to one who has lived beside us and worked with us for many years.

Death has been just to him and is already emphasizing his service and his worth. His death indeed was untimely, but it has aroused within us a keener appreciation of his value as a man among men.

His official life was one of consecration. Why not call it that? We speak of the minister consecrating himself to the cause of religion. We say the true reformer or poet or artist is consecrated to his work.

Why not then say it of all men—whatever their calling—who are serving helpfully and faithfully in their time and place?

If earnestness, devotion, enthusiasm, readiness to answer the call of duty are tokens of consecration then this man was consecrated to his vocation. He loved its requirements.

He rejoiced in the dangers it furnished. He threw himself into its tasks with a thoughtlessness of himself truly inspiring to see.

The life of a fireman is full of hazards. It requires nerve and skill and an endurance of the highest order. But he, who acts as an officer in this department of public service must possess not only these qualities but also the intelligence to seize strategic moments and the ability to command men in times of great excitement.

Our assistant chief was always adequate to these demands.

He led not only by his knowledge of what to do but also by the magic power of his own example.

Was a dangerous post to be occupied? He went himself to show the way.

Was a difficult feat to be accomplished? His own hands were among the first to lay hold upon it.

Was it pain or exhaustion, or heat or cold or the risk of life itself? Who ever knew him to shrink or falter or command others to dare what he would not dare himself?

May we not say he acquitted himself, as one who understood his business, realized his responsibilities and never lowered the standards of public duty?

We hang wreaths upon the statesman's tomb and strew flowers upon the warrior's grave. Let us not forget that he who serves the world in less conspicuous ways may show an equal degree of courage and consecration and deserves no less our gratitude and praise.

But behind the official was the man. Within the uniform was the character. Too often the livery of public service conceals a nature mean and base. But here was a man whose private life conferred an added dignity to the insignia he wore. He has gone to and fro among us for half a lifetime and there is no stigma upon his name, no blot upon the escutcheon of his manhood. Every one liked him and those who knew him best loved him most.

His genial disposition always radiated its warmth wherever he went. His optimism led him to the bright side of life and there he could not grow old.

Candid, straightforward, quick to declare his convictions, and yet there was no rancor or meanness or ill-will in thought or speech.

A man of affairs—beset by numerous duties, allied to the world by many associations and companionships and yet one who loved his home, was devoted to its interests and gave to it his manhood's tenderness, loyalty and care.

and seeing the purpose of the coming soul and knowing the effort and measuring the service. He will speak the assuring words: "Thou hast been faithful over a few things. I will make thee ruler over many things. Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Into the hands of this Eternal Providence we can with perfect confidence commit the spirit of him, who lived the life of manly goodness and bravely died in the performance of duty.

Presentation to Mr. Hatch.

A very pleasant event occurred on Monday evening at the residence on Highland avenue of Mr. Edward P. Hatch, cashier of the West Newton National Bank, when the officers of Newton Chapter of Royal Arch Masons presented Mr. Hatch with a substantial testimonial of their friendship and esteem.

The gifts were of solid silver, suitably inscribed and were presented by Mr. Chas. D. Burrage, the present High Priest of the Chapter, who happily alluded to the good fellowship and harmony which prevails among the officers of the organization, and to their high regard and appreciation of the successful administration of Mr. Hatch in the past year.

The affair was a complete surprise to the recipient, but the guests were bountifully entertained by Mrs. Hatch and the occasion will be pleasantly remembered by the officers of Newton Royal Arch Chapter.

Funeral of Mrs. Dow

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor Houghton Dow, who died Nov. 14, was buried from her home in Brookline Sunday at two o'clock. Mrs. Dow, who was in her ninety-first year, was injured while driving a week before her death, and although hale and vigorous at the time, the shock proved too great and she gradually grew weaker until her death.

Her pastor, Rev. Reuben Thomas, D. D., of the Harvard church, officiated at the services at the house, while the commitment service at the family lot in Mt. Auburn was conducted by her son-in-law, Rev. Dr. Scott. The Schubert Quartet sang "Oh Paradise," "Abide with Me," and "Rock of Ages."

Mrs. Dow was a direct descendant of the Lincolnshire Houghtons in England, her grandfather, Thomas Houghton, coming to this country to become a partner of Judge Samuel Phillips, who afterward founded Andover Theological Seminary. Later Mrs. Dow's father, Thomas Houghton, Jr., became a partner of Colonel John Phillips, who in turn founded Phillips Exeter and Phillips Andover Academies. Her mother was Betsy Eckley of the Boston Eckleys. Mrs. Dow was born in Boston July 7, 1811.

On Oct. 20, 1836, she married Moses Arnold Dow, who later became one of the foremost public and philanthropic men of Charlestown. Mr. Dow was a descendant on both the paternal and maternal side of two of the oldest and most influential families in New England, his paternal grandfather being Hon. Moses Dow, who graduated from Harvard College early in the seventeenth century, was attorney general of New Hampshire, and elected a member of Congress. His maternal grandfather, Dr. Jonathan Arnold of Rhode Island, was identified with that colony's early history, being a member of the Continental Congress, and an officer in the Revolution. His grandmother, Molly Burr, was niece of President Burr, the second president of Princeton College.

The sterling qualities inherited from his ancestors added to his own force and uprightness enabled him to achieve success in literary lines. His editor's tastes led him to follow the same calling as his elder brother, James Burrill Dow, and his cousin, George William Curtis, the famous editor of Harper's Magazine.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow had three children—James, who died in infancy; Mary, the wife of Rev. G. R. W. Scott, D. D., of this city, and Emma, wife of Leonard F. Cutter of Brookline. Five grandchildren remain—George Dow Scott, Arnold Scott, Lillian Arnold Cutter Charles Winthrop Cutter and Irving Taylor Cutter.

In three days the child was wearing her shoe as usual and with absolutely no discomfort. Mr. Powell is a well known merchant of Portland, Me.

Family cares and duties do not weigh down the well woman, and the children are never in her way. But when the womanly health fails, and there is a constant struggle with weakness and pain, household duties are a burden almost past bearing, and children are a ceaseless annoyance and worry.

Weak women are made strong and sick women are made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries disagreeable drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I had been ailing some time, troubled with female weakness," writes Mrs. Wm. H. Johnson, of Avondale, Chester Co., Pa. "Every month I would have to lie on my back. I tried many different medicines and nothing gave me relief until I began Dr. Pierce's medicine, using two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have cured me. When I began your treatment I was not able to do very much, but now I do the work for my family of nine, and feel better today than I have for a year. I thank you, doctor, from the bottom of my heart, for well do I know that you are the one who cured me."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

VOTE FOR

JOHN W. WEEKS

For Mayor.

Our Usual Offer.

To all new subscribers to the GRAPHIC we offer the paper free until January 1, 1902.

There can be nothing more reasonable in price than fourteen months of the best and strongest paper in the city, covering all the local gossip and intelligent municipal news, for the small sum of two dollars.

MR. BAKER.

We have such unbounded confidence in the intelligence of the voters of this city, that it hardly seems necessary to call attention to the inconsistent and illogical attitude assumed by Mr. William H. Baker, the Democratic candidate for mayor.

It may be of passing interest, however, to point out a few of the most glaring fallacies and show the insincerity behind them.

Mr. Baker is a strong advocate of a reduction in the tax rate, and at the same time urges the adoption of the eight hour law for city laborers and an increase of pay to $2 per day. We have heretofore pointed out that the present tax rate is abnormal, and will under ordinary circumstances fall to about $15.80 per $1000, in 1902. Mr. Baker's labor propositions will add $45,000 to the cost of labor in this city or 75 cents per thousand on the present valuation. The net reduction therefore in case of his election and the adoption of his ideas will be only 25 cents per $1000, as against that of $1.00 in case of his defeat.

Mr. Baker is equally emphatic in his opposition to an increase in the public debt, and in the same breath urges municipal ownership of a street lighting plant, at a cost of many thousands of dollars, and is apparently in favor of the indiscriminate erection of new school buildings all over the city.

Mr. Baker forgets that it is absolutely necessary for any mayor to receive the hearty support of the aldermen in order to introduce the radical changes he so loudly maintains. His appeal for votes assumes that his election will settle the adoption of the measures he represents. This we assure our readers is very far from the facts in the case, and a vote for Mr. Baker in the coming election will only result in the possible election of a political demagogue to the position of chief magistrate of an intelligent community.

THE CAUCUSES.

The Republican caucuses again emphasized the fact that the cumbersome machinery is entirely unnecessary. In only one ward was there a semblance of a contest and that was settled, in our opinion, by the election of the right list of delegates.

The caucuses indicate that at the convention to be held this afternoon, the following candidates will be nominated by the party.

Mayor, John W. Weeks.
Aldermen at large, Ward 1, Fred A. Hubbard; Ward 2, John P. Lathrop; Ward 3, Henry B. Day; Ward 4, Peter C. Baker; Ward 5, Walter Chesley; Ward 6, Endicott P. Saltonstall; Ward 7, Charles S. Ensign.

School committee, Ward 1, Fred H. Tucker; Ward 2, Marcus Morton; Ward 3, S. Edward Howard; Ward 6, C. M. Goddard; Ward 7, Henry E. Bothfeld.

We believe that the city should be proud of such a ticket, and that each voter should deem it an honor to cast his ballot for the above gentlemen.

THE HOSPITAL.

Hospital Sunday has again arrived and the Thanksgiving season should cause the hearts of all to soften at the appeal of the sick and injured, for more room, more nurses, and more money.

It is needless to remind the people of this good city of the peculiar claims that this hospital has upon them. We believe it only necessary to call attention to the extraordinary matters to be met this season, such as the rebuilding of the Thayer ward, the cost of connection with the sewer system and the furnishing of the new contagious wards.

With these things in mind do not let Hospital Sunday pass without some substantial contribution to the necessities of the hospital.

WOMEN FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The resolutions of the Federation of Woman's Clubs asking that the ladies be represented on the school board should appeal with special force to the voters of the city, where the fair sex have been often elected to that office. Newton is highly favored as the residence of many ladies of culture and refinement, whose acceptance of the position of members of the school committee would enhance the valuable work of that body. As there is everything to favor the proposition, and but little can be said against it, we heartily favor the election of at least two women next December.

Clubs and Lodges.

One of the most successful as well as enjoyable dances of the season was that given last Friday evening under the direction of the ladies' auxiliary to Thomas Burnett Camp in Armory hall. THE TRAINS.

TYPES OF LIFE AT THE STATION.

The trains come in.—The trains go out.—The people all do ride about. Passing by with hurrying feet. From the train, the busy street. Here every type of men you'll meet. Striving to reach the waiting train.—Hastening to leave the cars again. Every type of the nation is represented at the station.

THEY TAKE US.

There's Engineers on Life's long train. Who speed the thrumming wheels for gain. And Firemen, too, who stoke the fire. To heat the wheels at our desire. Conductors, too, to take the pay. And brakemen strong, to check the way. There's baggage men, to care for things. For trunks, and bags, which each one brings. These are the men who take us, leading to the Fates, we make us.

1st TRAIN—WORKERS.

Tired men, each face a page of care. With labor's lines all written there. By cruel grind, and hours too long. In clothing stained with dust and oil. Their calloused hands made hard with toil. These strike and strive, and work for bread. While every brighter hour seems dead. This is the train of workers.

2nd TRAIN—CLERKS.

Tale faced men, clothes splashed with ink. With anxious lines all written there. With busy stiff forms, with stooping back. With brains in torture, mental rack. Caused by lines and rows in black. Scratched with the pen, the killing pen. Which scratches out the lives of men. This is the train of clerks.

3rd TRAIN—SHIRKERS.

Idle folk, duds, dolls, and dandies, too. With cash to spend, and time to do. In gilt and show, these gossamer things. Have the rustle of Angel's wings. But not the good that comes from being. And not the gentle guileless air. Which those celestial seraphs wear. This is the train of shirkers.

4th TRAIN—WEALTHIES.

Pompous men, proud and grave and grand. The pockets, and the power to hand. These wield the cash, and power too. With influence big, though numbers few. They talk of bonds, and stocks, and stocks. To boarding wealth, they live to grow. In getting, having, keeping, good. This is the train of wealthies.

5th TRAIN—STEALTHIES.

Evil men, keen, and quick, and cool. Graduates in crime, and high school. There's many a trick to this train being. Expert in ways all vile and strong. Cheating alike on weak and strong. Or rich, or poor, or good or worse. These are the nation's greatest curse. This is the train of stealthies.

6th TRAIN—TRADIES.

Restless and quick to dare and do. And bound to put industries through. And bound to start the wheels of work. Never to tire, never to shirk. These guide and lead the nation's clerk. They give, they trade, they buy, they sell. They see themselves that all goes well. This is the train of tradies.

7th TRAIN—LADIES.

Gentle and good and pure and true. And beautiful in every view. A smiling, peaceful, virtuous hand. Strewing blessings o'er the land. The Mothers, Sisters, Teachers grand. Moulders of mind in children's hand. To teach them right, and all things pure. This is the train of ladies.

LAST TRAIN—TO HADES.

Passengers on Life's onward train. No more shall we return again. There is one thing which is most true. The grave is the station we go to. There is no more return. The road for some is hard and rough. And yet for others 'tis good enough. This is the train of Hades.

JESSE FEWKE.

NEWTON AT TWILIGHT.

For the Newton Graphic by Its Hutchinson O'Creilly, Boston.

The feathered tribe was surely mute On Newton's hills that night. The very air was hushed there, That mellow gray twilight. From Falmouth bill all Newton shore 'Neath clouds of golden sheen, And striding along my memory's halls Those thoughts of home land green.

In heart's old shelves we often find The records none may read. Recalled by scenes of stillness grand, Where loneliness can feed. 'Tis bright do seem this foreign sky My heart's strings all seem to melt. As backward years my spirit through The fur land of the Celt.

'Twas autumn in her loveliness And Newton looked serene. The moon now crowned the trees Raked to their golden green. The silvery glow her pictures fell Upon me and all round Till sadness drove the spell away. And tears unite path-ways found.

Long, long that evening's mellow light, When breathless was the air. Like silent coils will folding keep Its memories in its air. As down the hillside walked from the hill With in ritual me or in light, In spirit's music cloisters passed The bird that nature might.

Not least of bird or human voice Apparent in the trees. But haunting stars and glowing moon, Which I had in the golden glow. To paint each hill and dale, The child of a proud Celtic race The boon would gladly bail.

To roam the woody clods there there A few leaves in the air. To him with heaven above there, In heart's still lone high ways, Through dream land with glow and far, I viewed the low and high, Should beauty's prize be mine to give, Fair Newton 't would be thine.

Borrowing Habits of Poets.

On Tennyson's habit of failing to recognize clearly his own borrowings from the classical poets, Mr. Lang observes that the poets have always had a kind of regal indifference to their own lighter productions. Mr. Lang says: "Scott did not care; no, not when he found that he had unwittingly taken a line from a poem by the valet of a friend. In the preface to a little collection of verses from the novels he frankly declares that he cannot pretend to be certain which are of his own composition and which are not."

"To take an example from the level at the foot of Parnassus, I once read, in an American paper, some lines attributed to Mr. Austin Dobson. 'Not bad for Dobson,' I said freely to a friend. But it was proved on me that the rhymes were my own! A bard who forgets his own verses may be pardoned for remembering those of other people and mistaking a half line of somebody else's for his own. I dare say that Tennyson did this occasionally, but he could hardly say that 'the sun sets' without being accused of unconscious borrowing."

A Use For the Hyphen.

A teacher had just given a lesson on the hyphen, and thinking that his class understood it now, he wrote the word "birds-nest" on the blackboard. "Now, boys, why do we have a hyphen between birds and nest?" asked the teacher.

Several hands went up, and the teacher pointed to a small boy who seemed very anxious to answer. "For the birds to roost on," was the reply.—London Tit-Bits.

A Hard Problem.

First Scientist—This is a puzzling case indeed.

Second Scientist—I should say so. Why, this would puzzle an amateur scientist.—Baltimore American.

SPRINGS IN THE SEA

FRESH WATER STREAMS THAT BURST FROM THE OCEAN'S BED.

The Origin of the Underground Rivers That Have an Out-let Under the Persian Gulf Has Never Been Satisfactorily Explained.

Along the shallow bottom of the ocean, not very far from the land, a number of openings have been discovered in various parts of the world through which water as pure and fresh as that of any bubbling spring mingles with the salt water of the sea. Another remarkable class of fresh water springs is those that sink out of sight or perhaps never come to the surface, but follow hidden channels under the land and under the sea until they finally come to the open air on an island. Both of these types of underground rivers are perhaps most remarkably illustrated near and on Bahrain Island, in the Persian gulf, a place that is also noted as one of the chief sources of pearls.

Bahrain Island, the largest of the group of islands bearing that name, is about twenty miles off the coast of Arabia in the Persian gulf. As the island has almost no rainfall it is a dead level of sandy desert relieved only by palm groves and patches of vegetation where water springs to the surface from the mysterious underground channels. In many places the water does not reach the surface, but is found by sinking wells, the water being raised to the surface by donkeys and bullocks and poured into the channels from which the date palms and other crops are irrigated. These springs cannot possibly be derived from the island, and it is no more likely that they come from the sandy wastes of neighboring Arabia. The Arabian shore as far as can be seen is low and devoid of water except at El-Katif where similar springs are found.

Arabs say that these streams come straight from the Euphrates river through an underground channel by which the great river, in part, flows beneath the Persian gulf. Geologists, however, have dismissed this theory. Though the origin of the springs has not yet been satisfactorily explained, the most favored theory is that they come from the well watered slopes of the Persian mountains far to the north. If this theory is correct, it means that the rainfall sinks into the earth's crust until it reaches impermeable rock strata along which it is carried for a great distance to the south under the sea until the rock, sloping upward, again brings the water near the surface on Bahrain Island. Some of the wells that are thus supplied are enormous, and one of them, the Adari, serves for the irrigation of many miles of date palms through a canal of ancient construction. The Adari well is one of the great sights of Bahrain, being a deep basin of water 22 by 40 yards in size. The fact that it comes from a far higher source is shown by the force with which it enters the well. Divers, driven back by the strong current, are unable to reach the bottom.

There being no wells within miles of some of the coast towns of Bahrain, they obtain water from springs that issue from the bottom of the gulf not far from the shore. These springs of course have the same origin as the wells. Divers, with goatskins under their arms, dive through the salt water and fill the skins with the cold, fresh liquid at the bottom. The water obtained in this way usually contains a slight admixture of salt water, so that the mixture is just a little brackish. At some of these openings at the sea bottom the head of water entering the sea is so strong that when hollow bamboos are pushed down into the water rises through the tubes, delivering the fresh water directly into vessels that are held by men and women who are sitting in the boats that brought them from the land. The force of some of the streams as they come from the earth is so considerable that it pushes back the salt water, and the spring is not mixed with the sea water for quite a space around the place of entrance.

It has been practically determined within the past few years that the waters of a small river in West Africa which disappeared in a fresh water swamp that has no visible outlet find their way by an underground channel into the Atlantic and mingle with the sea through an opening in the bottom that has been discovered a few miles from Cape Verde. A channel has been found on the sea floor which, apparently, was cut by some fresh water stream. During some soundings that were made by 1895 for the purpose of finding and raising a broken cable the vessel engaged in the work was surrounded by swamp vegetation that was continually rising to the surface. It was evidently brought through the underground channel from the swamp.

The breaking of a cable off the mouth of the Rovuma river in East Africa has been attributed to the destructive action of a strong current of sweet water entering the sea level several miles from the land. Another remarkable example of a submarine river is found to the north of the city of Africa on the Pacific coast of South America. A river from the Andes that is gradually swallowed up in the sand has been found to make its way invisibly into the sea, with which it unites some miles from the land.—New York Sun.

Brain Weight.

It is stated by an authority that the weight of a man's brain has nothing to do with his mental power. It is a question of climate, not of intellect. The colder the climate, the greater the size of the brain. The largest heads of all are those of the Chugachmen, who live very far north, and next come the heads of the Lapps.

The Smart Set for December.

The Smart Set for December contains forty-four signed articles, stories and poems, yet it is not so much for quantity as quality that the number is notable. The leading feature is a novelette by Edward S. Van Zile, entitled "How Chopin Came to Remsen." The second contribution of length is a story in play form, entitled "The Castle-Builder." There has not in years been printed another such sensational satire. The Infanta Eulalie writes on "The American Girl," and as a companion article, Mrs. M. E. Sherwood discusses "L'Americaine," as she is found abroad, particularly in Paris. Stories that must command attention are "An Opal King," by Justus Miles Forman; "The Pathos of Being Good," by Kate Jordan; "Lord Cammarleigh's Secret," by Roy Horniman; "Art for Love's Sake," by Laura Cleveland Gaylord; "The Problem Play," by Douglas Story; "Extension Souls," by Guy Somerville; and "The Heart of the World," by Marvina Dana. Conspicuous poems are "Scapple," by Julien Gordon; "Pierrot in Autumn," by Bliss Carman; "Hammurabi," by Clinton Scollard; "The Loser," by Theodosia Garrison; "Sonnets to a Lover," by Myrtle Reed; and "Superstition," by Madison Cawein.

The Gas Commissioners have approved an issue of $50,000 additional stock, making its total capital $300,000, by the Newton and Watertown Gas Light Company, to pay for extensions and improvements since Jan. 1.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Hollis Street Theatre—No one disputes the fact that the Hollis Street Theatre is one of the very best playhouses in America and during the course of a theatrical season presents the very highest class attractions on the English-speaking stage that have assembled audiences of extraordinary size. This being known, when it is asserted that the Klaw & Erlanger company offering, "The Rogers Brothers in Washington" has broken all records of the Hollis Street some idea of the tremendous business done may be appreciated. Not only has the theatre been literally "packed to the doors," a phrase which is sometimes used with small regard to its truth, but scores of seats have been turned away. And this patronage, which is the wonder of the theatrical world, extends to the matinee performances. On last Saturday, the 16th instant, all matinee records of any kind at this theatre even of such holidays as Thanksgiving and Christmas, were surpassed by hundreds of dollars and in the evening people fairly fought to even get inside the doors. The stay of "The Rogers Brothers in Washington" at the Hollis Street Theatre is only for two weeks more.

Boston Museum—"One of the sweetest, purest pastorals ever put upon the stage" is what the Rev. Peter MacQueen, of West Somerville, one of the best known pastors of Eastern Massachusetts says, of "Sky Farm," now scoring upon its eighth week of phenomenal success at the Boston Museum. Many letters in the same vein have been received at the Boston Museum all indicative of the universal high opinion in which this latest play of Mr. Edward E. Kidder is held. Thousands have witnessed this charming play, "all sunshine and love" probably the best drama of its kind ever presented upon the American stage and each one has told of its merits to friends judging by the great demand for seats, the demand absolutely forbids the running of any special excursions or theatre parties for they could not be accommodated with seats. As the engagement at the Boston Museum is rapidly drawing to a close people who want to pass a delightful evening must secure their seats at the earliest possible opportunity. The matinee of Thanksgiving day offers a splendid chance for patrons at a distance to visit "Sky Farm" at the Boston Museum.

Children's Theatre: The universal friendliness that has been manifested towards the Children's Theatre in Huntington Chambers, 30 Huntington avenue, Boston, since it was started, has been exceedingly gratifying. The theatre is now presenting its first play, "Alice in Looking-Glass Land." Three performances a week are given, on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 4 o'clock, so as not to conflict with school hours, and Saturday afternoons at 2.30 o'clock. It is being conducted by Miss Margaret MacLaren Eager, who has a reputation in several states for her successful juvenile theatrical productions. It is her idea to give plays at this theatre of a high order and in such an attractive way that the children will be satisfied with nothing else. There has been a great demand thus early for an evening performance of the play, even if but one week is all that can be given, and so this coming week there will be an evening of "Alice in Looking-Glass Land" on Nov. 29. Besides this, attention is called to the fact that the matinee on Thanksgiving day will begin at 3 o'clock instead of 4 o'clock. On Saturday, Dec. 7, the first performance of "Little Miss Muffet's Christmas Party" will be given.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Nov. 17, 1901.

President Roosevelt has expressed himself as "sincerely hoping that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty will be promptly ratified, that the Canal bill will be passed immediately thereafter and that work may be begun on the Isthmian canal at the earliest possible date," and by inference, he has indicated that he does not consider the Panama route as requiring further consideration. These views were expressed in a conversation with Representative Hepburn, chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, and with Representative Sherman of the same committee. With regard to the Panama route, although Mr. Hepburn has stated that the government would not accept it as a gift, it must be remembered that at the time of his conversation with the President, it was known that Mr. Hutin, president of the Panama Company had refused to make a formal proposition to the Isthmian Canal Commission, and it was believed that he was acting in a most unbusinesslike manner. It is now known that Mr. Hutin has determined to present his proposition directly to the President, believing that it would have if it had been incorporated in the already voluminous report of the commission. I understand that the commission will report in favor of the Nicaraguan route, that it will recommend a canal with a bottom width of one hundred and fifty feet and a depth of thirty-five feet at mean low water, the estimated cost being about two hundred million dollars.

"Merit and merit alone will win appointments in our dependencies" were the words in which the President expressed himself to Mr. Clinton R. Woodruff, chairman of the committee on dependencies of the National Civil Service Reform League. This is quite in accordance with the policy of the President in all of his appointments. He has positively refused to appoint anyone whom he did not believe deserved the appointment from the standpoint of merit.

The tangle in the New York situation was partly unravelled Friday by the appointment of State Senator Nevada N. Stranahan, Collector of the port of New York, to succeed George E. Bidwell, the present incumbent. The appointment seems to meet with the hearty approval of the business men but it has been impossible to get any information as to the attitude of Secretary Gage. It will be remembered that Senator Platt has made the announcement that Mr. Bidwell would remain in the collectorship as long as he remained in the Senate, but he now says that, while he considers Bidwell "the best collector New York has ever had" he approves of Senator Stranahan. "No words are strong enough to describe Mr. Stranahan's fitness for the office," he replied when his opinion of the appointment was requested.

Baker Nominated.

At the Democratic city convention held in Central hall, Newtonville, Wednesday evening, William H. Baker received the nomination for mayor.

Thomas M. Spellman presided. It was voted to exclude the delegates elected at the recent caucus held in Ward 7, on the ground that it was illegally conducted. This action was protested against by John Murphy, who claimed that the caucus had been legally held.

Henry B. Day was nominated as alderman-at-large from ward 3 and John F. Lyman as alderman-at-large from ward 4. No nominations for alderman-at-large were made for wards 1, 2, 5, 6 and 7.

For school committee to serve three years, Dr. T. Morton Gallagher was nominated to represent ward 1. No nominations were made for wards 2, 3, 6 and 7. It was voted that all vacancies be filled by the chairman and secretary of the convention.

At the close of the business session Mr. Baker addressed the convention, saying in part:

Where a party, whether Democratic or Republican, has enjoyed for many years exclusive control of municipal affairs, with scarce opportunity for the people to supervise its work, such party is likely to become negligent, careless and wasteful, and unmindful of its obligations, and should be held to strict account for its stewardship.

Tammany hall and the Philadelphia ring are apt illustrations of such conditions. We assert that the Republican ward and city committees of Newton should no longer control city hall.

The public debt of Newton is larger in comparison than Boston and many of the cities of the commonwealth; but in spite of this, the debt limit has many times been overreached, while the burden on the taxpayers and still it is on the increase. Where will the end be?

The jump in the tax rate in one year from $15.20 to $16.80 per $1000, without corresponding benefits is a reminder of needed reform.

This increased rate takes from the people of the city $85,000 in excess of last year, without mentioning other amounts derived from increased assessed valuations of property and income tax.

But it is said this is not the end? That the tax rate must reach $20 per $1000! We demand in behalf of the people lower tax rates, and I pledge you if I am elected mayor of the city such steps will be immediately taken as will stop extravagance in the various departments and curtail to a large extent the needless expenditures as witnessed by the auditor's report of the year 1900.

Assessors should value property equitably and in proportion to its market value. For the purposes of assessing it is as unjust to value property at the rate of one-half its market value as it is to value it at double its market value. The first is a fraud upon the city, the second is a fraud upon the owner.

Every department at city hall shall be held responsible for its own work. Every department should be thoroughly re-organized, and, if necessary, re-organized, to the end that a satisfactory system of economy be practiced, and waste and extravagance cease. Incompetent or useless officials and clerks ought not to be on the city's payroll.

I believe the city should erect its own electric light plant, and thereby furnish to itself better service at a saving of $25,000 per annum, while in addition it will be enabled to sell its surplus electricity to the public at two-thirds of the present cost.

Better schoolhouse accommodations, an eight-hour day and summer half-holiday for laborers employed by the city, with pay at the rate of $2 a day completed the outline of the program.

Death of Thomas P. Hart.

Thomas P. Hart, an old resident of Auburndale, died Sunday morning at his home, 87 Freeman street, from heart failure, following an illness of about a week.

Mr. Hart was born in Ireland, and came to this country when a young man. The greater part of his life was passed in Auburndale, during which time he had been in the employ of the city. He was well known about the village, in whose welfare he had always taken an active part.

He was a member of Triton council, R. A., Sherwood court of Foresters of Boston and a number of other organizations. He leaves a widow, five sons and four daughters.

The funeral services occurred Tuesday morning at St. Bernard's church. Requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. L. J. O'Toole at 9 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends being present.

The pall bearers were John Hargenden, Peter Hargenden, Geo. Greene, D. J. O'Donnell, T. J. Kennedy, and D. F. Riordan, all from Triton Council, R. A. The interment was at Waltham.

Miss Margaretta Logan attracted a large and appreciative audience to her musical recital on Tuesday evening in Lincoln hall. Her program was choice, interesting and dignified. She was assisted by Dr. D. Crosby Greene, tenor; Leon Van Vliet, cello; and E. Cutter, Jr., at the piano. Miss Logan has a fine contralto voice of much purity, power, and compass, and it gave evidence of careful training and cultivation. This was very manifest in all the numbers on the program in which she took part, and especially so in the fine effects produced in the dramatic prison scene, and also in Chadwick's "Dear love, when in thine arms."

She was warmly applauded at the close of every appearance, and with Dr. Greene graciously consented to repeat the duet, "Nearest and Dearest." Dr. Greene, always a favorite, could not have been in better voice. Mr. Van Vliet, the 'celloist, drew most appealing music from his soulful instrument, Schumann's "Traumerei" and Mr. Van Vliet's accompaniment to Roband's "Alia Siella Confidete," especially in the obligato parts, were most charmingly interpreted. The sympathetic work of the accompanist at the piano added much to the success of the evening's entertainment. Repeatedly at the close of her numbers, Miss Logan received beautiful flowers. The other was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kendal, on Watertown street, and was particularly sad as it caused the death of two little children, aged three and a half and two years, respectively. The mother, being obliged to leave them alone for a few minutes about five o'clock, locked the door, leaving a lighted lamp upon the table and the baby in the cradle. It is supposed that the elder child overturned the lamp, and thus caused the conflagration. Although but three or four minutes elapsed before the mother's return it was impossible to rescue her children, and their remains were found after the fire was subdued. The house was damaged very much and the furniture a total loss, through fire and water.

Letter to J. M. Briggs & Son, Newton.

Dear Sirs: As painters you probably use lead and oil, and would naturally object to Devco lead and zinc. Let us have a few words on the subject. Painters say a good lead and oil job will last three years, and they say a house ought to be painted once in three years.

We take them to mean that their work is good for three years, no more and no less, or not much more and not much less.

Do you want your work to last longer? What do you say to six years. You'd have to have twice as much work, you know; or you'd be losing money.

Consider the case of your doctor. You call him in. Is it better for him to get your child out of bed tomorrow, or keep him sick for a month?

You prefer a quick doctor. So does everyone else in your town, and country, and state. We are all alike; we all want our doctors quick. A doctor, that gets his patients up quick, is the doctor that gets the patients—gets rich too, if he isn't run to death.

It's about the same with a painter isn't it? Suppose you paint Devco, and your competitor objects to Devco; your work lasts six years and his work three. You cost your customers half; he costs double. Who'll get the business; and who'll go to Texas?

Devco lasts six years—not exactly—we know of its lasting seventeen—and it never wears out in less than three, so far as we know. On a windy sandy seaside house, it lasts three years. Lead and oil lasts one year there.

Devco lasts two or three times as long as lead and oil; and it's going to paint your own.

Yours truly, F. W. Devco & Co.

Hyde School Entertainment.

The entertainment given for the benefit of the Hyde school, Newton Highlands, on Tuesday evening, in the school hall, was attended by a large and appreciative audience. The program was prepared by Mrs. Charlton D. Miller of the National school of Elocution and Oratory. Misses Wentworth, Spaulding, Hutchinson, Smith, Bird, Mullen, Luitwieler and Atwood, under the direction of Mrs. Miller, assumed the requisite poses in a series of very attractive tableaux.

The quickness, precision, and grace with which they took the various positions and the statuesque devotion of each reflected great credit on themselves and the skillful training they had received. A taking feature of the program was the pantomime, "Six Little Grandmothers," given with Mrs. Miller's reading by six little tots from the primary school. They gossiped, sewed and reflected with the sagacity of sixty rather than six years.

Several readings were given by Mrs. Miller with spirit and true feeling. She has a flexible voice, magnetism, and the power to interpret the deeper feelings of human nature, as was well shown in her renderings of Nicholson's Hagar. In the lighter selections her sweet vivacity and natural manner charmed her hearers.

Her gracious response to the repeated encouragements was appreciated by all. Mr. Taylor's rendition of several baritone solos was very pleasing. The violin solo by Ted Tewksbury was worthy of praise. Misses Newell and Farnum rendered valuable assistance. As the talent was generously given the proceeds amounted to over $70 net. The money will be expended on books and pictures for the school.

Successful Military Dance.

In Armory hall, last Friday evening a successful military dance was given under the combined auspices of members of Co C, 5th regiment M. V. M. and Thomas Burnett camp of the Legion of Spanish War Veterans. Its proceeds will be devoted to aid former sergeant John F. Lanigan, who is seriously ill in Colorado, the result of throat trouble contracted while in the Spanish war. Sergt. Lanigan is a Newton Centre young man, well known and highly popular. The efforts of those young men who are working in his interests have met with much substantial encouragement.

Friday evening there was a large company of dancers, and the special guests included several prominent in the state militia. The Leslie F. Humphrey camp, L. S. W. V., of Cambridge, with Commander Leo McDonald in charge, attended. It has done much in the interest of Sergt. Lanigan. The program of dances was well arranged and proved very attractive. The music was excellent. The committee of arrangements was headed by Sergt. John T. Ryan of Co C, who was floor marshal, Corp. John F. Kelly of Co C, floor director, Private Charles C. Jones of Co C, assistant floor director, Quartermaster Frank A. Barrows, treasurer, Corp. William Love, musician Bernard English, and Private John F. Cushing of Co C. Death of Smallpox Patient.

Jacob Beck, aged 19, who was taken to the Newton hospital on Nov. 17, suffering with smallpox, died of that disease at the hospital, Tuesday morning. Beck, who was employed as a clerk in the Boston office of the Mallory steamship line, was first taken sick on Nov. 14, while returning home from his daily work. The following Sunday his sickness was diagnosed as smallpox.

Up to a short time prior to his death reports from Beck's bedside had been very favorable and Monday evening there was every reason to believe that he would recover. A change for the worse was not noticed until 3 Tuesday morning and death followed an hour later.

Mr. Beck was unmarried and made his home with his family at 9 Jackson street, Thompsonville district of Newton Centre.

Police Paragraphs.

The mind of Joseph S. Hall, arraigned in court Monday for vagrancy, did about as many shifts to the hour as the church weather vane that had to face the wind of Sunday's storm. Hall reeled up to Patrolman Goode about 2.30 Sunday morning when the latter was standing in front of police station 1 on Washington street. "I want to get about four months," he said. Somewhat surprised, Goode asked him why, and, according to the patrolman's statements, Hall declared himself without a place to lay his head, and writhing in the grasp of the demon drink. Goode didn't wish to appear disobliging so locked the wanderer up on a charge of vagrancy. When Hall appeared in court Monday and heard the complaint, he decided that he wasn't guilty of all that had been set forth in the legal phraseology. "I ain't all that; I ain't no beggar," he asserted. He was willing, however, to take four months if he could be sent to the house of correction. He said he was a personal friend of the keeper whose influence he thought, would make him a better man. Judge Kennedy agreed that something ought to be done and he accordingly found Hall guilty and sentenced him to the state farm at Bridgewater. Again Hall was displeased and shouted, "I appeal." As there was no one to furnish bonds he was taken to jail.

Michael J. Keena, aged 43, whose home is at 40 Clarendon avenue, Newtonville, and who has been for about three years an inmate of the Worcester insane hospital, escaped from that institution on Thursday of last week. He tramped to Newtonville, where he was taken in charge last Friday afternoon by Patrolman Soule, who locked him up. Keena was later handed over to the insane hospital supervisor.

Death of Stephen D. Duncan.

—Stephen D. Duncan died last Friday afternoon at his home on Woodbine street, Auburndale, aged 80 years 6 months 25 days. Death was due to bright's disease.

Mr. Duncan was born in Hancock, N. H. When a young man he entered the employ of the Fitchburg railroad, and was for several years a conductor on that line. He left there to go to Wilmington, Del., where he took a position as conductor on the Pennsylvania railroad. For 40 years he rendered faithful service in that capacity and upon his retirement was pensioned.

After retiring from active life Mr. Duncan removed to Auburndale, and after a residence there of several years removed to Melrose Highlands. About six months ago he again removed to Auburndale, where he resided with his wife and two daughters, who survive him.

Mr. Duncan was prominent in Masonic circles, and was a Congregationalist. He was well known and highly respected in Auburndale. Funeral services were held at 11 Monday morning at the house. There were many relatives and friends present. The interment was in the Newton cemetery.

High Wind Was Destructive.

Nothing short of "gale" can fittingly describe the high wind which accompanied the storm of Sunday. Trees, streets, poles and wires suffered alike from the velocity of the wind and the magnitude of the down pour. It kept a good many away from church when their presence was highly desirable as it was hospital Sunday.

WEEKS BY ACCLAMATION.

Choice of Republicans at Convention.

Mayorality Candidate Gives Views in His Speech.

The Republican City Convention in Temple hall, Newtonville, last Friday afternoon transacted its important work with commendable dispatch.

President Hatfield of the city committee called the convention to order and Mr. N. Henry Chadwick of Ward 2 was made chairman and Mr. Hatfield secretary.

Messrs. Thomas Weston, O. M. Fisher and Quincy Pond were appointed a committee on credentials and reported the full delegation of 35 as present.

The temporary organization was then made permanent.

Mr. Hutchinson in presenting the name of Capt. John W. Weeks for mayor, said that he did so with implicit confidence in the man and in the voters of Newton. All his associates in public and private life believed in him. He thinks along broad lines and is fully able to solve intricate problems. He is a type of man whose advent into public life we should encourage. His nomination and election will serve to encourage others, to enter the city government.

In closing, Alderman Hutchinson said, "We have an emphatically ideal candidate and it is for us to emphatically elect him."

Mr. F. D. Williams of Chestnut Hill in seconding the nomination of Captain Weeks, said "that from the time Captain Weeks entered the naval service 25 years ago until the present time, he had been known by his friends and associates as 'Honest John.'"

Captain Weeks was then nominated by acclamation and Messrs. Hutchinson, Williams and F. L. Nagle appointed a committee to escort him to the hall. The nominee was received with great applause and spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen:

I accept the nomination. No honor should be more gratifying than that for the highest office in one's own home; an office which should be above personal solicitation and appeal, but should come to the holder with the spontaneous approval of the people. I accept at the same time the responsibilities of this great business trust as one of the greatest of my life and my deep sense of my own defects is heightened by the confidence which you have reposed in me by your unanimous vote.

The City of Newton requires the best effort in administering her affairs and while the burden of taxation is somewhat severe there are ample and sufficient reasons for this. Our very strength, as a beautiful city and desirable place of residence, is our great weakness from the point of economical administration. Made up as the city is of a dozen disjointed parts, each part with its own small local interests, each with a desire to be provided with all municipal utilities equal in every respect to every other part, causes a constant pressure on the legislative department of the city government for appropriations which at times, at least, the whole city is not desirous of making and which if carried to their full limit would make the burden of our debt unbearable.

A careful consideration and understanding of the reason for the increase in our debt and tax rate, in the last few years and of our large annual expenditure must be of benefit to our citizens and especially to those who have given only casual investigation to city affairs. In this connection it is fair to make some comparison with other Massachusetts municipalities regarding our different departments. There are nine cities including Newton in Massachusetts having a population between 30,000 and 50,000 people. Of these nine Newton is the third from the smallest and very nearly the smallest as it has less than 34,000 inhabitants. The averages in these nine cities of department expenditures and statistics per capita are as follows:

Average cost of water mains $1,260,000. Newton's cost $2,034,000.

Average miles of sewer 32.2-10. Newton has 89 miles.

Only eight cities of less than 100,000 inhabitants in the U. S. have more miles of sewers than Newton.

Miles of paved streets 46 1/2. Newton has 150 miles.

Only three cities in the U. S. under 80,000 inhabitants have over 100 miles of paved streets and there are but 23 cities in the U. S. having more than Newton.

In our street lighting department, while it is impossible to make a fair comparison, we have practically twice as many lights as any other city in the group with which comparisons are being made.

Our police department cost $2.01 per capita. The average of the other cities is $1.94.

Our fire department costs $1.89 per capita. The average in the other cities is $1.10.

Our schools cost $5.65 per capita. The average in the other cities is $3.60.

Our lights cost $1.56 per capita. The average in the other cities is 79 cents.

We spend on our streets $4.59 per capita. The average in the other cities is $1.76.

The value of the property in the city referred to is about half that in Newton. While our net debt, taking out current liabilities is over $4,000,000, the city's permanent assets are nearly $1,500,000 greater, and while the gross debt has increased to a considerable extent during the last three years the net debt owing to the large sinking fund requirements shows very little change. Notwithstanding notable public improvements which have been under way, it is worthy of note that there will be retired during the next four years nearly a million dollars of bonds including $600,000 water bonds bearing interest at 6 per cent. It will therefore be seen that while we have been spending money freely we have acquired property which has warranted this expenditure, and that while our current expenditures are large our situation demands them. It is also, I believe, desirable that a brief statement be made of the manner in which the $1,110,000 appropriated for the ensuing year is to be expended, this appropriation is about $36,000 less than last year's appropriation.

Of this total appropriation $264,935.67 is for the treasury department to pay interest on permanent and temporary loans and $119,500 for the treasury department for sinking fund requirements under the law, making a total for that department of $384,435.67. This appropriation is imperative.

For the school department the appropriation for the ensuing year is $201,980.

The citizens of Newton for years have taken just pride in the maintenance of first class schools. I think it is fair to say there are no schools in our Commonwealth, nor in any other state, maintained at a higher standard, and while we spend more money per capita for this purpose than other municipalities I have never heard the expenditure criticised and there is at least one large element in our city which is at the present time advocating an increased rather than a decreased expenditure. It is also a fact that our school buildings have cost the city more than one million dollars, very nearly double the cost of the school buildings in other similar cities in this Commonwealth.

For the street department there has been appropriated for the ensuing year $213,350. This covers maintenance of streets, re-building streets, caring for parks, lighting and watering streets and maintenance of sewers.

I believe there is no well defined objection to a maintenance of our streets in as good condition as at present. There is even some demand that they be maintained better than at present. Of this appropriation the items for general repairs, drains and culverts, parks and sewer maintenance are almost entirely for labor; that labor is performed by residents of Newton and any decrease in the amount of work performed on our streets would act directly on the working men of our city. I believe that the streets of Newton should be maintained to at least their present standard, that any change in policy would be a serious detriment to the progress of our city. It is through our streets that we are best able to call attention to the character of our city government as a whole. In other words they are our advertising medium and are, therefore, of great value in addition to the comfort and pleasure which they give our citizens.

We appropriate for the ensuing year for the police department $79,790.25. With the exception of a very few thousand dollars this goes entirely for the pay of our police force which I believe has been and is maintained at a high state of efficiency.

There are applications from different parts of the city to increase the police force and while it does not seem judicious at this time to do this, any decrease of the force or its efficiency would be met with a vigorous protest from our citizens and would endanger our property to an unknown extent.

We expend for the fire department for the ensuing year $52,094.50, which a liberal expenditure, is absolutely required owing to the large amount of territory to be covered. This money, as in the case of the police department, with the exception of a very small per cent. goes to pay the firemen. In other words all but $187,261 of the total appropriation for the ensuing year is for the great departments which have been previously named.

It will be noticed that very much the largest part of this expenditure is in the maintenance of our schools, the payment of interest and sinking fund charges and to pay the members of the police, fire and highway departments, all of whom are residents of our own city.

I believe it is generally recognized by our citizens that a good government commands a good price. That there is a feeling and desire that in making expenditures the best is in the end, cheapest, and that any departure from this policy would be met by the opposition of our taxpayers. At the same time there is a universal demand that care should be used in the expenditure of our appropriations and that for every dollar of public money spent there shall be a full return of public benefit.

If I am elected Mayor the 10th of December I will do my utmost to carry out such a policy, and while I make no pretence of devoting my entire time to city affairs I have made such arrangements that I can and will give sufficient time to perform the duties of the office. If I do not succeed it will not be because my best judgment and business experience have not been given to the service of the city, but because of some defect over which I have no control.

I sincerely thank you and those you represent.

The following nominations for aldermen at large for 2 years were made by acclamation:

Fred A. Hubbard, Ward 1, by Alderman O. M. Fisher.

John F. Lothrop, Ward 2, by Amos C. Judkins.

Henry B. Day, Ward 3, by Representative Ballard.

Peter C. Baker, Ward 4, by Frederic M. Crehore.

Walter Chesley, Ward 5, by Thomas White.

Endicott P. Saltonstall, Ward 6, by F. D. Williams.

Charles S. Eusign, Ward 7, by Edw. F. Hollis.

Nominations for school committee were made by acclamation as follows:

Fred H. Tucker, Ward 1, by Alderman O. M. Fisher.

Marcus Morton Ward 2, by F. L. Nagle.

Edward Howard, Ward 3, by L. B. Schofield.

Christopher M. Goddard, Ward 6, by E. H. Mason.

Henry E. Bothfeld, Ward 7, by Nathan Heard.

The city committee was authorized to fill any vacancies caused by death, resignation or inability to serve of any of the candidates.

President C. E. Hatfield of the city committee then addressed the convention, cautioning the delegates that their work was not finished, and not to underestimate the opposition. He urged the delegates to get out the vote, and there would be no doubt of the election. He feared the effect upon future nominations and elections if such a candidate as Capt. Weeks should be defeated.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Nov. 25, 1901.

The past week in Washington has witnessed the assemblage and the adjournment of the Reciprocity Convention. The convention passed a resolution urging upon Congress the maintenance of the principle of protection and the opening up of foreign markets by reciprocity, "only where it can be done without injury to any of our home interests of manufacturing, commerce or farming." Other resolutions urge the establishment of a "Department of Commerce and Industry, the head of which shall be a member of the President's Cabinet" and the appointment of a reciprocity commission "as a bureau of that department."

There is wide diversity of opinion as to the results and effects of the convention, but a careful canvass among some of the leading Republican statesmen warrants the assertion that they consider it demonstrating the fact that, while reciprocity is the next logical step of the government, the time is not yet ripe for it, and little given "to chasing theories" but that the business men of the country are essentially practical and that as soon as a shrinkage of exports renders reciprocity advisable they will be ready to endorse it.

The President's chief counselors have advised him that he will satisfy the people if he can prevail upon Congress to perfect the anti-trust law and to establish the department of Commerce and Industry and it is the belief that this action will be accepted as an evidence of good faith and that, before the convening of another Congress, the situation will have further developed to a point where "the plain duty" of Congress may be made clear.

I found a widely prevalent conviction among the delegates to the reciprocity convention that the business interests of the country demand some radical changes in the financial laws and that Secretary Gage was right, in his proposition that "The present is the most propitious hour in all our history and as favorable as any period we may hope for in the future."

At the Cabinet meeting on Friday the President read the remainder of his message. Immediately following the meeting he directed that some minor changes be made and then announced that he considered the document completed. He entertained at luncheon Archbishop Corrigan of New York, and early in the afternoon embarked on the Navy Yard on the yacht Sylph and quietly sailed away. He was accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt and the children, with the exception of his eldest daughter, who is visiting in Boston. As no one would furnish any information as to the destination of the party speculation is of course rife. It has been suggested that possibly he intends to go to Philadelphia by water, as he has promised to witness the Thanksgiving foot ball game, which will be played there between Annapolis and West Point, but it is more probable that he has gone down the river duck shooting.

All who use Atomizers in treating nasal catarrh will get the best result from Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price, including spraying tube, 75 cts. Sold by druggists or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren St., N. Y.

Choir Guild Concert.

There was a large and appreciative audience gathered in the Hunnewell clubhouse assembly hall, Monday evening, which thoroughly enjoyed the very excellent program that made up the benefit entertainment given by the Grace church choir guild. Selections were given by the Beethoven male quartet, made up of William O. Harrington, first tenor, Frank M. Mason, second tenor, Alfred M. Russell, baritone, and Gustave V. Ulmer, bass. These were received with much applause as were the solos of Master Everett Glines, soprano soloist, and the readings of Mrs. Eulie Guay Rushmore. A highly amusing musical farce in one act entitled "Cox and Box" was given with this cast: James John Cox, C. H. Draper; John James Box, C. N. Sladen; Sergeant Bouncer, A. O. Clark. Mr. E. A. Barrell was the accompanist.

Jumped on a Ten Penny Nail.

The little daughter of Mr. J. N. Powell jumped on an inverted rake made of ten penny nails, and thrust one nail entirely through her foot and a second one half way through. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was promptly applied and five minutes later the pain had disappeared and no more suffering was experienced. In three days the child was wearing her shoe as usual and with absolutely no discomfort. Mr. Powell is a well known merchant of Portland, Me. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and heals such injuries without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by all druggists.

VISITING NURSE.

Her Work in the District Association.

Annual Meeting Offers Much Of Interest.

On account of unusual press of work, a full report of the annual meeting of the District Nursing Association was omitted in the issue of November eighth. At the request of a member of the board we reprint a portion of the able report of the secretary of that association, pertaining to the office and work of the visiting nurse with her request to our readers to peruse it carefully.

The secretary described the duties of the visiting nurse showing their distinctive features, compared with the work of the district nurses. She has direct supervision of the district nurses, and may be called by anyone desiring her services, which are paid for at fixed rates, while the district nurses only respond to calls by physicians. During the year 41 physicians have called the nurses in 466 cases, on which two district nurses made 5579 calls. The visiting nurse has made 718 calls since that branch of work was undertaken.

In order to show the value of this work and its appreciation by those who had benefited by employing this nurse, the following letter was read:

"It is a great pleasure to respond to your request to write you what I believe the Newton District Nursing Association to be. I can speak only of my own personal experience, with the visiting nurse, which may be more forcible than simple theory."

Last spring, during an illness, my physician said, "You need attention other than that your maid can give you." "A nurse?" I asked. "Yes, the visiting nurse," was his reply. "This visiting nurse was an unknown quantity to me, so I asked for information."

My nurse, faithful, comfort-giving Mrs. Carton, came to me every morning and evening. . . . There is every strong and good reason for the existence of your association. The comfort and mercy it carries to many who otherwise could receive no help or uplifting cannot be estimated. Your visiting nurse does not simply bathe and rub and make the bed feel better than before, but she gives her patient courage to go on feeling better because he is as well cared for as anybody, and pays for it, too.

Clearly, to me, the blessing is twofold in these homes: relief from bodily discomforts and, almost as important, a feeling of independence and respectability. I cannot make it seem that the benefits of this association are less to us, in comfortable homes with some luxuries, we often forget we possess. Illness comes to us, sometimes shutting us in for weeks. Until this association was formed we knew that meant, not only a large outlay of money for a trained hospital nurse, but a certain disarrangement of the running of the entire household. It is a stranger within the home, in the most intimate way; there to do good we know and feel, but the constraint is recognized by all, from maid to master. I have no thought to undervalue the ministrations of our trained nurses. Far from it. They have their own responsible place. But there is, I feel, a distinct place for just the nurse your association sends out. She comes into the home, cares for her patient, gives a bright word from out-of-door leaves. All of this, and it is much, for a sum so small you wonder at it. And the household moves along in almost its accustomed way. "For the sake of charity," is eliminated and the patient has the feeling of comfort, paid for by himself."

Testimony to the great efficiency of the work of the nurses employed by the association, both visiting and district nurses was given fully and earnestly by Dr. Caroline V. Wentworth, Dr. F. M. Lowe, Dr. F. M. Sherman and Dr. David E. Baker by letter.

We would take this opportunity to append the following notice recently issued:

Hereafter nurse may be called at main office, Telephone 167-7. West Newton, where some one will answer at all hours.

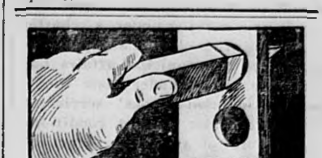

Visiting nurses, Mrs. William Corten district nurses, Miss Mary J. Tate, Miss Jennie Hughes.

The well known pianist, Mrs. W. H. Sherwood, and Miss Sherwood of Boston, have offered their services for a musical in aid of the Newton District Nursing Association to be given at the house of Mrs. F. A. Wetherbee, on Monday, Dec. 9th, at 3 o'clock.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Boston Museum—Plays may come and plays may go but "Sky Farm" like the proverbial brook, it would seem, could go on forever at the Boston Museum was this thought to be the best policy by the management. From all classes of people have come words of the highest commendation concerning the heart interest so forcibly presented in this play; concerning its picturesque characters; its comic situations; its periods of sensation and dramatic intensity though brief its moments, not too long drawn out, of appealing pathos; its typical scenes of current New England life in a small community; its whole enjoyable and ennobling influence. Not only has "Sky Farm" been talked about but people by thousands have proved their convictions about it by their presence night after night at the Museum. "Sky Farm" must be classed as one of the few great successes of the theatrical season and one of the greatest among the rural plays ever presented on the American stage. Despite the fact, judging by the advance sale of seats, that "Sky Farm" could be continued at the Boston Museum for many weeks, the end is in sight and the concluding performances have been fixed.

Children's Theatre—With the coming week there now remains but two more performances of "Alice in Looking-Glass Land," at the Children's Theatre, Huntington Chambers, 30 Huntington avenue, Boston. Those performances are to be given on Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Then on Saturday, December 7th, at 2.30 o'clock, the new play is to be given its first presentation. It is called "Little Miss Muffet's Christmas Party," and the sale of seats for it begins Monday, December 2nd. The management makes a special arrangement for theatre parties, and those of not less than eight persons are granted a reduction in price for the Tuesday and Thursday performances. "Little Miss Muffet's Christmas Party" is even brighter than the one now being presented. The play introduces plenty of well known characters and in very entertaining fashion. It ends in Toyland and Miss Muffet has her Christmas dinner in the Spider's web. The theatre is easy to find. It is but a step from the hub of the Hub—Copley Square.

"The square peg in the round hole" figuratively expresses the use of means unsuited to the desired end. A great many people who have been cured of dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery say: "We tried many medicines with only temporary benefit. It was not until we began the use of 'Golden Medical Discovery' that we found a complete and lasting cure."

It is undoubtedly true that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery holds the record for the perfect and permanent cure of indigestion and other diseases of the stomach and associated organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not a palliative. It cures the cause of disease and builds up the body with solid healthy flesh, not flabby fat.

"It is with pleasure that I tell you what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pell's' have done for me," writes Mrs. T. M. Palmer, of Pease, Kaufman Co., Texas. "Two years ago I was taken with stomach and bowel trouble. Everything I ate would put me in distress. I lived two weeks on milk and even that gave me pain. I felt as though I would starve to death. Three doctors attended me—one said I had dyspepsia, two said catarrh of the stomach and bowels. They attended me (one at a time) for one year. I stopped taking their medicine and tried other patent medicine; got no better, and I grew so weak and nervous my heart would flutter. I could not do any kind of work. Now I can do my house work very well; am gaining in flesh and strength, and can eat anything I want."

Accept no substitute for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advice is sent, free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE CITY CAMPAIGN.

With only ten days remaining the city campaign is becoming interesting. The line up discloses three candidates for mayor, one or possibly two contests for aldermen at large, one for school committee and five for ward aldermen.The triangular fight over the mayorality of course absorbs the greater portion of the interest, and the situation is indeed peculiar.In a city like Newton, there should be no uncertainty as to the success of a candidate of such exceptional ability as Captain Weeks. The entry of Alderman Baily, however, complicates the situation, as almost the whole of Mr. Baily's vote (an unknown quantity) will come from men who otherwise would support the regular Republican nominee.Mr. Baily's chances for success are not considered very good by the political prophets, as his following is confined to personal friends in his own ward and a few dissatisfied Republicans in the remainder of the city.The Democratic candidate, Mr.
Baker, has not inspired much confidence throughout the city by his previous campaigns and he only becomes a dangerous factor in the result, as the Baily vote cuts into that of Capt. Weeks.It therefore follows that a vote for Mr. Baily is, in effect, a half vote for Mr. Baker, and serious consideration should be given the matter by every voter who has any regard for the welfare of the city.But little interest attaches to the aldermanic and school board contests as the Republican nominees will easily win out. Dr. Gallagher, the Democratic candidate for school committee in Ward 1, is very popular locally, but does not have that acquaintance all over the city, nor the knowledge of educational matters possessed by Mr. Tucker, his Republican opponent.In the ward fights for aldermen, there appear to be more hope for the Democrats. In Ward 4, where the Republican vote is often apathetic, the Democratic nominee, Mr. Lyons, a very popular young man, has excellent chances of success.In Ward One, the Democratic vote in precinct one is a factor to be reckoned with and every Republican vote will be needed to elect Mr. Barker.In Ward Two, similar conditions are found, although not so favorable to Democratic success.In Ward Three, where Alderman Hutchinson, one of the ablest members of the present board is a candidate for re-election, the Democrats openly boast that he is defeated. The conditions do not justify this claim, but it is well to bear in mind that every Republican in this district should mark his ballot for ward alderman as well as for mayor.To briefly summarize the situation it is well to say that every Republican vote is needed in the coming election, not only for mayor but for every nomination on the ballot.Only by getting the vote out can the excellent ticket offered by the Republican ticket be elected.

MR. BAILY.

Mr. Baily claims the office of Mayor on the grounds of promotion and experience, and believes the city needs a closer scrutiny over its expenses and a more satisfactory system of valuations. Mr. Baily's claim that he has earned the office of mayor is not a new one and has descended from many other members of former city governments whose desires in this respect were never granted. It does not follow therefore that an alderman of even Mr. Baily's experience has a mortgage on the mayor's chair which the voters of this city must recognize.On the ground of aldermanic service, Mr. Baily's claim must be shared with Alderman Weeks. It should be borne in mind that the city is now working under a charter about four years old, and any previous experience in municipal affairs has but little value under new conditions. Alderman Weeks' service of three years under present conditions is therefore of as much practical value as that of Mr. Baily.The matter of equalizing tax valuations is a knotty problem which able men than Mr. Baily have heretofore attempted and failed.In point of fact, a mayor has but little control over this important work. State laws govern the board of assessors to a large extent, and after appointment, they cannot be removed from office, and are not responsible to the mayor except as to the financial end of their department. But one principal assessor is appointed annually and it takes a long time to make radical changes in a board constituted on such lines.In the matter of closer scrutiny of expenses of departments there is an unlimited field for labor, although Mr. Baily's law experience cannot expect to complete with the exceptional business ability of Captain Weeks in this respect.It would therefore seem that Mr.
Baily fails to represent any policy or principle which Captain Weeks does not, and that in those policies upon which they agree, the superior qualifications of Alderman Weeks are so manifest as to leave but little doubt as to the result.Mr. Baily's independent campaign against the republican candidate must therefore be characterized as wholly personal and we trust will be so understood by the public.

THE EIGHT HOUR LAW.

The voters of Newton will be called upon at the coming election to adopt or reject the law establishing eight hours as a day's work for city laborers.On general principles the taxpayers of the city have very little sympathy with labor legislation for political purposes only, and in this particular case there seems to be no valid reason for the adoption of the law.In 1900 about $151,100 was paid for labor and teams in the street and water departments. This amount is unusually small, but will serve as a basis. The eight hour law in 1900 would have added $17,000 to the cost or would have accomplished but one ninth less work.This year more labor and teams have been employed than 1900 and the cost for the same amount of work would be proportionally more.We do not believe that the average city laborer is as much concerned over the number of hours work per day, as he is over the number of days' work in the week.Rainy days in summer and the inability to perform ordinary labor in winter do more to lessen the income of the laborer than anything else, and if he added cost which the adoption of the eight hour law would entail, could in some way be devoted to providing more work rather than less hours, we believe it would be heartily favored.

NOT A MACHINE CANDIDATE.

The letters we print this week from representative men from all over the city endorsing the candidacy of Alderman Weeks for mayor, are conclusive evidence that political influences are not responsible for his nomination.The high standing and character of the writers, added to their warm words of commendation, are a fine tribute to the worth of the Republican nominee, and will undoubtedly have great weight with thoughtful voters.Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the necessity, this year as never before, of polling as large a vote as possible. In a three cornered contest, the result is always in doubt until the last vote is counted.The effect on future elections is also a matter of serious concern and in a measure outweighs the immediate success of either Mr. Weeks, Mr.
Baily or Mr. Baker. The defeat of Mr. Weeks at this time would undoubtedly deter many excellent men from entering the public service on the ground that the voters of Newton were not intelligent enough to appreciatethe best talent for municipal office when offered.It is therefore a duty at the coming election to provide for the present and future welfare of the city by giving Captain Weeks a rousing majority.Don't throw away your vote for mayor, the real issue is Weeks or Baker. There can be but one choice.

The Life of a Coal Miner.

First, the boy of eight or ten is sent to the breaker to pick the slate and other impurities from the coal which has been brought up from the mine. From there he is promoted and becomes a door boy, working in the mine. As he grows older and stronger he is advanced to the position and given the pay of a laborer. There he gains the experience which secures him a place as a miner's helper, and as he acquires skill and strength he becomes, when in the height of his manhood and vigor, a full fledged miner.If he is fortunate enough to escape the falls of rock and coal, he may retain this position as a miner for a number of years. But as age creeps on and he is attacked by some of the many diseases incident to work in the mines he makes way for those younger and more vigorous following him up the ladder whose summit he has reached.
He then starts on the descent, going back to become a miner's helper, then a mine laborer, now a door boy, and when old and decrepit he finally returns to the breaker where he started as a child, earning the same wages as are received by the little urchins who work at his side. There is no incentive for ambition in the average miner's life. He cannot rise to places of eminence and wealth. Only 1 in 500 can even be given place as a foreman or superintendent, and these are positions which few miners care to hold.—
John Mitchell in Cosmopolitan.

For His Reputation, $500.

The proprietor of a large dry goods store had decided to tear down the old building and erect a new one in its stead. In furtherance of this plan he was removing his goods to temporary quarters in another building.
The goods were nearly all out of the old structure when from some unknown cause it caught fire. The department was promptly on hand and soon had a stream playing on the flames, but the merchant was with with excitement. Running up to the chief, he urged him to greater haste.
"Never mind the goods!" he shouted.
"Save the building! I'll give the boys a check for $500 for their pension fund if they don't let the fire spread beyond that floor!"
"Why, you're going to tear the old building down anyway, aren't you?"
asked the chief.
"Yes," he said, "but do you suppose I want the insurance companies or anybody on earth to think that's the reason why it caught fire?"
By great exertion the fire was extinguished with little loss so far as the building was concerned, and the merchant was as good as his word.—
Youth's Companion.

Queer Creatures.

There are microscopic creatures which live in roof gutters and on the bark of trees and are known as water bears and wheel animals. If allowed to dry up under the microscope, they can be seen to shrivel into shapeless masses, which may be kept for years uninjured in the dried state.On being placed after this long interval in water they gradually plump up, resume their proper shape and move about in search of food just as if nothing had happened. Much the same is true for the minute worms which from the substances in which they live are known as paste and vinegar eels. Well known is the famous case of the desert snail, which, retracted into its shell, was fastened to a tablet in the British museum and showed no sign of life for seven years, when one morning it was found crawling hungrily about the glass case that formed its prison.

Up His Sleeve.

At the battle of Omdurman a soldier belonging to a Scotch regiment was nearly killed by a bullet which struck the ground just in front of him while he was lying in a reclining position.
On rising to move a few feet forward, something came down his sleeve. It was the bullet. How it got up his sleeve without inflicting damage can only be accounted for by the fact that it must have been spent by the time it struck the ground in front of him and the course of its flight up his sleeve was its last billet.

A florist says that the law governing the coloring of flowers makes a blue rose impossible. According to this law the three colors red, blue and yellow never all appear in the same species of flowers. Any two may exist, but never the third. Thus we have the red and yellow roses, but no blue; red and blue verbenas, but no yellow; yellow and blue in the various members of the viola family (as pansies, for instance), but no red; and yellow gladioli, but no blue, and so on.

Rubber Plants.

Many plant growers become annoyed because the older leaves at the base of their rubber plants turn yellow and fall off. This is a natural process. It does not indicate any defect in the plant. It is simply the ripening of the old foliage, which cannot be retained indefinitely. Sometimes, however, the loss of foliage results from the want of room, but in such cases the plants refuse to grow.

—On Monday evening in Bray hall, the public meeting held under the auspices of the Social Study club to discuss the proposed eight hour day for city laborers was well attended. Mr. Jones of Everett spoke briefly in favor of an eight hour day and then placed at length on the particular line of thought which interested him most, and with which plainly the majority of his hearers were hardly in accord. He was questioned at the close of his remarks and showed more skill in getting around a question than in squarely replying to it. Rev. E. D. Burr spoke in favor of an eight hour day for all workers—he said he worked about fifteen or sixteen generally—and said that upon inquiry in some European cities he had found that where the shorter day had been adopted the use of the public libraries by the working people had increased 55 per cent. Mr. Burr strongly disagreed with two particular phrases which the speaker of the evening had used, and said that progress must be made by mutual understanding between men—brain and manual workers alike. Mr. F. E. Kneeland in his plea for the shorter day spoke of the increased expense of city work and also of the small tax payer, whether a holder of property or one who hires only. He caused a ripple of amusement when he referred that the city laborer if given a shorter day might take on some of the "increased energy" which had been mentioned during the evening, and the city work cost scarcely more than today. Where the eight hour day had been submitted to a vote in the towns and cities nearby, Mr. Kneeland said that it had been invariably carried, and cited Boston, Brookline, Marlboro and a few others as instances.

The Mistake of the Polar Bear.

Nordenfjold found that the white bears generally went through a long performance of stalking his sailors, clearly on the mistaken conclusion that they were seals. As the men were clothed partly in sealskin, it was a very natural mistake. But the interest of the story lies in the generalization made by the bear. The bear said:

"There are two or three seals, one standing up on its flippers in a very unusual way. I will therefore stalk them unseen as long as I can and when they see me pretend to be doing something else."

So the men, with their guns and knives, who wanted to shoot the bear had the pleasure of seeing him carefully crawling behind rocks and low hummocks, making long detours this way and that and every now and then clambering up a rock and peeping cautiously over to see if the seals had gone. On the open snow the bear would saunter off in another direction and then, falling flat, push himself along on his belly, with his great front paws covering his black muzzle, the only thing not matching the snow about him. Just as the bear thought he had got his "seal" the latter fired and shot him, a victim of false analogy. —Spectator.

Norwegian Hotel Fire Escape.

Nor do Norwegian hotels themselves console you. Built of wood, their chief merit lies in the fire escape, which is to be found in the chief room upon every landing. At Visnes I spent a happy night answering the questions of nervous travelers who came from hour to hour to see if the fire escape in my room was working properly. Angry assurances were powerless to convince him if ancient ladies. Did I really think the rope would work? Was there any danger? Had I tried the contrivance myself? Excellent souls! As if the printed notice were not enough!

Ah, that printed notice! I have a copy of it by me I write. It is the complete instruction in English to the traveler threatened by fire in a wooden hotel in Norway. Let me give it to you as I found it:

"Fire escape to throw out the window."

"The plaited snottier shall be found in every room."

"To increase the hurry let down the body one by one until all shall be left."

"N. B.—The cord shall put out the ground from the shoulder thereunder."

Florists' Lives Are Short.

"It is commonly supposed that the men who work in the mines or those whose occupations necessitate the breathing of poisonous fumes and gases are the shortest lived," said a prominent physician. "This is a mistake, and it will surprise many to learn that the highest death rate is found among a class who breathe in the sweetest odors—florists."

"The reason is a simple one. The florist lives at once in the torrid and the frigid zone. From a greenhouse atmosphere of nearly 100 degrees in the winter months he must step out into one that is nearly always below freezing point and often below zero. In summer he has change to encounter, too, as in the spring and fall. By force of habit he grows careless and often works without his coat in the hot, artificial atmosphere, and this increases the dangers to which he is exposed. The Change in the Tenderfoot.

"This is a remarkably healthy climate, they say," said the easterner. "You're right then," said Arizona Al. "For instance, not long ago a tenderfoot with a weak chest and a pale face dropped into the Miners' Delight, called me a liar and of course I had to clean up. 'Bout two months after a big sunburnt cowboy stopped me on the street, wiped the dirt up with me and I shinned me up in a tree to recuperate. Same fellow. Best climate in the world, pard." —Indianapolis Sun.

Too Small to Share.

Barnes—Yes, I guess it is true that it is the little things that count. Howes—So you have come to that conclusion, have you? Barnes—Yes. You see, I was walking with Tedworth, and he said if he should find a million dollars he'd give me half. Presently he picked up a dime, and when I asked him to share it with me he abused me like a pick-pocket. —Boston Transcript.

Cleaning Light Fur.

One who says she has tried it recommends naphtha for cleaning light fur. She says: Pour naphtha over the fur, then duff and pat the article until the soil has been worked out, and when this is done press the naphtha out by drawing the hand firmly over the fur. Then shake and hang in the air to dry. Be careful of fire.

Brackett—They say you are financially embarrassed. Do you owe a very large amount? Brackett—I don't owe anything, but there are several people who owe me, and I haven't the courage to ask for it. —Boston Transcript.

MANY REASONS OFFERED

Prominent Citizens Strongly Advocate The Nomination of Alderman John W. Weeks for Mayor.

LETTER FROM WM. H. COOLIDGE, NEWTON CENTRE.

To the Editor:

The City of Newton is a Municipal Corporation, but nevertheless it is simply a corporation, and the stockholders in the corporation, namely the voters, are about to choose a President, in this case to be known as the Mayor. He will be the executive officer of a corporation whose annual receipts and disbursements exceed one million dollars; he will be the head of a corporation that has more to do with the property, the homes and happiness of each of its members than has, perhaps, any other person in this Commonwealth. He will be our representative both within the city and outside the city; he will represent us before the legislature; he will represent us before the public. The reputation of our city will be largely determined by the action and appearance of our Mayor. We shall be known by the kind of representative that we send forth.

There are presented to us for our choice three gentlemen from whom this executive head is to be chosen. If we were dealing with any ordinary affair, if we were dealing with any ordinary corporation, if we were searching for an executive head for any business proposition, there could be no doubt as to the choice that would be made. By training and by education, by experience in dealing with men of affairs regarding all kinds of business propositions, Mr. Weeks is in my judgment head and shoulders above either of the other candidates. His opponents claim that he has the support of the so-called "machine." Probably each of the other candidates would be glad of this support could he get it. I have no knowledge of the so-called "machine." I simply for myself, as a citizen and as a taxpayer, look to the candidates presented, examine to my own satisfaction their business capacity and qualifications, and remembering at all times that I am a citizen of Newton and that the city in which I live will be largely known by the kind of a man whom we choose as our representative, can come to no conclusion, except that this great corporation known as the City of Newton, will be best conducted with a man like Mr. Weeks at its head.

LETTER FROM HENRY H. HUNT, WEST NEWTON.

To the Editor:

I have been asked why I support John W. Weeks for Mayor of Newton. I think it is the desire of every citizen that the administration of the city's affairs should be conducted upon a thorough business basis.

I do not think anyone will deny that Mr. Weeks is amply qualified to so administer the city's affairs. Mr. Weeks will be the candidate of the Republican party in this city, with which party I have never affiliated because I think it is wiser in municipal affairs not to hold too strictly to party lines.

Mr. Weeks is in no sense, a partisan and can be supported by men of all parties with credit to their party organization. I shall work and vote for Mr. Weeks because I believe he will give the city a clean, strong and able administration.

LETTER FROM FRED H. TUCKER, NEWTON.

To the Editor:

Why I support Alderman John W. Weeks for Mayor of Newton.

First and foremost because he is a broadminded man of large and successful business experience. He is a man of great executive ability. He has served the city faithfully for three years in the Board of Aldermen and so is familiar with city affairs. He has done good work on committees and has been a specially valuable member of the finance committee. We can be quite sure that if Mr. Weeks is elected the finances of the city will be well looked after.

Though a very busy man Mr. Weeks always has time for public service if it demands it.

He is a large taxpayer, therefore is vitally interested in the welfare of the city. If elected he will give city affairs the same care and attention that have made his own business so successful. Mr. Weeks is a cultured gentleman, who will bring dignity to the position we ask him to take, and who will represent our city with credit anywhere.

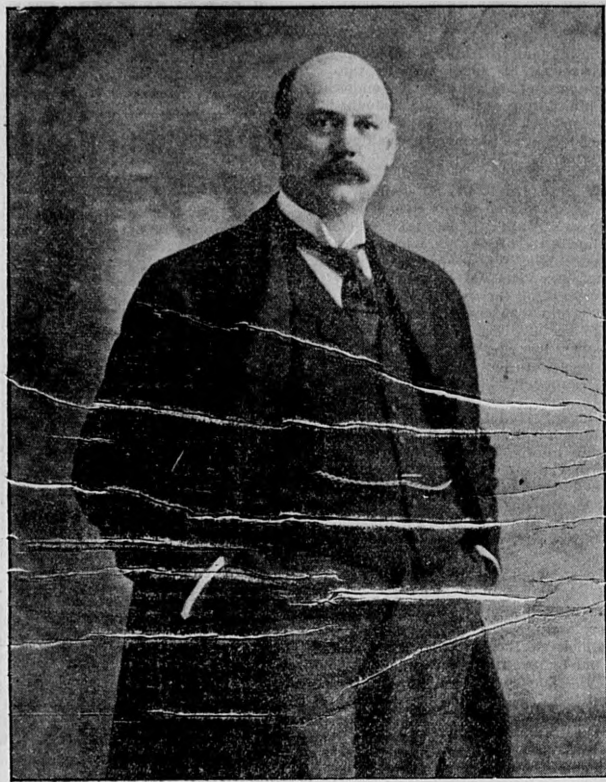

It is not easy to get such a man as Mr. Weeks to be candidate for Mayor, when we do we should give them our hearty support. I feel sure that such, Mr. Weeks will receive and that he will prove one of the best Mayors Newton has ever had.

LETTER FROM FRANK A. DAY, NEWTON.

To the Editor:

I very cheerfully bear my testimony to John W. Weeks and my sincere belief that he will make us an able mayor.

I believe Mr. Weeks to be a conservative man and yet a man who looks ahead and who also thinks straight, and trust that he may have the majority to which I feel that he is entitled in the coming contest.

LETTER FROM HON. WM. F. ELLISON, NEWTON.

To the Editor:

In my opinion, the Mayor of a city, whose annual expenditures exceed one million dollars, should be a thoroughly trained business man, and he should also have some experience in the methods of transacting municipal affairs.

The Republican party presents such a candidate in Alderman John W. Weeks. His municipal services, combined with the exceptional executive ability developed by his large and successful business enterprises, make him a candidate whose qualifications appear to me to be worthy of the serious consideration of every voter.

LETTER FROM CHARLES S. DENNISON, NEWTONVILLE.

To the Editor:

I heartily favor the election of Capt. John W. Weeks as mayor of Newton. His exceptional executive ability, combined with a thorough knowledge of municipal affairs, so fully qualify him for the office that to my mind, there should be no opposition to his candidacy.

It is seldom that a city has such an excellent opportunity to elect as its chief magistrate, a man who combines in such high degree the important qualities of dignity, courtesy and ability.

LETTER FROM HON. HENRY F. BOWFIELD, NEWTON.

To the Editor:

I am very glad to express my reasons for being so earnestly in favor of Mr. Weeks for Mayor. He is an able, honest and most conscientious man, whose whole career shows that he views matters broadly, forms judgments calmly and carefully, and then acts decisively.

He is splendidly equipped in ability, temperament and experience. His eminent successes in executive positions, coupled with his great knowledge in matters of finance, mark him pre-eminently as a man of affairs.

His willingness to accept public service gives to us the distinct privilege of securing one whom the office calls for rather than one who calls for the office.

LETTER FROM S. HENRY CHADWICK, NEWTONVILLE.

To the Editor:

I favor Captain Weeks for Mayor of Newton. I believe he is well equipped for the office on account of his good judgment and large experience in business life.

NOMINATING SPEECH OF GEORGE HUTCHINSON.

I present for nomination as our candidates for Mayor, John W. Weeks of Ward 3.

I present this name with implicit confidence in the man and in the voters of Newton. The associates of Capt. Weeks in business, public and private life believe in him. They believe in him as a man who thinks along broad lines, as able to solve intricate problems, strictly honest, capable as an executive and in every way well qualified to fill the high position to which we call him.

Captain Weeks represents a type of man, a type we ought to receive with delight when willing to serve us in public life. We have citizens in Massachusetts, and an abundance in Newton, who from experience and exceptional ability are well qualified for official positions but there is unfortunately a too frequent lack of the self-sacrifice spirit.

We have in John W. Weeks an emphatically ideal candidate. Let us see to it that he is emphatically elected.

LETTER FROM ARTHUR G. FARLEY, AUBURNDALE.

To the Editor:

I shall be pleased to vote for Alderman Weeks for mayor of Newton because I believe he is exceptionally well qualified for the position, both temperamentally and by virtue of his experience. I believe he has shown ability to take a large view of affairs, and to see that details are properly cared for as well. It is gratifying to have an opportunity to continue the line of practical business men Newton has for several years trusted as mayors.

I do not think Mr. Weeks will be found guilty of the sophistry of advocating a reduction of the tax rate and a serious increase of annual expenses at the same time, as one of the best men Newton has had an opportunity of voting for in many years; because he is broad-gauged, fair-minded, and every citizen, be he rich or poor, will be sure of fair treatment at his hands; because he believes in true economy in city affairs—not in a "penny wise, pound foolish policy."

LETTER FROM CHAS. E. HATFIELD, WEST NEWTON.

To the Editor:

Alderman John W. Weeks ought to be elected because he is not only the best man nominated for Mayor this year, but because he is one of the best men Newton has had an opportunity of voting for in many years; because he is broad-gauged, fair-minded, and every citizen, be he rich or poor, will be sure of fair treatment at his hands; because he believes in true economy in city affairs—not in a "penny wise, pound foolish policy."

Finally Captain Weeks will be elected because the large majority of the citizens of Newton believe him to be an ideal man for Mayor, one whose ability is known to them and in whose hands they feel the interests of the city will be safe.

LETTER FROM FREDERICK M. CREHORE, NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

To the Editor:

There seems to be an impression abroad that Mr. Weeks the Republican candidate for Mayor has only the support of the machine element of the party and simply stands for a small part of our citizens. This is not so in at least one instance and I feel confident is not so with the great majority of his supporters. I cannot claim a personal friendship with Mr. Weeks as I never met him until after the convention to which I was a delegate nominated him, but I think perhaps for this very reason I am better fitted to form a calm and unprejudiced judgment of his qualifications for the office. My knowledge of the man has been drawn from a great many different sources which all bring me to the same conclusion in regard to his preeminent fitness for the position for which he has been nominated. He is well educated, of the highest integrity and a man of broad views of men and things and his business career shows him to be a man of unusual ability and what is very valuable in the office of Mayor, an excellent judge of men. He has made no rash promises of what he will do if elected, but contented himself (and all fair minded men) by saying he proposes to deal with each question as it rises. This is a rather pleasant contrast to his Democratic opponent who if I am correctly informed proposes to reduce the tax rate by making the highway department receive considerably less for a dollar than it does at present. The fixing of the city's laborers' pay by ordinance above the market value of that class of work seems to me to be class legislation of the most marked type and lays the man proposing it open to the charge of being a demagogue. Mr. Weeks seems to be a man above this petty bidding (at the city's expense) for votes and being a large property owner should prove a conservative check on any extravagance into which the legislative branch of the city government might be betrayed. The other candidates being as I am informed little more than poll tax payers are in the natural order of things less likely to be safe guards in this respect after election than Mr. Weeks. He takes the broad ground of wisely legislating for the city as a whole rather than trying to array class against class as does his Democratic rival. I feel I have entrenched too heavily on your space but I feel so strongly convinced that in Mr. Weeks, Newton would secure an ideal mayor that for the first time in my life, I have written to a news paper.

I congratulate you on your support of so excellent a candidate for our city's executive.

LETTER FROM COL. EDWARD H. HASKELL, NEWTON CENTRE.

To the Editor:

I strongly favor the election of Captain John W. Weeks, as Mayor of our city, and believe that the great body of our citizens, irrespective of party affiliations, will endorse his selection for this high office.

Capt. Weeks is every way an ideal representative citizen, and his splendid equipment and executive ability, will prove of great value in the administration of our city affairs.

The City of Newton, with its manifold and growing interests, requires a man of affairs, possessed of the highest ability, as its Chief Executive, and these qualities Captain Weeks possesses in a marked degree.

Capt. Weeks has specially qualified himself for this high office, by his several years of unselfish devotion, and application to the needs of our city, and will bring to the office a thorough familiarity with its present condition, as well as its future needs.

While I believe that we are now receiving an equivalent for the monies expended, to bring our city to its present splendid and satisfactory conditions, I feel that the time has now come when an economic policy should be adopted in the management of our affairs, and the closest scrutiny should be given to all new, or large expenditures, and with his familiarity with the various departments, I believe that Capt. Weeks can be safely entrusted to meet the public sentiment, in giving us the highest possible efficiency in our city affairs, at the lowest possible cost to our citizens.

While Mr. Bailey is a most estimable gentleman, and has rendered valuable services to our city, for which he is entitled to the grateful appreciation of our citizens, I do not consider that the present contest offers the least possibility of his election; but that the real contest lies between Capt. Weeks and the Democratic candidate, Mr. Baker.

Whatever personal feeling may enter into the canvass, and however strong the desire to pay a personal compliment to Mr. Bailey, if this course is followed by any considerable number, the great body of our citizens will, on election day, be brought to face the possibility of the election to the mayoralty, indirectly, of one, whom they would not have voted for directly.

I sincerely hope that our city will honor itself, and honor the man, by electing Capt. John W. Weeks, as our next mayor.
